The Other Heading Reflections On Today's Europe:

The Other Heading Jacques Derrida, 1992-06-22 Like a navigator Derrida sets out from a Europe that has always defined itself as the capital of culture the headland of thought in whose name and for whose benefit exploration of other lands other peoples and other ways of thinking has been carried out If such Eurocentric biases are not to be repeated Derrida warns the question of Europe must be asked in a new way it must be asked by recalling another heading Not only is it necessary for Europe to be responsible for the other but its own identity is actually constituted by the other Rejecting the easy or programmatic solutions of Eurocentrism or anti Eurocentrism of total unification or complete dispersion Derrida argues for the necessity of working with and from the Enlightenment values of liberal democracy while at the same time recalling that these values do not themselves ensure respect for the other

The Oxford Handbook of Postwar European History Dan Stone, 2012-05-17 The postwar period is no longer current affairs but is becoming the recent past As such it is increasingly attracting the attentions of historians Whilst the Cold War has long been a mainstay of political science and contemporary history recent research approaches postwar Europe in many different ways all of which are represented in the thirty five chapters of this book As well as diplomatic political institutional economic and social history The Oxford Handbook of Postwar European History contains chapters which approach the past through the lenses of gender espionage art and architecture technology agriculture heritage postcolonialism memory and generational change and shows how the history of postwar Europe can be enriched by looking to disciplines such as anthropology and philosophy The Handbook covers all of Europe with a notable focus on Eastern Europe Including subjects as diverse as the meaning of Europe and European identity southern Europe after dictatorship the cultural meanings of the bomb the 1968 student uprisings immigration Americanization welfare leisure decolonization the Wars of Yugoslav Succession and coming to terms with the Nazi past the essays in this Handbook offer an unparalleled coverage of postwar European history that offers far more than the standard Cold War framework Readers will find self contained state of the art analyses of major subjects each written by an acknowledged expert as well as stimulating and novel approaches to newer topics Combining empirical rigour and adventurous conceptual analysis this Handbook offers in one substantial volume a guide to the numerous ways in which historians are now rewriting the history of postwar Europe

Queer in Europe Robert Gillett, 2016-04-15 Queer in Europe takes stock of the intellectual and social status and treatment of queer in the New Europe of the twenty first century addressing the ways in which the Anglo American term and concept queer is adapted in different national contexts where it takes on subtly different overtones determined by local political specificities and intellectual traditions Bringing together contributions by carefully chosen experts this book explores key aspects of queer in a range of European national contexts namely Belgium Cyprus England France Germany Hungary Ireland Italy The Nordic Region The Netherlands Poland Russia and Spain Rather than prescribing a universalizing definition the book engages with a wide spectrum of what is meant by queer as each chapter negotiates the contested border between direct queer activist action based on identity categories and more plural queer strategies that call these categories into question The first volume in English devoted to the exploration of queer in Europe this book makes an important intervention in contemporary queer studies Debating Turkey in Europe Caner Tekin,2019-12-16 In contemporary history a much debated issue has been whether European nations have a common identity and what relevance the European Union has for a shared definition of Europeanness The present book examines the link between historical conceptions of Europe and the contestations over Turkey s compatibility with the European Union during the 2000s Metaphoricity and the Politics of Mobility ,2016-08-01 This collection of essays investigates the convergence between the postmodern politics of mobility and a politics of metaphor a politics in other words in the context of which the production and displacement of meaning s constitute the major stakes Ranging from discussions of re territorialization multiculturalism digisporas and transnational politics and ethics to September 11th the Pentagon s New Map American legislation on Chinese immigration Gianni Amelio s film Lamerica Keith Piper s online installations and Doris Salcedo s Atrabiliarios the collection aims to follow three different theoretical trajectories First it seeks to rethink our concepts of mobility in order to open them up to the complexity that structures the thoughts and practices of a global order Second it critically examines the privileged position of concepts and metaphors of mobility within postmodern theory In juxtaposing conflictual theoretical formulations the book sets out to present the competing responses that fuel academic debates around this issue Finally it evaluates the influence of our increasingly mobile conceptual frameworks and everyday experience on the redefinition of politics that is currently under way especially in the context of Post Marxist theory Its hope is to contribute to the production of alternative political positions and practices that will address the conflicting desires for attachment and movement marking postmodernity Rethinking Ethical Foreign Policy David Chandler,Volker Heins,2006-11-28 Ethics and foreign policy new perspectives on an old problem Volker Heins and David Chandler Geographies of ethical intervention neo Wilsonianism the limits of American ethical foreign policy Alex Gourevitch Crusaders and snobs moralizing foreign policy in Britain and Germany 1999 2005 Volker Heins Poor man s ethics peacekeeping and the contradictions of ethical ideology Philip Cunliffe Theoretical issues The West divided law and ethics in foreign policy Peter Niesen European Union normative power and ethical foreign policy Ian Manners Moral judgments on international interventions a Bosnian perspective Isabelle Delpla Techniques and tactics of ethical intervention The other regarding ethics of the empire in denial David Chandler Agents of truth and justice truth commissions and the transitional justice epistemic community Michal Ben Josef Hirsch Precision in uncertain times targeting as a mode of justification of the use of force Ariel Colonos Trusteeship and contemporary international society William Bain Education and Democracy at The End Mario Di Paolantonio,2023-12-14 This book grapples with what it means when education and democracy are at an end when these two foundational aspects of our society seem to have reached a culminating point no longer appearing to produce and make sense amid the crises of our time Engaging topical political events and mobilizing a variety of cultural resources Di Paolantonio shows that today the possibility of the future and the significance of an expansive transgenerational sensibility are radically in question as trends toward destruction cruelty and banality are steering world defying calamities and sparking chronopathologies of doom and despair among the planet s occupants Unfolding his argument through a series of accessible chapters that draw on contemporary philosophy educational thinking and cultural artistic works Di Paolantonio explores how the transgenerational sensibility retains a possibility we might tap for overcoming the impasses of our time Europe after Derrida Agnes Czajka,2016-06-01 Is Europe s crisis merely a financial one Tackling issues ranging from Europe s legal institutional and cultural identity to its border citizenship and integration policies and looking forward to its legacy for the future the contributors to this volume interrogate the various dimensions and contours of the European crisis By revisiting Derrida s diagnosis of the crisis of European identity they simultaneously propose a new direction for Europe and an alternative response to today s crisis Zoom In, Zoom Out Sandra Barriaes-Bouche,Marjorie Attignol Salvodon,2009-03-26 In the context of the transformations that Europe is undergoing Zoom in Zoom out Crossing Borders in Contemporary European Cinema attempts to serve as a testimony to the multiple ways in which European filmmakers are questioning the many borders of the continent European films have become a vital cultural space where the relationship between borders and identity is being renegotiated The films discussed here self consciously address the question of European identity while overtly crossing geographic cultural linguistic and aesthetic borders While all the articles explore the crossing of borders in Contemporary European films the volume maintains diverse themes and perspectives as subtopics It includes articles not only about films that deal thematically with border crossings but also articles that examine movies that cross borders in genres and techniques The articles have different theoretical approaches Film theory Cultural Studies History Sociology Philosophy and Psychoanalysis and cover films from well known cinematic traditions French Spanish German and Italian as well as lesser known cinematic traditions Yugoslavian Greek and Irish As a whole the essays frame the self conscious gesture by European filmmakers to define European cinema as a work in progress or at the very least as a project that like Europe itself raises as many questions as it answers This volume is a welcome addition to the growing critical literature on the evolution of the conception and practice of national cinema in Europe over the last two decades Sandra Barriaes Bouche and Marjorie Attignol Salvodon have chosen a solid selection of representative case studies that reflects different critical approaches to the problem of maintaining local or national cinema production in Europe during a period of intense globalization Their insightful introduction formulates the theme of unsettled borders and renegotiated identities that will resonate in the nine essays that follow With a focus on the critical concept of these unsettled borders the various authors explore the ways that the traditional mark of national space has been transformed through political and economic realignments as well as new technologies and the emergence of a new generation of filmmakers for whom national cinema no longer means what it did even twenty years ago The volume provides a good balance of critical approaches that includes auteur studies descriptions of state policies and the particular practices of filmmakers and producers in different parts of the continent Spain Germany Ireland the Balkans and finally useful appendices that provide a close up view of the complex nature of international co productions Marvin D Lugo Professor of Spanish Clark University This is an interesting collection of essays that has been well conceived and organised The standard of writing is high and I recommend publication I particularly commend the conceptual framework underpinning the volume This marries a cultural studies approach which still dominates the study of film in Area Studies and language departments across Europe and the US where filmic texts are increasingly used as teaching tools with the more industry based focus one tends to find adopted by Media and Screen Studies departments Thus this collection will appeal to a wide range of students and academics The introduction sets out the volume s overarching framework cogently and clearly giving a nuanced exploration of the way that the notion of the border can be used as a dynamic prism to help define and explore the limits of our understanding of Europe European identity and European culture within which cinema has long played a key role The editors give a good account for example of the way film has been employed as a space to explore the possibilities of European integration by EU politicians as well as highlighting the flaws inherent within this project They do however perhaps suggest a certain Western European North American centric view in their suggestion that the cinema of Yugoslavia Greece or Ireland is somehow less well known than other national and transnational cinemas explored here Less well known to whom However from the broad range of cinemas explored in the rest of the volume clearly this is not the case Particular high points for me are the chapters on the work of Fatih Akin by Janis Little Solomon and John Davidson s discussion of Schulze gets the Blues as well as Olivier Asselin s fascinating account of Database Cinema This will be a good addition to scholarship on European film and I look forward to receiving my copy Professor Paul Cooke University of Leeds

English and Translation in the European Union Alice Leal, 2021-06-20 This book explores the growing tension between multilingualism and monolingualism in the European Union in the wake of Brexit underpinned by the interplay between the rise of English as a lingua franca and the effacement of translations in EU institutions bodies and agencies English and Translation in the European Union draws on an interdisciplinary approach highlighting insights from applied linguistics and sociolinguistics translation studies philosophy of language and political theory while also looking at official documents and online resources most of which are increasingly produced in English and not translated at all and the ones which are translated into other languages are not labelled as translations In analysing this data Alice Leal explores issues around language hierarchy and the growing difficulty in reconciling the EU s approach to promoting multilingualism while fostering monolingualism in practice through the diffusion of English as a lingua franca as well as questions around authenticity in the translation process and the boundaries between source and target texts The volume also looks ahead to the implications of Brexit for this tension while proposing potential ways forward encapsulated in the language turn the translation turn and the transcultural turn for the EU Offering unique insights into contemporary debates in the humanities this book will be of interest to scholars in translation studies applied linguistics and sociolinguistics philosophy and political theory
