She wrote some 98 novels, fifty or more short stories, twenty-five works of non-fiction including biographies and historic guides to European cities and more than three hundred periodical articles. This is the most ambitious critical edition of her work.

The Ladies' Repository, 1857 The idea of this women's magazine originated with Samuel Williams, a Cincinnati Methodist who thought that Christian women needed a magazine less worldly than Godey's Lady's Book and Snowden's Lady's Companion. Written largely by ministers, this exceptionally well-printed little magazine contained well-written essays of a moral character, plenty of poetry, articles on historical and scientific matters, and book reviews. Among western writers were Alice Cary, who contributed over a hundred sketches and poems; her sister Phoebe Cary; Otway Curry; Moncure D. Conway; and Joshua R. Giddings. New England contributors included Mrs. Lydia Sigourney, Hannah F. Gould, and Julia C. R. Dorr. By 1851, each issue published a piece of music and two steel plates, usually landscapes or portraits. When Davis E. Clark took over the editorship in 1853, the magazine became brighter and attained a circulation of 40,000. Unlike his predecessors, Clark included fictional pieces and made the Repository a magazine for the whole family. After the war, it began to decline and in 1876 was replaced by the National Repository. The Ladies' Repository was an excellent representative of the Methodist mind and heart. Its essays, sketches, and poems, its good steel engravings, and its moral tone gave it a charm all its own. Cf. American periodicals 1741-1900.
