The Modern Reconstruction Of Classical Thought Talcott Parsons:

Modern Reconstruction of Classical Thought Jeffrey Alexander, 2014-04-03 In this volume the author maintains that sociology must learn to combine the insights of both Durkheim and Marx and that it can only do so on the presuppositional ground that Weber set forth Alexander maintains that the idealist and materialist traditions must be transformed into analytic dimensions of multidimensional and synthetic theory This volume focusses on the writing of Talcott Parsons the only modern thinker who can be considered a true peer of the classical founders and examines his own profoundly ambivalent attempt to carry out this analytic transformation

Sociological Theory and Collective Subjectivity J. Domingues, 1995-11-01 The main theme of this book is collective subjectivity analysed especially in connection with the work of Marx Parsons Giddens and Habermas but also addressing the manifold tendencies of sociological theory from its inception to the present The book supports the idea that there is a conceptual shortcoming in the most relevant contemporary research programs in sociological theory despite some recent efforts to re develop concepts of collective actor class or social movement After the fragmentation of the sixties a number of synthetical approaches emerged Some writers such as Touraine Laclau and Mouffe Olson Coleman Hindess Mouzelis and Eder have proposed some versions of concepts of collective subjectivity focusing on collective actors classes genders social movements organisations and collective utilitarian action But they do not in terms of general conceptual construction go further than Parsons and Marx they often fail to match their original formulations The concept of collective subjectivity is introduced to bring together these diverse approaches which are synthesised and receive a more general definition Moreover this new concept is directly linked to those contemporary syntheses

The Seven Deadly Sins Stanford M. laid the foundations for the study of pride lust envy and anger basic sentiments embedded in the social process For this revised and expanded edition Lyman has written a new chapter Sentiments Sin and Social Conflict Toward a Sociology of the Emotions The new edition will be a valuable work for courses in social psychology ethics deviance and the sociology of morals and of religion

Action and Its Environments Jeffrey C. Alexander, 1988 Jeffrey Alexander known for his work in sociological theory breaks new ground in Action and Its Environments The book aims to bring action theory and structure theory back together by focussing on three central questions First how can the normative and material properties of social structures be interlinked Second can the conventional creative and strategic dimensions of individual action be related to social structures Third what are conditions and limits of modern social and cultural differentiation In answering these questions Alexander portrays the complex relationship between social movements public opinion formation social solidarity and social change A new model of the structure and dynamics of cultural systems is presented as well
