Southbound Heath Coleman, Susan Coleman, 1996-07 Southbound offers cheerful assistance to non Southerners baffled by the traditions habits and culture encountered while spending time in the southern United States It contains a combination of practical advice Just because you can drive on snow and ice does not mean we can Stay home the two days of the year it snows humorous observation If you offer a Southerner a pop he might pop you just to get the first lick in and good natured ribbing If a Southerner says that you must have fallen off the back of the turnip truck he is referring to your obvious good health and sensible diet including all of the important vegetables The authors one a life long Southerner and the other a transplanted Northerner present this collection to benefit and entertain Southerners and non Southerners alike If you marry a Sotherner be prepared for the fact that you won t always understand each other Of course if you marry anyone you won t anyway so what s the difference If a Southerner offers to carry you he will not try to physically pick you up He is only offering you a ride in his car Had he actually been willing to tote you he would have said so
