The Old Woman and the Pedlar

Arranged by Alan Bullard

Trad. English

Robustly and with humour $\text{♩} = \text{c. } 120$

The musical score is written for piano and features three systems of music. Each system consists of a vocal line (soprano clef) and a piano accompaniment (treble and bass clefs). The key signature has two sharps (F# and C#), and the time signature is 4/4. The tempo is marked 'Robustly and with humour' with a quarter note equal to approximately 120 beats per minute. The score includes various musical notations such as rests, eighth notes, quarter notes, half notes, and dynamic markings like mf and f. The piano part includes a prominent octave passage in the right hand across measures 11 and 12.

Like many folk songs, this piece tells a story and it's meant to be a funny one. An old woman taking eggs to sell at the market falls asleep by the road, whereupon a mischievous pedlar comes along and cuts up some of her clothes for no reason! Listen carefully to the octaves across the string in bars 11–12 – if your finger is in exactly the right place, they should ring out brightly. There are some big dynamic contrasts to notice along the way, before you creep out quietly in the last two bars.
