Magoc, 2021-12-29 A Progressive History of American Democracy Since 1945 American Dreams Hard Realities offers a social political and cultural history of the United States since World War II Unpacking a period of profound transformation unprecedented in the national experience this book takes a synthetic approach to the history of the 1940s to the present day It examines how Americans descended from a mid century apogee of boundless expectations to the unsettling premise that our contemporary historical moment is fraught with a sense of crisis and national failure The book s narrative explores the question of decline and more importantly how the history of this transformation can point the way toward a recovery of shared national values Chris J Magoc also gives extensive treatments to the following Grassroots movements that have expanded the meaning of American democracy from the 1950s human rights struggle in the South to contemporary movements to confront systemic racism and the existential crisis of climate change The resilience of American democracy in the face of antidemocratic forces The impacts of a decades long economic transformation The consequences of America s expanding global military footprint and national security state Fracturing of a nation once held together by a post war liberal consensus and broadly shared societal goals to an America facing an attack from within on empirical truth and democracy itself This book will be of interest to students of modern U S history social history and American Studies and general readers interested in recent U S history The South in the Building of the Nation: History of the social life, ed. by S. extensive including temperance child labor mental illness and women s issues A study of poetry sculpture architecture and pottery round out the volume The South in the Building of the Nation: History of the social life, ed. by S.C. Mitchell ,1909

American History, American Politics, and American Presidents Judy Baston,2022-02-03 This book includes much information about the fortyaEURfour persons who have served as President of the United States including their native states military service lengths of presidential service and ages at death In the main however this book is an introduction to an outline of and an overview of American history since 1789 the year the American presidency began In the book I have divided American history since 1789 into six periods Each period coincides with the time that between four and ten specified individuals served as President For each period the emphasis is on domestic policy foreign policy and presidential election results Liberalism, Black Power, and the Making of American Politics, 1965-1980 Devin Fergus,2009 In this pioneering exploration of the interplay between liberalism and black nationalism Devin Fergus returns to the tumultuous era of Johnson Nixon Carter and Helms and challenges us to see familiar political developments through a new lens What if the liberal coalition instead of being torn apart by the demands of Black Power actually engaged in a productive relationship with radical upstarts absorbing black separatists into the political mainstream and keeping them from a more violent path What if the New Right arose not only in response to Great Society Democrats but as significantly in reaction to Republican moderates who sought compromise with black nationalists through conduits like the Blacks for Nixon movement Focusing especially on North Carolina a progressive southern state and a national center of Black Power activism Fergus reveals how liberal engagement helped to bring a radical civic ideology back from the brink of political violence and social nihilism He covers Malcolm X Liberation University and Soul City two largely forgotten federally funded black nationalist experiments the political scene in Winston Salem where Black Panthers were elected to office in surprising numbers and the liberal nationalist coalition that formed in 1974 to defend Joan Little a black prisoner who killed a guard she accused of raping her Throughout Fergus charts new territory in the study of America s recent past taking up largely unexplored topics such as the expanding political role of institutions like the ACLU and the Ford Foundation and the emergence of sexual violence as a political issue He also urges American historians to think globally by drawing comparisons between black nationalism in the United States and other separatist movements around the world By 1980 Fergus writes black radicals and their offspring were more likely to petition Congress than blow it up That liberals engaged black radicalism at all however was enough for New Right insurgents to paint liberalism as an effete anti American ideology a sentiment that has had lasting appeal to significant numbers of voters The South in the Building of the Nation: History of the intellectual life, ed. by J.B.

Abernethy, 1961-09-01 The first thirty years under the Federal Constitution encompass the most obscure period of Southern history Thomas P Abernethy brings this turbulent era into full focus for the first time in this book Volume IV of A History of the South With Spain in possession of Florida and Louisiana claiming and partially occupying everything west of the Alleghenies and south of the Tennessee River and with England and France attempting to exploit Spain s weakness to strengthen their own positions in the New World the Southern frontier was beset by active or potential enemies during most of the three decades under consideration Thus the protection of our Southern and Western borders is one of the main themes of this volume The South of course was not all frontier country and the history of the well established civilization of the South Atlantic states has not been neglected Among the significant political and social developments which the author has reviewed at length are the transition from Washingtonian Federalism to Jeffersonian Republicanism the unprecedented vast speculation in Western lands and their political repercussions the separatist intrigues in the early West such episodes of the Jefferson administration as the Louisiana Purchase the Burr Conspiracy and the Embargo and the events leading up to the War of 1812 and the Southern phase of the conflict The product of many years of sustained effort on the part of a major Southern historian The South in the New Nation adds significantly to our knowledge of American history

Race, Nation, and Empire in American History James T. Campbell, Matthew Pratt Guterl, Robert G. Lee, 2017-12-10 While public debates over America s current foreign policy often treat American empire as a new phenomenon this lively collection of essays offers a pointed reminder that visions of national and imperial greatness were a cornerstone of the new country when it was founded In fact notions of empire have long framed debates over western expansion Indian removal

African slavery Asian immigration and global economic dominance and they persist today despite the proliferation of anti imperialist rhetoric In fifteen essays distinguished historians examine the central role of empire in American race relations nationalism and foreign policy from the founding of the United States to the twenty first century The essays trace the global expansion of American merchant capital the rise of an evangelical Christian mission movement the dispossession and historical erasure of indigenous peoples the birth of new identities and the continuous struggles over the place of darker skinned peoples in a settler society that still fundamentally imagines itself as white Full of transnational connections and cross pollinations of people appearing in unexpected places the essays are also stories of people being put quite literally in their place by the bitter struggles over the boundaries of race and nation Collectively these essays demonstrate that the seemingly contradictory processes of boundary crossing and boundary making are and always have been intertwined Contributors James T Campbell Brown University Ruth Feldstein Rutgers University Newark Kevin K Gaines University of Michigan Matt Garcia Brown University Matthew Pratt Guterl Indiana University George Hutchinson Indiana University Matthew Frye Jacobson Yale University Prema Kurien Syracuse University Robert G Lee Brown University Eric Love University of Colorado Boulder Melani McAlister George Washington University Joanne Pope Melish University of Kentucky Louise M Newman University of Florida Vernon J Williams Jr Indiana University Natasha Zaretsky Southern Illinois University Carbondale     Encyclopedia of African American Politics Robert C.
