The Museum of Unconditional Surrender D. Ugresic, 1999-12-01 Media Borders, Multimodality and Intermediality L. Elleström, 2010-02-12 A groundbreaking collection of essays looking at the concepts of intermediality and multimodality the relationship between various forms of art and new media and including case studies ranging from music film and architecture to medieval ballads biopoetry and Lettrism Writing Postcommunism D. Williams, 2013-08-16 Moving through the elegiac ruins of the Berlin Wall and the Yugoslav disintegration Writing Postcommunism explores literary evocations of the pervasive disappointment and mourning that have marked the postcommunist twilight The Delirious Museum Calum Storrie, 2007-10-24 The Delirious Museum is a remarkable illuminating work which presents an original view of the idea of the museum in the twenty first century re imagining the possibilities for museums and their displays and re examining the blurred boundaries between museums and the cities around them On his quest for the Delirious Museum Storrie takes a journey that begins in the Louvre and continues through Paris London Los Angeles and Las Vegas He encounters on his way the museum architecture of John Soane Carlo Scarpa and Daniel Libeskind the exhibitions of El Lissitzky and of Frederick Kiesler and the work of artists as varied as Marcel Duchamp Andy Warhol Marcel Broodthaers Sophie Calle and Mark Dion Transnationalism and Resistance: Experience and Experiment in Women's Writing Adele Parker, Stephenie Young, 2013 This study presents a unique collection of essays which focus on the relationships among form aesthetics and transnational women's writing produced in recent years. The essays in this volume treat literary works from diverse cultures and geographies concentrating on the intersections of theory and literature. This results in a wide spectrum of identities and texts including the work of Swedish poet Aase Berg, the Indian translation market, the Chicana novel, creative non-fiction by Croatian writer Dubravka Ugrešić, and multilingual hybrid texts by Theresa Hak Kyung Cha in order to provide a framework for an overarching theory of transnationalism as it interacts with newer paradigms of gendered identity and the new forms of literature to which they contribute. Transnationalism and Resistance offers a multifaceted approach to transnational studies and constitutes a cogent analysis of the ways in which women's writing informs contemporary global literary production. This volume is of interest for scholars in women's studies, literature, the social sciences, cultural studies, and all other fields that take an interest in writing that addresses contemporary global issues.

The Transcultural Turn Lucy Bond, Jessica Rapson, 2014-04-01. This edited collection makes a progressive intervention into the interdisciplinary field of memory studies with a series of essays drawn from diverse theoretical, practical, and cultural backgrounds. The most seminal critical development within memory studies in recent years has arguably been the turn towards transculturalism. This movement engenders a series of methodologies that posit remembrance as a fluid process in which commemorative tropes work to inform the representation of diverse events and traumas beyond national or cultural boundaries, transcending but not negating spatial, temporal, and ideational differences. Examining a wide range of historical and cultural contexts, the essays in this collection focus on the dialogues that shape processes of remembrance between and beyond borders, critiquing the problems and possibilities inherent in current discourses in memorial practice and theory as they approach the challenge of transculturalism.

Europe Old and New Ray Taras, 2008-07-31. Is Europe indeed uniting or instead falling apart as a result of anti-immigrant prejudices, a massive Islamic influx, and ancient intra-European hatreds? This innovative and engaging book explores this key question by examining the national and religious phobias and prejudices, antipathies and sympathies, stereotypes and heterotypes of Europe west and east. Considering the sources of Europe's culture-based divide, Ray Taras argues that the idea of two Europes is grounded both in reality and myth. The accession process that brought a dozen new members into the European Union after 2004 highlighted the persisting gulf between old and new Europe. While many concrete borders between east and west were removed, commercial, legal, passport regimes, many remained. Absence of a single Euro currency zone, labor market, and security community. Virtual borders too were invented or reimagined: the postmaterialist, inclusionary, tolerant values supposedly found in old Europe versus the materialist, nationalistic, xenophobic ones of new Europe. After reviewing the two Europes' contrasting historical legacies, Taras examines the EU institutions designed to overcome the historical European divide. He considers the treaties, political rhetoric, citizen attitudes, and literary narratives of belonging and separation that both bind and fray the fabric of Europe. Throughout this interdisciplinary work, he provides a comprehensive, hard-hitting and unabashed review of how enlarged Europe embraces contrasting understandings of its political home and of who belongs and who does not Memory, the City and the Legacy of World War II in East Central Europe Uilleam Blacker, 2019-06-27 After the Second World War millions of people across Eastern Europe displaced as a result of wartime destruction deportations and redrawing of state boundaries found themselves living in cities that were filled with the traces of the foreign cultures of the former inhabitants In the immediate post war period these traces were not acknowledged the new inhabitants going along with official policies of oblivion the national narratives of new post war regimes and the memorializing of the victors In time however and increasingly over recent decades the former other pasts have been embraced and taken on board as part of local cultural memory This book explores this interesting and increasingly important phenomenon It examines official ideologies popular memory literature film memorialization and tourism to show how other pasts are being incorporated into local cultural memory It relates these developments to cultural theory and argues that the relationship between urban space cultural memory and identity in Eastern Europe is increasingly becoming a question not only of cultural politics but also of consumption and choice alongside a tendency towards the cosmopolitanization of memory
