The Motorway Achievement Building The Network The North West Of England:

The Motorway Achievement Harry L. Yeadon, 2005 Traces the Region's motorway development outlining the benefits that have resulted in terms of traffic safety economy and environment The colour photographs and diagrams illustrate the author's story of what was an achievement often carried out under difficult circumstances of which the personnel concerned can be proud Developing the Global South Paulos Milkias, 2010 For four decades the UN has attempted to foster development in the countries of the global south The book provides a synopsis of these efforts from the Brandt Commission Report to Boutros Boutros Ghali's Agenda for Development Prof Milkias presents opposing arguments in allotting responsibility for the growing gap between the North and the South and details the Millennium Development Goals and assesses their successes and failures so far He provides suggestions for closing the gap for removing the debt burden that is currently crushing the nations of the South and for relieving the poverty ignorance and disease that plague so much of humanity From Rail to Road and Back Again? Colin Divall, 2016-03-03 The coming of the railways signalled the transformation of European society allowing the quick and cheap mass transportation of people and goods on a previously unimaginable scale By the early decades of the twentieth century however the domination of rail transport was threatened by increased motorised road transport which would quickly surpass and eclipse the trains only itself to be challenged in the twenty first century by a renewal of interest in railways Yet as the studies in this volume make clear to view the relationship between road and rail as a simple competition between two rival forms of transportation is a mistake Rail transport did not vanish in the twentieth century any more than road transport vanished in the nineteenth with the appearance of the railways Instead a mutual interdependence has always existed balancing the strengths and weaknesses of each system It is that interdependence that forms the major theme of this collection Divided into two main sections the first part of the book offers a series of chapters examining how railway companies reacted to increasing competition from road transport and exploring the degree to which railways depended on road transportation at different times and places Part two focuses on road mobility interpreting it as the innovative success story of the twentieth century Taken together these essays provide a fascinating reappraisal of the complex and shifting nature of European transportation over the last one hundred years The

Motorway Achievement: Building the network Ron Bridle, John Porter (M.S.), William James McCoubrey, 2002 This volume presents detailed and comprehensive accounts of the construction of the motorway network associated structures and who was involved Each of the ten chapters focuses on a specific region of the UK providing a background history of the area and its roads Film, Mobility and Urban Space Les Roberts, 2012-02-21 Drawing on multi disciplinary debates surrounding the cultural production of place space and memory in the post industrial city this study explores the role of moving images in representations and perceptions of everyday urban landscapes It uses a unique spatial database of over 1700 archive films of Liverpool from 1897 to the present day The Motorway Achievement Peter Baldwin, Ron Bridle, Robert Baldwin, John Porter

(M.S.),2002 This volume provides a set of contrasting first hand accounts of the creation of the motorway system the problems encountered the solutions adopted and the lessons learned for future motorway development The Local Historian ,2006 Issues for autumn 1961 include the Standing Conference for Local History Bulletin The British National Bibliography Arthur James Wells,2007 Cross-border provision of public services for Wales Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Welsh Affairs Committee,2010-03-11 Working practices between the UK and Welsh Assembly governments in relation to cross border policies appear much improved since the Committee s earlier reports on this subject But a number of outstanding issues remain in transport health and further and higher education On transport the Committee welcomes the planned electrification of the Great Western Main Line However the Department for Transport appears to have washed its hands of any strategic responsibility for cross border roads The A483 is the clearest example of a road vital for travel within Wales but which is not important to the English region in which it is located and as a result loses out on funding The Committee stresses the need for comparative data on which to build solid research comparing NHS performance in the devolved nations More needs to be done to raise public awareness of the differences in services people can expect to receive on both sides of the border Transparency of information is vital Research proposals in the UK Government s Higher Ambitions strategy for higher education make no reference to nations other than England despite the UK wide research remit of the Department for Business Innovation and Skills The Committee calls for details about how research funding proposals apply to all four nations American Book Publishing Record ,2005
