Sociology Of Old Age:

Socialization to Old Age Irving Rosow, 2018-09-04 The prevailing wisdom in gerontology is that people routinely adjust to old age just as they adjust to earlier life stages But aging presents unusual circumstances and the transition processes that typify earlier passages fail to operate in the customary way The reasons for this are the subject of this book Its basic thesis is clear unlike other status changes in American life people are not effectively socialized to old age Irving Rosow shows that there is virtually no role for the elderly the norms for them are weak and they are subject to negligible socializing forces He argues that America has only a minor stake in older people and their place in society almost certainly because of the reduced responsibilities of the elderly and the limited consequences of their actions Rosow considers solutions in the form of alternatives for socialization within our present institutional structure This title is part of UC Press's Voices Revived program which commemorates University of California Press's mission to seek out and cultivate the brightest minds and give them voice reach and impact Drawing on a backlist dating to 1893 Voices Revived makes high quality peer reviewed scholarship accessible once again using print on demand technology This title was originally published in 1974 Old Age in Modern Society Christina R. Victor, 2013-11-11 Old age is a part of the lifecycle about which there are numerous myths and stereotypes To present an overstatement of commonly held beliefs the old are portrayed as dependent individuals characterized by a lack of social autonomy unloved and neglected by both their immediate family and friends and posing a threat to the living standards of younger age groups by being a burden that consumes without producing Older people are perceived as a single homogeneous group and the experience of ageing characterized as being the same for all individuals irrespective of the diversity of their circumstances before the onset of old age In this book detailed statistical material is used to portray the circumstances of older people in modern society in an attempt to evaluate the appropriateness or otherwise of the major stereotypes of later life This volume does not address ageing from a psychological or micro social perspective In particular we do not explore major issues relating to old age Rather we feel that from the extensive collection of surveys concerned with the elderly we can provide a context within which individual elderly people can be studied from more anthropological or biographical perspectives The Sociology of Old Age Graham Fennell, Chris Phillipson, Helen Evers, 1988

Medical Sociology and Old Age Paul Higgs, Ian Rees Jones, 2009-01-13 The nature of health in later life has conventionally been studied from two perspectives Medical sociologists have focused on the failing body chronic illness infirmity and mortality while social gerontologists on the other hand have focused on the epidemiology of old age and health and social policy By examining these perspectives Higgs and Jones show how both standpoints have a restricted sense of contemporary ageing which has prevented an understanding of the way in which health in later life has changed In the book the authors point out that the current debates on longevity and disability are being transformed by the emergence of a fitter and healthier older population This third age where fitness and participation are valorised leads to the increasing salience of issues such as bodily control age denial and anti ageing medicine By discussing the key issue of old age versus ageing the authors examine the prospect of a new sociology a sociology of health in later life Medical Sociology and Old Age is essential reading for all students and researchers of medical sociology and gerontology and for anyone concerned with the challenge of ageing populations in the twenty first century This book is essential reading for all students and researchers of medical sociology and gerontology Old Age John Vincent,2003-12-08 Recent decades have seen a fundamental change in the age structure of many western societies In these societies it is now common for a fifth to a quarter of the population to be retired for fewer babies to be born than is required to sustain the size of the population and for life expectancy to exceed eighty years old This book provides an overview of the key issues arising from this demographic change Quality of Life in Old Age Heidrun Mollenkopf,Alan Walker,2007-06-13 This book started its life during a symposium we organised on Quality of Life in Old Age at the Fifth Conference of the International Society for Quality of Life Studies ISQOLS in Frankfurt in July 2003 We are extremely grateful to Alex Michalos for sponsoring that session encouraging us to use the symposium presentations as the basis for a book and for his support during the commissioning and editing process We are also very grateful to the authors of this volume for the prompt delivery of their manuscripts and responses to our editorial comments Finally our special thanks to Marg Walker for her expert and efficient preparation of the manuscript for publication Heidrun Mollenkopf Alan Walker Heidelberg Sheffield ix

SECTION I UNDERSTANDING QUALITY OF LIFE IN OLD AGE ALAN WALKER AND HEIDRUN MOLLENKOPF 1 INTERNATIONAL AND MULTIDISCIPLINARY PERSPECTIVES ON QUALITY OF LIFE IN OLD AGE Conceptual issues Quality of life QoL is a multidimensional holistic construct assessed from many different perspectives and by many disciplines Moreover the concept of QoL can be applied to practically all important domains of life Thus QoL research has to include social environmental structural and health related aspects and be approached from an interdisciplinary perspective This holds even more when QoL in old age is the focus because ageing itself is a multidimensional process Medical Sociology and Old Age Paul Higgs,Ian Rees Jones,2009 This book reflects on how our understanding and experience of health at later ages in particular can impact on social and technological developments Aging and Old Age Anne Foner,1986 Gerontology and the Construction of Old Age Bryan Green,2017-09-08 Although attitudes toward the aged and their care are inherent in any society gerontology itself is a relatively recent field of study and practice Gerontology and the Construction of Old Age applies the methods of discourse analysis and textual analysis to texts and documents in this newly evolved and eclectic field Green explores and identifies the literary methods and discursive regularities through which aging and the aged have been made into objects of study and treatment and which together form a mode of knowledge production that will influence future texts in the field Because such formats of representation limit rational diagnoses of problems and rational courses of ameliorative action policy implications in the field of gerontology are a major interest of this study Another interest is methodological Within the broader constructionist

approach to social reality Green takes the position of constitutive realism the notion that social reality is linguistically constructed primarily in speech and writing The book s two aims are to describe analytically the field of gerontology The field is important both for its growing academic presence and for its practical effects on discourse and policy concerning old age It also hopes to help develop possibilities of inquiry associated with the linguistic literary and rhetorical turns of social science in recent years Gerontology and the Construction of Old Age is a substantive investigation at considerable theoretical depth of gerontology itself as well as a methodological treatise with broader implications for social science as it focuses upon the discourse of various professional fields

Socialization to Old Age Irving Rosow, 2024-06-21 The prevailing wisdom in gerontology is that people routinely adjust to old age just as they adjust to earlier life stages But aging presents unusual circumstances and the transition processes that typify earlier passages fail to operate in the customary way The reasons for this are the subject of this book Its basic thesis is clear unlike other status changes in American life people are not effectively socialized to old age Irving Rosow shows that there is virtually no role for the elderly the norms for them are weak and they are subject to negligible socializing forces He argues that America has only a minor stake in older people and their place in society almost certainly because of the reduced responsibilities of the elderly and the limited consequences of their actions Rosow considers solutions in the form of alternatives for socialization within our present institutional structure This title is part of UC Press s Voices Revived program which commemorates University of California Press s mission to seek out and cultivate the brightest minds and give them voice reach and impact Drawing on a backlist dating to 1893 Voices Revived makes high quality peer reviewed scholarship accessible once again using print on demand technology This title was originally published in 1974

Reconstructing Old Age Chris Phillipson, 1998-10-26 In this timely and authoritative overview on social gerontology and social theory Chris Phillipson outlines the changing contexts and experiences associated with later life as we move into a new century The book critically reviews the different theoretical explanations which attempt to explain these changes Phillipson shows how in late modernity changes to pensions employment and retirement and intergenerational relations are placing doubt on the meaning of growing old He suggests that later life is being reconstructed as a period of potential choice on the one hand but also of risk and danger on the other This book will be essential reading for students and academics in social gerontology as well as for students and academics in sociology social policy and related disciplines interested in the future of an ageing population and the future of social gerontology

Materialities of Age and Ageing: Concepts of a Material Gerontology Grit Höppner, Monika Urban, 2019-06-18 In gerontological research the understanding of age and ageing changed in the last decade Biologic determined explanations no longer prevail in this research field Instead ideas of social constructivism are frequently used These ideas define the state of age and the process of ageing as social constructions steeping ageing in social and cultural assumptions ascriptions and expectations From a social constructivist perspective age and ageing are not just identified as dependency deficit and need for care as it was foremost accelerated from a biological perspective but with the life course and thus with individual lifestyles experiences attitudes and practices as well as institutional and economic structures A prominent social constructivist concept is doing age Similar to doing gender the concept of doing age assumes age as taking place in the form of a social praxis within everyday life interactions between people and thus in performances embedded in discourses through which social hierarchies and ideals proceed Despite the paradigm shift that social constructivist concepts enable in gerontological thinking they reveal their blind spot when it comes to the materiality of ageing and thus to fleshy sensual experiences human and non human ontologies and agencies

Addressing these materialities of ageing brings up its own critique on definitions of ageing bodies and material environments This framing does not presume that age and ageing are solely products of human to human interactions or those of formative environments or of discourses Rather humans non humans and discourses become essential parts of ageing processes Such a material framing enables us new insights into forms of age and ageing and thus offers an opportunity for scholars to engage critically with materialities of age and ageing This eBook explores theoretical methodological and empirical concepts of such a Material Gerontology

Old Age and the Search for Security Carole Haber,Brian Gratton,1993-12-22 Haber and Gratton lay to rest many conventional assumptions concerning the place of older persons in American history Choice Haber and Gratton s meaty little book does more than provide an intelligent synthesis of existing old age history its new interpretations insights and shifts of emphasis will provoke responses and help move historians work away from the now threadbare original disputes in e field toward new questions and approaches American Historical Review Indeed Haber and Gratton give us a refreshingly multidimensional history of the shift in old age security from work assets or children to government annuities Contemporary Sociology the history of old age has finally come of age The authors successfully synthesize the best of the earlier social and cultural studies with new empirical evidence and recent findings of economic historians Journal of Economic History A truly revisionary interpretation of the cultural and structural forces that shaped the elderly s lives from the colonial period to the present Lucid and controversial it is bound to be widely cited and hotly contested W Andrew Achenbaum This social history of the American elderly offers a provocative new view of aging in the United States It revises traditional assumptions about the economic status of the old and challenges the long held contention that industrialization destroyed family relationships

Rethinking Old Age Paul Higgs,Chris Gilleard,2017-09-16 With the aspiration for a long life now achievable for many individuals the status of old age as a distinct social position has become problematic In this radical re examination of the nature of old age Paul Higgs and Chris Gilleard reveal the emergence of a fourth age that embodies the most feared and marginalised aspects of old age conceptually linked to and yet distinct from traditional models of old age Inspired by the authors ground breaking work on the third and fourth age and supported by extensive sociological medical and historical research Rethinking Old Age offers a unique and timely analysis of the fourth age as a social imaginary that is shaped and maintained by the social cultural and political discourses and practices that divide later life It stands as a significant resource for students academics and practitioners of sociology ageing studies gerontology social policy health studies social work and nursing Growing Older: Quality Of Life In Old Age Hagan Hennessy, Catherine, Walker, Alan, 2004-09-01 This volume introduces the work of the Economic and Social Research Council ESRC funded Growing Older Programme 1999 2004 and provides a showcase for the other volumes in the series It focuses on ways in which quality of life can be extended for older people and offers short research based summaries of key findings on a variety of core topics with a major emphasis on the views of older people themselves Many of the leading names in social gerontology in the United Kingdom have contributed their findings providing the most up to date and broad ranging information available on quality of life in old age Topics discussed include Defining and measuring quality of life Inequalities in quality of life Technology and the built environment Healthy and active ageing Family and support networks Participation and grandparenthood Growing Older is suitable for undergraduate and postgraduate students of social gerontology sociology and social policy It is of interest to professionals working with older people including social workers gerontology nurses and community support workers There are also important findings for policy makers Contributors Sara Arber Madhavi Bajekal David Blane John Bond Ann Bowling Jabeer Butt Lynda Clarke Joanne Cook Kate Davidson Murna Downs Zahava Gabriel Ini Grewal Catherine Hagan Hennessey Caroline Holland Gill Hubbard Leonie Kellaher Charlotte MacDonald Tony Maltby Jo Moriarty Joan Murphy James Nazroo Sheila M Peace Chris Phillipson Ceridwen Roberts Sasha Scambler Thomas Scharf Allison Smith Susan Tester Christina Victor Alan Walker Lorna Warren Cultural Perspectives on Aging Andrea Hülsen-Esch, 2021-11-22 Current demographic developments and change due to long life expectancies low birth rates changing family structures and economic and political crises causing migration and flight are having a significant impact on intergenerational relationships the social welfare system the job market and what elderly people can expect from their retirement and environment The socio political relevance of the categories of age and ageing have been increasing and gaining much attention within different scholarly fields However none of the efforts to identify age related diseases or the processes of ageing in order to develop suitable strategies for prevention and therapy have had any effect on the fact that attitudes against the elderly are based on patterns that are determined by parameters that are not biological or sociological ageing is also a cultural fact This book reveals the importance of cultural factors in order to build a framework for analyzing and understanding cultural constructions of ageing bringing together scholarly discourses from the arts and humanities as well as social medical and psychological fields of study The contributions pave the way for new strategies of caring for elderly people Old and Alone Jeremy Tunstall, 2024-05-10 Originally published in 1966 this was the first full length study by a sociologist of isolation in old age Although the majority of old people were in no sense a problem group at the time a substantial minority of the elderly were alone in one or more ways About 1.3 million people aged 65 and over in Britain lived alone Sociology of Aging Dharendra Prakash Saxena, 2006 Study conducted at Gorakhpur City of Uttar Pradesh India

Old Age and Agency Emmanuelle Tulle, 2004 This book is about rethinking the ways in which we make sense of social action or agency in later life The contributions in this collection challenge traditional academic approaches to the study of later life which arguably often deny older people agency Social gerontology and the wider society should be more reflexive and rather than contribute to the continued marginalisation of older people should draw attention to the extent to which the latter's actions may be understood within the set of normalising discourses which people have to manage and negotiate as they get old The purpose of this collection is to continue this process by providing philosophical theoretical conceptual and empirical direction for a reflexive social gerontology This book argues that the management of later life has become complex caught as it is within a broad discourse which continues to construct old age as a time of decline and dependency but has shifted the burden of responsibility for the avoidance of decline on individuals

Age Structuring in Comparative Perspective David I. Kertzer, K. Warner Schaie, 2013-05-13 This volume studies age as a basis for social organization by uniting research from the social science disciplines while implementing both cross cultural and historical perspectives The contributors a distinguished interdisciplinary group of scholars advance our understanding of age structuring by relating the changing societal level processes and individual aging experiences and examining retirement practices age and power in society and cultural conceptions of age
