Speaking Relating And Learning A Study Of Hawaiian Children At Home And At School:

Speaking, Relating, and Learning Stephen T. Boggs, 1986 Quoting actual dialogue the volume describes modes of speaking in three contemporary Hawaiian communities as children relate to parents siblings and peers It demonstrates in detail the link to educational practice and to point to positive consequences in the handling of cultural differences in language use

Educating Everybody's Children Robert W. Cole, 2008 This revised and expanded 2nd edition of Educating Everybody's Children provides educators with research proven instructional strategies to meet the varying needs of students from economically ethnically culturally and linguistically diverse backgrounds

Doctor-Patient Interaction Walburga von Raffler-Engel, 1989-01-01 This volume covers many of the ways of speaking that create problems between doctor and patient The questions under consideration in the present book are the following How is the doctor patient interaction structured in a particular culture What takes place during the process What causes misunderstandings lack of cooperation and even total non compliance What is the outcome of the interaction and how does the patient benefit from it Finally and this is the ultimate purpose of this book How can the interaction be improved so that an optimum outcome is assured for the patient with maximum satisfaction to the physician

Studying Children in Context M. Elizabeth Graue, Daniel J. Walsh, 1998-02-19 What is the world like for today's children How do they construct meaning in it Answering these key questions Studying Children in Context explains the art and science of doing qualitative research involving children Authors M Elizabeth Graue and Daniel J Walsh carefully discuss the research process dealing succinctly with generic research issues yet emphasizing where work with children presents its own particular challenges They look across the research enterprise in the first part of the book conceptualizing it as a holistic activity They next focus on fieldwork and in the final section examine the interpreting and reporting aspects of qualitative research In addition to presenting their own considerable experiences in fieldwork with children Graue and Walsh also present the contributions of numerous researchers with their own insights on key issues Studying Children in Context will be an invaluable addition to the libraries of teachers and researchers interested in qualitative research methods in general and in doing fieldwork with children in particular

Electronic Literacies Mark Warschauer, 1998-11-01 Electronic Literacies is an insightful study of the challenges and contradictions that arise as culturally and linguistically diverse learners engage in new language and literacy practices in online environments The role of the Internet in changing literacy and education has been a topic of much speculation but very little concrete research This book is one of the first attempts to document the role of the Internet and other new digital technologies in the development of language and literacy Warschauer looks at how the nature of reading and writing is changing and how those changes are being addressed in the classroom His focus is on the experiences of culturally and linguistically diverse learners who are at special risk of being marginalized from the information society Based on a two year ethnographic study of the uses of the Internet in four language and writing classrooms in the state of Hawaii i a Hawaiian language class of Native Hawaiian students seeking to revitalize their language and culture an ESL class of students from Pacific Island and Latin American countries an ESL class of students from Asian countries and an English composition class of working class students from diverse ethnic backgrounds the book includes data from interviews with students and teachers classroom observations and analysis of student texts This rich ethnographic data is combined with theories from a broad range of disciplines to develop conclusions about the relationship of technology to language literacy education and culture Central to Warschauer s discussion and conclusions is how contradictions of language culture and class affect the impact of Internet based education While Hawai i is a special place the issues confronted here are similar in many ways to those that exist throughout the United States and many other countries How to provide culturally and linguistically diverse students traditionally on the educational and technological margins with the literacies they need to fully participate in public community and economic life in the 21st century The Open Access version of this book available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4.0 license

Transforming the Culture of Schools Jerry Lipka, With Gerald V. Mohatt, Esther Ilutsk, 2014-01-21 This book speaks directly to issues of equity and school transformation and shows how one indigenous minority teachers group engaged in a process of transforming schooling in their community Documented in one small locale far removed from mainstream America the personal narratives by Yup'ik Eskimo teachers address the very heart of school reform The teachers struggles portray the first in a series of steps through which a group of Yup'ik teachers and university colleagues began a slow process of reconciling cultural differences and conflict between the culture of the school and the culture of the community The story told in this book goes well beyond documenting individual narratives by providing examples and insights for others who are involved in creating culturally responsive education that fundamentally changes the role and relationship of teachers and community to schooling
