The period which they are intended in a very partial and tentative way to illustrate is behind us and its forces are in great measure already spent. Contemporary disillusion of which among the writers here noticed Anatole France alone could fairly be considered an example is a different matter. Our fathers were rationalists and were naive enough to think that Theology stood or fell by its claims to rationality. They thought that the cosmology and psychology of Christianity, the propositions which it enunciated about the nature of man and the world he finds himself in, were intended to be taken as facts.
