Guide to the National Anthropological Archives, Smithsonian Institution National Anthropological Archives, 1992

Archive and Memory in German Literature and Visual Culture Dora Osborne, 2015 Explores the changing relationship between memory and the archive in German language literature and culture since 1945 American Axe Brett McLeod, 2020-10-13 From hand forged axes of the Viking conquests to the American homesteader's felling axe this is a tool that has shaped human history like few others American Axe pays tribute to this iconic instrument of settlement and industry with rich history stunning photography and profiles of the most collectible vintage axes such as The Woodslasher Keen Cutter and True Temper Perfect Combining his experiences as a forester axe collector and former competitive lumberjack author Brett McLeod conveys the allure of this deceptively simple woodcutting implement and celebrates the resurging interest in its story and use Photo-Attractions Ajay Sinha, 2022-11-11 In Spring 1938 an Indian dancer named Ram Gopal and an American writer photographer named Carl Van Vechten came together for a photoshoot in New York City Ram Gopal was a pioneer of classical Indian dance and Van Vechten was reputed as a prominent white patron of the African American movement called the Harlem Renaissance Photo Attractions describes the interpersonal desires and expectations of the two men that took shape when the dancer took pose in exotic costumes in front of Van Vechten's Leica camera The spectacular images provide a rare and compelling record of an underrepresented history of transcultural exchanges during the interwar years of early 20th century made briefly visible through photography Art historian Ajay Sinha uses these hitherto unpublished photographs and archival research to raise provocative and important questions about photographic technology colonial histories race sexuality and transcultural desires Challenging the assumption that Gopal was merely objectified by Van Vechten's Orientalist gaze he explores the ways in which the Indian dancer co authored the photos In Sinha's reading Van Vechten's New York studio becomes a promiscuous contact zone between world cultures where a photo erotic triangle is formed between the American photographer Indian dancer and German camera A groundbreaking study of global modernity Photo Attractions brings scholarship on American photography literature race and sexual economies into conversation with work on South Asian visual culture dance and gender In these remarkable historical documents it locates the pleasure taken in cultural difference that still resonates today A Nimble Arc Emilie Boone, 2023-08-28 While James Van Der Zee is widely known and praised for his studio portraits from the Harlem Renaissance era much of the diversity and expansive reach of his work has been overlooked From the major role his studio played for decades photographing ordinary people and events in the Harlem community to the inclusion of his photographs in the landmark Harlem on My Mind exhibition at the Metropolitan Museum of Art in 1969 Van Der Zee was a foundational Black photographer whose work illustrates the shifting ways photography serves as a constitutive force within Black life In A Nimble Arc Emilie Boone considers Van Der Zee's photographic work over the course of the twentieth century showing how it foregrounded aspects of Black daily life in the

United States and in the larger African diaspora Boone argues that Van Der Zee's work exists at the crossroads of art and the vernacular challenging the distinction between canonical art photographs and the kind of output common to commercial photography studios Boone's account recasts our understanding not only of this celebrated figure but of photography within the arc of quotidian Black life

Art + Archive Sara Callahan, 2022-01-25 Art Archive provides an in depth analysis of the connection between art and the archive at the turn of the twenty first century The book examines how the archive emerged in art writing in the mid 1990s and how its subsequent ubiquity can be understood in light of wider social technological philosophical and art historical conditions and concerns Deftly combining writing on archives from different disciplines with artistic practices the book clarifies the function and meaning of one of the most persistent artworld buzzwords of recent years shedding light on the conceptual and historical implications of the so called archival turn in contemporary art

Reading the Archival Revolution Cristina Vatulescu, 2024-11-12 The opening of classified documents from the Soviet era has been dubbed the archival revolution due to its unprecedented scale drama and impact With a storyteller's sensibility Cristina Vatulescu identifies and takes on the main challenges of reading in these archives This transnational study foregrounds peripheral Eastern European perspectives and the ethical stakes of archival research In so doing it contributes to the urgent task of decolonizing the field of Eastern European and Russian studies at this critical moment in the region's history Drawing on diverse work ranging from Mikhail Bakhtin to Tina Campt the book enters into broader conversations about the limits and potential of reading documents fictions and one another Pairing one key reading challenge with a particularly arresting story Vatulescu in turn investigates Michel Foucault's traces in Polish secret police archives tackles the files reenactment film and photo albums of a socialist bank heist pits autofiction against disinformation in the secret police files of Nobel Prize laureate Herta and Paul Amirson and takes on the digital remediation of Soviet era archives by analyzing contested translations of the Iron Curtain trope from its 1946 origins to the current war in Ukraine The result is a bona fide reader's guide to Eastern Europe's ongoing archival revolution

Archaeology in Northumberland National Park Paul

Frodsham, 2004 Through his work as an archaeologist for the Northumberland Park Authority Paul Frodsham is better placed than most to appreciate the stunning landscape of Northumberland and the many prehistoric and historic sites that can be found there This book which is written for the general reader successfully combines an overview of the archaeology of Northumberland National Park from the Mesolithic to the present day with a series of fourteen case studies or projects written by those carrying out research in the region The papers are based on those given at a conference held in 2000 and reflect new research and ideas on a broad range of subjects including Peat pollen and people Rob Young the Iron Age hillfort of West Hill Peter Topping Hadrian's Wall Tony Wilmott Tim Gates Harbottle Castle James Crow and the industrial landscape Iain Hedley
