Sojourners And Settlers Histories Of Southeast Asia And The Chinese:

Sojourners and Settlers Anthony Reid, 2001-04-01 Only recently has the role of Chinese minorities at the forefront of Southeast Asia's rapid economic growth attracted world attention. Yet interactions between Chinese and Southeast Asians are longstanding and intense, reaching back a thousand years and making it difficult if not specious to attempt to disentangle what is Chinese and what is indigenous in much of Southeast Asian culture. Sojourners and Settlers now back in print, written by some of the most distinguished specialists in the field, demonstrates the depth of that relationship. Contributors: Leonard Blussé, Mary Somers Heidhues, Jamie C. Mackie, Anthony Reid, Craig Reynolds, Claudine Salmon, G. William Skinner, Wang Gungwu, O. W. Wolters. Sojourners and Settlers Anthony Reid, 1996. Sojourners and Settlers Asian Studies Association of Australia, 1996-01-01 Only recently has the role of Chinese and Sino Southeast Asian minorities in leading Southeast Asia's rapid economic growth attracted world attention. Yet the interaction of Chinese and Southeast Asians reaches back a thousand years at a level of intensity which makes it difficult if not specious to attempt to disentangle what is Chinese and what is indigenous in much of Southeast Asian culture. This book demonstrates the depth of that relationship. Ten of the most distinguished specialists in the field pool their expertise in considering the multiple ways in which Chinese have interacted with the region. Jamie Mackie sets the scene in a survey of the Southeast Asian Chinese, particularly during the last fifty years. Wang Gungwu considers their history in terms of the concept of sojourning, while Anthony Reid considers the oscillating pattern of interaction from the thirteenth century to the twentieth, giving rise to new Sino Southeast Asian elites in times of mutual isolation and to a more Chinese character at times of close contact. G. William Skinner provides a new explanation of why stable Sino Southeast Asian creole societies were able to exist throughout the nineteenth century in Malaya, the Philippines, and Java. Claudine Salmon shows how one of these groups, the peranakan of Java, coped with pressures to become more Chinese in the second half of the nineteenth century. Oliver Wolters and Craig Reynolds reflect upon the difficulty of disentangling the two cultures in Vietnam and Thailand respectively. Leonard Blussé reveals new Chinese sources on the junk trade with Java, while Mary Somers Heidhues surveys the neglected but numerous Chinese rural settlers in the arc around Singapore. BOOK JACKET Title Summary field provided by Blackwell North America Inc. The Politics of the Periphery in Indonesia John H. Walker, Glenn Banks, Minako Sakai, 2009-01-01 The Politics of the Periphery in Indonesia is a thought-provoking examination of local politics and the dynamics of power at Indonesia's geographic and social margins. After the fall of Suharto in 1998 and the introduction of a policy of decentralization in 2001, local stakeholders secured and consolidated decision-making power and set about negotiating new relations with Jakarta. The volume deals with power struggles and local national tensions, looking among other things at resource control, the historical roots of regional identity politics, and issues relating to Chinese Indonesians. The authors develop information in ways that transcend the post-colonial territorial boundaries of Indonesia in the Malay Indonesian archipelago and use case studies to show how the changes described have galvanized Indonesian politics at the cultural and geographical peripheries     A Companion to Chinese History Michael Szonyi, 2017-02-06 A Companion to Chinese History presents a collection of essays offering a comprehensive overview of the latest intellectual developments in the study of China's history from the ancient past up until the present day Covers the major trends in the study of Chinese history from antiquity to the present day Considers the latest scholarship of historians working in China and around the world Explores a variety of long range questions and themes which serves to bridge the conventional divide between China's traditional and modern eras Addresses China's connections with other nations and regions and enables non specialists to make comparisons with their own fields Features discussion of traditional topics and chronological approaches as well as newer themes such as Chinese history in relation to sexuality national identity and the environment     The Chinese Diaspora Laurence J. The Chinese Question Caroline S. Hau, 2014-02-28 The rising strength of mainland China has spurred a revival of Chineseness in the Philippines Perceived during the Cold War era as economically dominant political disloyal and culturally different the Chinese presented themselves as an integral part of the Filipino imagined community Today as Filipinos seek associations with China many of them see the local Chinese community as key players in East Asian regional economic development With the revaluing of Chineseness has come a repositioning of Chinese racial and cultural identity Philippine mestizos people of mixed ancestry form an important sub group of the Filipino elite but their Chineseness was occluded as they disappeared into the emergent Filipino nation In the twentieth century mestizos defined themselves and based claims to privilege on white ancestry but mestizos are now actively reclaiming their Chinese heritage At the same time so called pure Chinese are parlaying their connections into cultural social symbolic or economic capital and leaders of mainland Chinese state companies have entered into politico business alliances with the Filipino national elite As the meanings of Chinese and Filipino evolve intractable contradictions are appearing in the concepts of citizenship and national belonging Through an examination of cinematic and literary works The Chinese Question shows how race class ideology nationality territory sovereignty and mobility are shaping the discourses of national integration regional identification and global cosmopolitanism
