Slums are for People Aprodicio A. Laquian, 1968 Slums are for People Aprodicio A. Laquian, 1971 Urban Social Movements in the Third World Frans Schuurman, Ton Van Naerssen, 2012-08-21 This reissue initially published in 1989 considers the upsurge of locally based movements attempting to improve living conditions in Third World cities throughout the 1980s The book presents qualitative comparative research on the dynamics and constraints of these urban social movements in a cross cultural framework using case studies from a variety of Latin American African and Asian countries As more democratic type regimes establish themselves in the Third World the possibilities for collective organisations and actions increase Urban social movements therefore are playing an increasingly important role in the habitat of the poor

NEDA Journal of Development , 1974 The Philippine Archipelago Yves Boquet, 2017-04-19 This book presents an updated view of the Philippines focusing on thematic issues rather than a description region by region Topics include typhoons population growth economic difficulties agrarian reform migration as an economic strategy the growth of Manila the Muslim question in Mindanao the South China Sea tensions with China and the challenges of risk vulnerability and sustainable development Neoliberalizing Spaces in the Philippines Arnisson Andre Ortega, 2016-09-09 Amidst the recent global financial crisis and housing busts in various countries the Philippines booming housing industry has been heralded as Southeast Asia's hottest real estate hub and the saving grace of a supposedly resilient Philippine economy This growth has been fueled by demand from balikbayan returnee Overseas Filipinos and has facilitated the rise of gated suburban communities in Manila's sprawling peri urban fringe But as the Filipino dreams of successful balikbayans are built inside these new gated residential developments the lives of marginalized populations living in these spaces have been upended and thrown into turmoil as they face threats of expulsion Based on almost four years of research this book examines the tumultuous geographies of neoliberalization that link suburbanization transnational mobilities and accumulation by dispossession Through an accounting of real estate and new suburban landscapes it tells of a Filipino transnationalism that engenders a market based and privatized suburban political economy that reworks socio spatial relations and class dynamics In presenting the literal and discursive transformations of spaces in Manila's peri urban fringe the book details life inside new gated suburban communities and discusses the everyday geographies of privileged new property owners mainly comprised of balikbayan families and exposes the contradictions of gated suburban life from resistance to Home Owner Association rules to alienating feelings of loss It also reveals the darker side of the property boom by mapping the volatile spaces of the Philippines surplus populations comprised of the landless farmers informal settler residents and indigenous peoples To make way for gated communities and other profitable developments in the peri urban region marginalized residents are systematically dispossessed and displaced while concomitantly offered relocation to isolated socialized housing projects the last frontier for real estate accumulation These compelling accounts illustrate how the territorial embeddedness of neoliberalization in the Philippines entails the consolidation of capital by political economic elites and privatization of residential space for an idealized transnational property clientele More than ever as the Philippines is being reshaped by diaspora and accumulation by dispossession the contemporary moment is a critical time to reflect on what it truly means to be a nation

Urban Informality Ahmed M. Soliman, 2021-04-26 This professional book introduces an analytical framework of urban informality perspectives in the Middle East that is aligned with the Global South The context of Egypt Lebanon and Jordan in the Middle East is the transregional focus of this book In these contexts the book opens a new arena of academic discussion on the theory and practice of urban informality Urban Informality Experiences and Urban Sustainability Transitions in Middle East Cities questions urban informality as a site of transitions interrelated and interlinked with urban sustainability transitions in speedy changes in a given environment The book presents urban informality sustainability transitions regarding resilience and adaptability that require shifts in urban systems Shifts from a static process to a dynamic process that eradicates the fragmentation between the tensions anxieties and pressures of four modes of production reproduction consumptions and distribution of goods and services in the city and its practices Finally through eleven chapters the concluding remarks explore to what extent and how can urban informality transitions be sustainable

Collective Action and Urban Poverty Alleviation Gavin Shatkin, 2016-05-23 An estimated 600 million people now live in informal or squatter settlements in the rapidly growing cities of the developing world With such settlements often lacking basic necessities there is an urgent need to address this urban crisis Recently innovative approaches have focused on the role of community based organizations CBOs in setting up self help and participatory programmes This incisive book questions whether communities have the ability to organize engage government and undertake major redevelopment It also examines when and how mobilization of communities occurs and if such organizations possess any influence in the intensely political decision making arena of urban land development It is illustrated by a detailed analysis of the experience of CBOs in Manila as the Philippine government has undertaken what is perhaps the most radical experiment in decentralized participatory approaches to urban governance in the world The book emphasizes the external conditions that influence patterns of collective action within communities and addresses issues such as the local political economy and the communities place within the global economy

The Asian Megacity Region Debnath Mookherjee, 2020-04-11 This book argues that close and disciplined scrutiny of the Asian megacity regions is of critical importance to understanding Asian urbanization. However any approach to studying these regions must adopt a multi dimensional and trans urban perspective otherwise we Without such an approach we cannot truly make meaningful decisions about growth management and sustainable development for such regions. Amidst the sweeping demographic and structural shifts produced by global urbanization Asian urbanization has a fascinating and prominent role. Asian urbanization is heterogeneous and more accurately constitutes phenomena than a phenomenon. However despite this diversity there are certain common features that we can identify. One of them is the Asian megacity region the administrative and or delineated territory of mixed urban rural landscape surrounding a giant metropolis. The purpose of this book is to Understand the main features of 21st century urbanization. Note the limitations of current approaches e.g disparate scales city centric views inadequate data sets. Articulate a pragmatically framed three pronged approach scale based trans urban multi dimensional. Demonstrate the application of such an approach with a case study of one of the most important megacity regions in South Asia the Delhi National Capital Region underscoring the methodological requirements of such an approach. Discuss the next steps for the field as a whole questions to be raised and directions to be explored for further study. This timely conceptual and empirical book will appeal to students of urbanization architects involved in urban policy and planning and researchers alike
