The Other Boston Busing Story Whats Won And Lost Across The Boundary Line:

The Other Boston Busing Story Susan E. Eaton, 2001 Presents interviews with sixty five graduates of Boston's METCO busing program assessing the benefits and hardships of this landmark school desegregation program

The Other Boston Busing Story Susan E. Eaton, 2020-10-23 METCO America's longest running voluntary school desegregation program has for 34 years bused black children from Boston's city neighborhoods to predominantly white suburban schools Sixty five METCO graduates vividly recall their own stories in this revealing book Susan E Eaton interviewed program participants who are now adults asking them to assess the benefits and hardships of crossing racial and class lines on their way to school Their answers poignantly show that this type of racial integration is not easy they struggled to negotiate both black and white worlds often feeling fully accepted in neither Even so nearly all the participants believe the long term gains outweighed the costs and would choose a similar program for their own children though not without conditions and apprehensions

The Rock, the Curse, and the Hub Randy Roberts, 2005 The Rock the Curse and the Hub is a collection of original essays about the people and places of Boston sports that live in the minds and memories of Bostonians and all Americans Each chapter focuses on the games and the athletes but also on which sports have defined Boston and Bostonians

Don't Blame Us Lily Geismer, 2017-01-31 Don't Blame Us traces the reorientation of modern liberalism and the Democratic Party away from their roots in labor union halls of northern cities to white collar professionals in postindustrial high tech suburbs and casts new light on the importance of suburban liberalism in modern American political culture Focusing on the suburbs along the high tech corridor of Route 128 around Boston Lily Geismer challenges conventional scholarly assessments of Massachusetts exceptionalism the decline of liberalism and suburban politics in the wake of the rise of the New Right and the Reagan Revolution in the 1970s and 1980s Although only a small portion of the population knowledge professionals in Massachusetts and elsewhere have come to wield tremendous political leverage and power By probing the possibilities and limitations of these suburban liberals this rich and nuanced account shows that far from being an exception to national trends the suburbs of Massachusetts offer a model for understanding national political realignment and suburban politics in the second half of the twentieth century The Children in Room E4 Susan Eaton, 2009-01-01

Explores the racial and economic divide found in the educational systems of urban areas across the United States in an account that follows the struggles of one bright third grader from Hartford Connecticut and his indomitable teacher Reprint
