Sourdough Journalist Warren Sitka, 1981      The Lies of Sarah Palin Geoffrey Dunn, 2025-09-23 In The Lies of Sarah Palin Geoffrey Dunn provides the first full scale and in depth political biography of the controversial Republican vice presidential candidate and former governor of Alaska Based on more than two hundred interviews many of them with Republican colleagues and one time political allies of Palin s and more than forty thousand pages of uncovered documents Dunn chronicles Palin s troubling penchant for duplicity in grim detail from her dysfunctional childhood in Wasilla through her contentious run for mayor and her failed governorship of Alaska He also provides the shocking inside story of her betrayal of running mate John McCain during the 2008 presidential campaign and her self serving resignation as governor in July of the following year Dunn deftly places Palin in the American tradition of right wing demagogues from Huey Long to Joe McCarthy and details her troubling obsession with Barack Obama as it fuels her own political ambitions and a potential run for the presidency in 2012 The Lies of Sarah Palin is a journalistic tour de force that vividly reveals the Queen of the Tea Party movement as a vengeful and manipulative empress without clothes This is the definitive book on Sarah Palin

Pandemic Perspectives on the Irish Diaspora in Germany Margaret Haverty, 2024-09-10 This book reflects on how the pandemic impacted upon qualitative social research but also how it affected the lives of the members of the Irish diaspora on the European continent The crisis acted as a pressure cooker for those living abroad transforming distance and migration situations to resemble times gone by when travel was far more prohibitive and emigration felt more permanent At the same time expat lives were being thrown headlong into a new future shaped more profoundly than ever by digital means This work is a close examination of how Irish migrants in Germany construct their Irishness and in doing so maintain their belonging to Ireland across a geographic distance transformed by the pandemic This work seeks to draw out the underlying patterns and meanings in the day to day practices of Irishness by members of Ireland s putative diaspora in Germany by interweaving a multitude of ethnographic vignettes and rich interview material with relevant and interesting theoretical concepts Interlocutors see Ireland as a site of personal memory good bad and in between and of meaning making practices Ireland is deeply personal to them that understood their practices of belonging to Ireland are nonetheless embroiled in the political goal of making Ireland visible abroad      Lactobacillus—Advances in Research and Application: 2013 Edition , 2013-06-21

Journalism of the Highest Realm Edward Price Bell,2007-11-01 Once considered the best American newspaperman

London has ever had Edward Price Bell 1869 1943 helped invent the ideal of a professional foreign news service at the late and great Chicago Daily News which in its heyday had the second largest daily newspaper circulation in the United States At the turn of the twentieth century professional overseas reporting was still an experiment The Chicago Daily News s visionary owner and publisher Victor Lawson was not certain how to organize the service or even what kind of news it should cover Bell who had distinguished himself as a young reporter in Chicago became the anchor for the service when Lawson sent him to London in 1900 The course he set established the standard for the New York Times and other prestigious American newspapers Unfortunately few journalists or scholars are familiar with Bell s contributions in part because his autobiography remained archived at the Newberry Library in Chicago In Journalism of the Highest Realm Jaci Cole and John Maxwell Hamilton have edited and annotated Bell s story focusing on his lively account of the early days of the Chicago Daily News s foreign service as well as the dramatic stories his correspondents covered James F Hoge Jr the last editor in chief of the Chicago Daily News and present editor of Foreign Affairs sets the stage for Bell s memoir with an informative foreword on the evolution of foreign news gathering over the last century A bright eyed midwestern teenager who learned journalism on the job at a small newspaper in Terre Haute Indiana Bell quickly established himself as an enterprising reporter Moving on to Chicago he became the Daily News s go to man He was assigned big stories and landed interviews with leading politicians a knack that became a trademark of his overseas reporting Over more than two decades in London Bell entrenched himself in politics and culture sending back thoughtful background and analysis of current events In his memoir Bell recounts his exclusive wartime interviews with Sir Edward Grey the British foreign secretary and Lord Richard Haldane the minister of war a later sit down with the charismatic Il Duce Benito Mussolini and his rather tense exchanges with former vice president Charles Dawes American ambassador to Britain The respect Bell commanded among British elites and his years of experience as a London insider thrust him into a diplomatic role Bell became an unofficial envoy to the British government and also a conduit for British views to the United States and its leaders After Bell returned to Chicago in the early 1920s the Daily News dispatched him on special missions to Europe and Asia to interview leaders about world peace His accounts were published in two books and earned him a nomination for the Nobel Peace Prize in the 1930s Despite this acclaim indeed to some extent because of it Bell fell out of favor when new owners acquired the newspaper in 1931 and he retired to the Mississippi Gulf Coast With Journalism of the Highest Realm Cole and Hamilton put this great newspaperman into a broader context As they show in their thoughtful introduction Bell and the Daily News continually grappled with problems that still bedevil overseas correspondence Foreign news they show has always been an enterprise that is at once valuable and vulnerable

Berghahn, 2020-08-04 The moral and political role of German journalists before during and after the Nazi dictatorship Journalists between Hitler and Adenauer takes an in depth look at German journalism from the late Weimar period through the postwar decades Illuminating the roles played by journalists in the media metropolis of Hamburg Volker Berghahn focuses on the lives and work of three remarkable individuals Marion Countess Dönhoff distinguished editor of Die Zeit Paul Sethe the grand old man of West German journalism and Hans Zehrer editor in chief of Die Welt All born before 1914 Dönhoff Sethe and Zehrer witnessed the Weimar Republic's end and opposed Hitler When the latter seized power in 1933 they were like their fellow Germans confronted with the difficult choice of entering exile becoming part of the active resistance or joining the Nazi Party Instead they followed a fourth path inner emigration psychologically distancing themselves from the regime their writing falling into a gray zone between grudging collaboration and active resistance During the war Dönhoff and Sethe had links to the 1944 conspiracy to kill Hitler while Zehrer remained out of sight on a North Sea island In the decades after 1945 all three became major figures in the West German media Berghahn considers how these journalists and those who chose inner emigration interpreted Germany's horrific past and how they helped to morally and politically shape the reconstruction of the country With fresh archival materials Journalists between Hitler and Adenauer sheds essential light on the influential position of the German media in the mid twentieth century and raises questions about modern journalism that remain topical today
