Syntactic And Focus Structural Aspects Of Triadic Constructions European University Studies Linguistics 264:

The Prague Bulletin of Mathematical Linguistics ,2004 The Architecture of Focus Valéria Molnár,Susanne

Winkler,2011-12-22 This collection investigates the architecture of focus in linguistic theory from different theoretical perspectives Research on focus and information structure in the last four decades has shown that the phenomenon of focus is highly complex the theoretical approaches manifold and the data highly sensitive The main emphasis has been placed on the integration of the notion of focus in generative grammar In recent years however the approaches to focus and information structure underwent a radical change in perspective The theoretical concept of focus its related terms and phenomena became the object of research Along with it the research questions shifted instead of locating focus in the architecture of grammar linguists investigate the architecture of focus itself The central underlying idea of this collection is to document this change in perspective with the aim of isolating essential keystones and research areas in both the theoretical and empirical domain The book is structured accordingly Following the introduction there are four main sections The general section discusses the theoretical foundations of focus within grammar The second section hosts papers which investigate the representation of focus and topic at the syntax pragmatics interface The third section discusses the phonological representation of focus and its relation to meaning The papers of the final section investigate different types of focus constructions in a variety languages The collection of papers on the architecture of focus its interpretation and representation mirror the establishment of the focus research field Topic-Focus Articulation, Tripartite Structures, and Semantic Content

Eva Hajicová,Barbara Partee,P. Sgall,1998-10-31 1 1 OBJECTIVES The main objective of this joint work is to bring together some ideas that have played central roles in two disparate theoretical traditions in order to contribute to a better understanding of the relationship between focus and the syntactic and semantic structure of sentences Within the Prague School tradition and the branch of its contemporary development represented by Hajicova and Sgall HS in the sequel topic focus articulation has long been a central object of study and it has long been a tenet of Prague school linguistics that topic focus structure has systematic relevance to meaning Within the formal semantics tradition represented by Partee BHP in the sequel focus has much more recently become an area of concerted investigation but a number of the semantic phenomena to which focus is relevant have been extensively investigated and given explicit compositional semantic analyses The emergence of tripartite structures see Chapter 2 in formal semantics and the partial similarities that can be readily observed between some aspects of tripartite structures and some aspects of Praguian topic focus articulation have led us to expect that a closer investigation of the similarities and differences in these different theoretical constructs would be a rewarding undertaking with mutual benefits for the further development of our respective theories and potential benefit for the study of semantic effects of focus in other theories as well
