attention to detail and clever character development make this book a standout in the realm of crime fiction Her ability to craft compelling narratives and present puzzling mysteries will keep readers on the edge of their seats until the very last page For those seeking a captivating read full of twists and turns The Old Man in the Corner comes highly recommended

The Old Man in the Corner Baroness Emmuska Orczy, 1909-01-01 The man in the corner had finished his glass of milk His watery blue eyes looked across at Miss Polly Burton s eager little face from which all traces of severity had now been chased away by an obvious and intense excitement It was only on the 31st he resumed after a while that a body decomposed past all recognition was found by two lightermen in the bottom of a disused barge She had been moored at one time at the foot of one of those dark flights of steps which lead down between tall warehouses to the river in the East End of London I have a photograph of the place here he added selecting one out of his pocket and placing it before Polly The actual barge you see had already been removed when I took this snapshot but you will realize what a perfect place this alley is for the purpose of one man cutting another s throat in comfort and without fear of detection The body as I said was decomposed beyond all recognition it had probably been there eleven days but sundry articles such as a silver ring and a tie pin were recognizable and were identified by Mrs Kershaw as belonging to her husband She of course was loud in denouncing Smethurst and the police had no doubt a very strong case against him for two days after the discovery of the body in the barge the Siberian millionaire as he was already popularly called by enterprising interviewers was arrested in his luxurious suite of rooms at the Hotel Cecil To confess the truth at this point I was not a little puzzled Mrs Kershaw s story and Smethurst s letters had both found their way into the papers and following my usual method mind you I am only an amateur I try to reason out a case for the love of the thing I sought about for a motive for the crime which the police declared Smethurst had committed To effectually get rid of a dangerous blackmailer was the generally accepted theory Well did it ever strike you how paltry that motive really was Miss Polly had to confess however that it had never struck her in that light Surely a man who had succeeded in building up an immense fortune by his own individual efforts was not the sort of fool to believe that he had anything to fear from a man like Kershaw He must have known that Kershaw held no damning proofs against him not enough to hang him anyway Have you ever seen Smethurst he added as he once more fumbled in his pocket book Polly replied that she had seen Smethurst s picture in the illustrated papers at the time Then he added placing a small photograph before her What strikes you most about the face Well I think its strange astonished expression due to the total absence of eyebrows and the funny foreign cut of the hair So close that it almost looks as if it had been shaved Exactly That is what struck me most when I elbowed my way into the court that morning and first caught sight of the millionaire in the dock He was a tall soldierly looking man upright in stature his face very bronzed and tanned He wore neither moustache nor beard his hair was cropped quite close to his head like a Frenchman s but of course what was so very remarkable about him was that total absence of eyebrows and even eyelashes which gave the face such a peculiar appearance as you say a perpetually astonished look He seemed however wonderfully calm he had been accommodated with a chair in the dock being a millionaire and chatted pleasantly with his lawyer Sir Arthur Inglewood in the intervals between the calling of the several witnesses for the prosecution whilst during the examination of these witnesses he sat quite placidly with his head shaded by his hand M ller and Mrs Kershaw repeated the story which they had already told to the police I think you said that you were not able owing to pressure of work to go to the court that day and hear the case so perhaps you have no recollection of Mrs Kershaw No Ah well Here is a snapshot I managed to get of her once That is her Exactly as she stood in the box over dressed in elaborate crape with a bonnet which once had contained pink roses and to which a remnant of pink petals still clung obtrusively amidst the deep black She would not look at the prisoner and turned her head resolutely towards the magistrate I fancy she had been fond of that vagabond husband of hers an enormous wedding ring encircled her finger and that too was swathed in black She firmly believed that Kershaw s murderer sat there in the dock and she literally flaunted her grief before him I was indescribably sorry for her As for M ller he was just fat oily pompous conscious of his own importance as a witness his fat fingers covered with brass rings gripped the two incriminating letters which he had identified They were his passports as it were to a delightful land of importance and notoriety Sir Arthur Inglewood I think disappointed him by stating that he had no questions to ask of him M ller had been brimful of answers ready with the most perfect indictment the most elaborate accusations against the bloated millionaire who had decoyed his dear friend Kershaw and murdered him in Heaven knows what an out of the way corner of the East End After this however the excitement grew apace M ller had been dismissed and had retired from the court altogether leading away Mrs Kershaw who had completely broken down Constable D 21 was giving evidence as to the arrest in the meanwhile The prisoner he said had seemed completely taken by surprise not understanding the cause or history of the accusation against him however when put in full possession of the facts and realizing no doubt the absolute futility of any resistance he had quietly enough followed the constable into the cab No one at the fashionable and crowded Hotel Cecil had even suspected that anything unusual had occurred Then a gigantic sigh of expectancy came from every one of the spectators The fun was about to begin James Buckland a porter at Fenchurch Street railway station had just sworn to tell all the truth etc After all it did not amount to much He said that at six o clock in the afternoon of December the 10th in the midst of one of the densest fogs he ever remembers the 5 5 from Tilbury steamed into the station being just about an hour late He was on the arrival platform and was hailed by a passenger in a first class carriage He could see very little of him beyond an enormous black fur coat and a travelling cap of fur also The passenger had a quantity of luggage all marked F S and he directed James Buckland to place it all upon a four wheel cab with the exception of a small hand bag which he carried himself Having seen that all his luggage was safely bestowed the stranger in the fur coat paid the porter and telling the cabman to wait until he returned he walked away in the direction of the waiting rooms still carrying his small hand bag

The Old Man in the Corner Emmuska Orczy, 2004-10 The man in the corner pushed aside his glass and leant across the table Mysteries he commented There is no such thing as a mystery in connection with any crime provided intelligence is brought to bear upon its investigation Very much astonished Polly Burton looked over the top of her newspaper and fixed a pair of very severe coldly inquiring brown eyes upon him She had disapproved of the man from the instant when he shuffled across the shop and sat down opposite to her at the same marble topped table which already held her large coffee 3d her roll and butter 2d and plate of tongue 6d

The Old Man in the Corner: The Teahouse Detective Baroness Orczy, 2019-06-11 A classic collection of cozy Golden Age mysteries from the author of The Scarlet Pimpernel for fans of Sherlock Holmes and British crime fiction Mysteries There is no such thing as a mystery in connection with any crime provided intelligence is brought to bear upon its investigation So says a rather down at heel elderly gentleman to young Polly Burton of the Evening Observer in the corner of the ABC teashop on Norfolk Street one afternoon Once she has forgiven him for distracting her from her newspaper and luncheon Miss Burton discovers that her interlocutor is as brilliantly gifted as he is eccentric able to solve mysteries that have made headlines and baffled the finest minds of the police without once leaving his seat in the teahouse As the weeks go by she listens to him unravelling the trickiest of puzzles and solving the most notorious of crimes but still one final mystery remains the mystery of the old man in the corner himself The Old Man in the Corner is a classic collection of mysteries featuring the Teahouse Detective a contemporary of Sherlock Holmes with a brilliant mind and waspish temperament to match that of Conan Doyle s creation

Sherlock's Sisters Joseph A. Kestner, 2017-03-02 Sherlock s Sisters The British Female Detective 1864 1913 examines the fictional female detective in Victorian and Edwardian literature This character originating in the 1860s configures a new representation of women in narratives of the nineteenth and twentieth centuries This analysis explores female empowerment through professional unofficial or official detection especially as this surveillance illuminates legal moral gendered institutional criminal punitive judicial political and familial practices This book considers a range of literary texts by both female and male writers which concentrate on detection by women particularly those which followed the creation of Sherlock Holmes by Arthur Conan Doyle in 1887 Cultural movements such as the emergence of the New Woman property law or suffragism are stressed in the exploits of these resourceful investigators These daring women deal with a range of crimes including murder blackmail terrorism forgery theft sexual harassment embezzlement fraud impersonation and domestic violence Privileging the exercise of reason rather than intuition these women detectives are proto feminist in their demonstration of women s independence Instead of being under the law these women transform it Their investigations are given particular edge because many of the perpetrators of these crimes are women Sherlock s Sisters probes many texts which because of their rarity have been under researched Writers such as Beatrice Heron Maxwell Emmuska Orczy L T Meade Catherine Pirkis Fergus Hume Grant Allen Leonard Merrick Marie Belloc Lowndes George Sims McDonnell Bodkin and Richard Marsh are here incorporated into the canon of Victorian and Edwardian literature many for the first time A writer such as Mary

Elizabeth Braddon is reassessed through a neglected novel The book includes works by Irish and Australian writers to present an inclusive array of British texts Sherlock s Sisters enlarges the perception of emerging female empowerment during the nineteenth century filling an important gap in the fields of Gender Studies Law Literature and Popular Culture
