Modigliani Amedeo Modigliani, Franco Russoli, 1969 Murder Below Montparnasse Cara Black, 2013-03-05 A long lost Modigliani portrait a grieving brother's blood vendetta a Soviet secret that's been buried for 80 years Parisian private investigator Aimée Leduc's current case is her most exciting one yet The cobbled streets of Montparnasse might have been boho chic in the 1920s when artists writers and their muses drank absinthe and danced on cafe tables But to Parisian private investigator Aimée Leduc these streets hold darker secrets When an old Russian man named Yuri hires Aimée to protect a priceless painting that just might be a Modigliani she learns how deadly art theft can be Yuri is found tortured to death in his atelier and the painting is missing Every time Aimée thinks she's found a new witness the body count rises What exactly is so special about this painting that so many people are willing to kill and die for it A Day with Picasso Billy Kluver, 1999-02-18 In 1978 while collecting documentary photographs of the artists community in Montparnasse from the first decades of the century Billy Klver discovered that some previously unassociated photographs fell into significant groupings One group in particular showing Picasso Max Jacob Mose Kisling Modigliani and others at the Café de la Rotonde and on Boulevard du Montparnasse all seemed to have been taken on the same day The people were wearing the same clothes in each shot and had the same accessories Their ties were knotted the same way and their collars had the same wrinkles A total of twenty four photographs four rolls of film with six photographs each were eventually found With the challenge of identifying the date photographer and circumstances Klver embarked on an inquiry that would illuminate the minute texture of that time and place Biographical research into the subjects lives led Klver to focus on the summer of 1916 as the likely time the photos were taken He then measured buildings and plotted angles and lengths of shadows in the photographs to narrow the time frame to a spread of three weeks Further investigation eventually allowed Klver to identify the photographer as Jean Cocteau and to determine the day that Cocteau had taken the photographs August 12 1916 A computer printout of the sun's positions on that date obtained from the Bureau des Longitudes together with the length of the shadows enabled Klver to calculate the time of day of each photograph and thus to put them in proper sequence In a tour de force of art historical research Klver then reconstructed a scenario of the events of the four hours depicted in the photographs With evocative attention to detail noting when Picasso is no longer carrying an envelope or Max Jacob has acquired a decoration in his lapel Klver recreates a single afternoon in the lives of Picasso and friends a group of remarkable people in early twentieth century Paris Besides the central portfolio of photographs by Cocteau the book contains additional photographs and drawings short biographies of all the subjects and a historical section on the events and activities in the Paris art world at the time The Rough Guide to Paris Ruth Blackmore, James McConnachie, 2012-05-04 Full colour throughout The Rough Guide to Paris is the ultimate travel guide to one of Europe's most elegant cities With 30 years experience and our trademark tell it like it is writing style Rough Guides cover all the basics with practical on the ground

Free-Lancers and Literary Biography in South Africa Stephen Gray,2021-11-01 This collection is concerned with the problems and pleasures of writing literary biography in the context of South African writing Stephen Gray s introduction outlines the choice faced by the researcher between writing revisionist history la Strachey and the personal bias the portraitist must take into account when conducting the retrieval especially of lost and enigmatic figures la Symons Concentrating on the unattached irregulars of the arts in South Africa often the arts of their times Gray stresses the value of the free lance figure in the formation of an evolving colonial and post colonial literature Subjects included are Charles Maclean alias John Ross who recorded his experiences of the Zulu King Shaka in Natal s first captivity narrative Douglas Blackburn rated as the successor of Swift for his satires of the

Anglo Boer War conflict Beatrice Hastings polymath journalist whose lovers included Katherine Mansfield and Amedeo Modigliani Stephen Black founder of indigenous South African drama in English Edward Wolfe the Bloomsbury painter who began as a child actor in the mining town of Johannesburg Bessie Head who became the Botswana based wise woman of African literature before her untimely death in 1986 yet never knew her own origins Etienne Leroux the Free State rancher who in Afrikaans wrote much banned postmodernist novels Mary Renault whose bestselling novels set in Ancient Greece peculiarly represented the shutdown of democracy in apartheid South Africa Sipho Sepamla stalwart of the Soweto Poetry school which came to prominence after the 1976 Soweto uprising and Richard Rive novelist cultural commentator and liberation icon murdered in his prime The portrait gallery of the figures who have shaped and defined the role of literature in South Africa is both revealing and provocative showing the route taken by some lesser known talents in their struggle to establish the rights of authors in an often indifferent or repressive state

The Lights of Home Jason Weiss, 2014-01-02

Because of political cultural or economic difficulties in their homelands Latin American writers have often sought refuge abroad Their independent searches for a haven in which to write often ended in Paris long a city of writers in exile This is more than solely a group biography of these writers or an explication of material they wrote about Paris it is also a luminous account of the work they wrote while in Paris often based in their homelands It explores how Paris reacted to this wave of Latin American writers and how these writers absorbed Parisian influences and welded them to their own traditions setting the stage for immense success and power of works coming from Central and South America over the last half of the twentieth century
