Time's a healer they say
But I am yet to see the day
When all the pain is gone
And I can learn to carry on.

At times it feels unbearable
Knowing that it's irreparable
Where did it all go wrong
Or maybe it was like this all along

Perhaps my destiny is not to heal
But rather to feel
This excruciating pain
And learn to dance in the rain.

The stunning stories in this anthology many of which have never appeared anywhere except in Glimmer Train explore one of the most complex emotional and psychological ties of all motherhood and its many facets. The writers in Mother Knows include established authors as well as up and coming talents like Junot Diaz and award winning writers like Robin Bradford Nancy Reisman Lee Martin and Doug Crandell. Their stories demonstrate that motherhood is more than toilet training and tantrum control as they portray the full fierce joyous and frightening range of experience that marks this state of being. Mother Knows is a thoughtful and powerful exploration of the most mysterious bond in life.

internet and the desire to reconnect with pre revolutionary cultural traditions through a narrative of the past which foregrounds continuity Despite persistent nostalgic yearnings in some quarters for a single canon the current situation is defiantly diverse balancing both the Soviet literary tradition and the parallel contemporaneous literary worlds of the emigration and the underground Required reading for students teachers and lovers of Russian literature Twentieth Century Russian Poetry brings our understanding of post Soviet Russia up to date
