The Mystery

The first stage of the process is to identify the problem. This is often the most difficult part of the process, as it requires a deep understanding of the situation.

The second stage is to gather information. This is often the most time-consuming part of the process, as it requires a lot of research and analysis.

The third stage is to develop a plan. This is often the most creative part of the process, as it requires a lot of brainstorming and problem-solving.
