The Other Hong Kong Report 1998:

The Other Hong Kong Report 1998 Larry Chuen-ho Chow, Yiu-Kwan Fan, 1998-12-31 Published annually since 1989 The Other Hong Kong Report is a review of the various aspects of development in Hong Kong in the past year by scholars and experts who are not government officials and is intended to offer an alternative view to that portrayed in government publications

Education in Hong Kong, 1941 to 2001 Anthony Sweeting, 2004-07-01 It provides comprehensive coverage of developments in formal and informal education in Hong Kong from the end of 1941 to the beginning of the new millennium As was true of its predecessor each Part of this book is subdivided into three sections Commentary Chronicle and Evidence Such an organization facilitates flexible reading Readers primarily interested in analysis interpretation and the identification of themes are likely to focus initially on the Commentary sections and to move as they feel stimulated to the relevant entries in the Chronicle and or items of Evidence Readers who seek either more encyclopedic understanding or detailed answers to specific questions may well wish to focus primarily or at least initially on the Chronicle sections and then to search for substantiation in the Evidence section or for amplification in the author's Commentary At times some readers may wish to browse through the Evidence sections reaching possibly serendipitous discoveries Academic and general readers are likely to be particularly interested in Part I of the book which deals with education in Hong Kong during the Japanese occupation a topic that has received only very rare and generalization bound treatment in other publications The author offers insights into all levels of education His conceptual scope incorporates many types of education including the mainstream academic education technical education teacher education special education physical education civic education education that focuses on morals that which focuses on culture and the various sorts of non formal and informal education

Public Law in East Asia Albert H.Y. Chen, 2017-07-05 Public Law in East Asia is a collection of the leading English language articles on constitutional and administrative law in the Asian region written by many of the leading scholars from this area The region has its own distinct legal and political traditions and its systems of government have facilitated dynamic economic growth but the role of public law has not been well understood Covering a wide range of jurisdictions in a single volume this collection provides insights into the ways in which institutions of Western origin have been integrated into Asian political and legal cultures producing new syntheses

Managing Human Resources in Asia-Pacific Pawan S. Budhwar, 2004 This book presents an HRM scenario in a number of south east Asian and Pacific Rim countries highlighting the growth of the HR function in these countries their dominant HRM systems and the challenges faced

One Country, Two Systems in Crisis Wong Yiu-chung, 2008-06-19 In the tumultuous negotiations of the Sino British Joint Declaration of 1984 the United Kingdom willingly signed over Hong Kong's reigns to the People's Republic of China but with the presupposition that the PRC would faithfully implement the principle of one country two systems for the following fifty years Yet since the handover in 1997 the PRC has failed to allow Hong Kong a higher degree of autonomy One Country Two Systems in Crisis elucidates how China's intervention has curtailed Hong Kong's civil liberties how freedom of speech is at the mercy of the government and how deception has turned the Pearl of the Orient into the rubber stamp of the Chinese Communist Party

Managing Public Services Ahmed Shafiqul Huque, Grace Lee, 2018-01-12 This title was first published in 2000 The management of public services is becoming an increasingly difficult task Demands are increasing while funds appear to be decreasing but quality of service must remain high New services are required demands have to be faced activities don't always go according to plan and problems emerge in unexpected places and at unusual times and public managers are expected to deal with these deviations from their regular work patterns While some activities are concrete in nature and can be seen such as medical care and education others are obscured from public view With governments emphasizing areas that produce visible and quantifiable results they often neglect the intangible services that must also be provided to the public Poor performance in these areas can contribute to major crisis in public organizations This volume examines four case studies in the context of the changing political and social environment of the new Hong Kong Special Administrative Region of the People's Republic of China The use of these cases from the public sector in Hong Kong will hopefully help readers to understand the difficulties faced by modern governments in providing basic services to the public

Poverty in the Midst of Affluence Leo F. Goodstadt, 2014-12-01 Hong Kong is among the richest cities in the world Yet over the past 15 years living conditions for the average family have deteriorated despite a robust economy ample budget surpluses and record labour productivity Successive governments have been reluctant to invest in services for the elderly the disabled the long term sick and the poor while education has become more elitist The political system has helped to entrench a mistaken consensus that social spending is a threat to financial stability and economic prosperity In this trenchant attack on government mismanagement Leo Goodstadt traces how officials have created a new poverty in Hong Kong and argues that their misguided policies are both a legacy of the colonial era and a deliberate choice by modern governments and not the result of economic crises This provocative book will be essential reading for anyone wishing to understand why poverty returned to Hong Kong in this century The book has been thoroughly revised and updated for this new paperback edition Leo Goodstadt has identified the New Poor as those made vulnerable through diminishing access to essential services and opportunities The culprits are misguided policies and the callous and uncaring decisions of those in power This compelling critique carries weight and demands a response Christine Fang Former Chief Executive of The Hong Kong Council of Social Service This is a critical reflection on Hong Kong's path of social development and a most discerning analysis of the Third World mentality espoused by the government and the business community in the area of social welfare Lui Tai lok Chair Professor of Hong Kong Studies The Hong Kong Institute of Education Welfare spending was like pouring sand into the sea to reclaim land thought one Chief Executive Governments restrained social spending based on that skewed view This book is meticulously researched and painfully insightful It is a masterly chronicle of Hong Kong's social welfare policy Anna Wu Non Official Member of the Executive Council HKSAR Implementation of Law in the People's Republic of China Jianfu Chen, Yuwen Li, Jan Michiel Otto, 2021-08-04 China after some twenty years of reform is no longer a country without law. Indeed one may legitimately complain that there are too many laws that are changing too rapidly. However law acquires no life nor performs its intended social functions without proper implementation and enforcement. Here few people Chinese or foreign are content with the general situation of implementation of law in China. The problems and difficulties in implementing and enforcing laws and regulations are reported and discussed in the various forums of the Chinese media almost on a daily basis and often reported in Western media also. Academics in China are filling the pages of various legal journals with their diagnoses and analyses of the causes of and solutions to the lack of proper implementation of law and legal regulations and policy measures are being issued to deal with these problems and to overcome the difficulties. The future of the rule of law in China as we are so often reminded by scholars of Chinese politics and law largely depends on the proper implementation and enforcement of law. This is a book about law in action in China that is it focuses on the administration of the law as a process through which law in the books is put into action and hence is made to perform its intended social functions. It deals with the process, the institutional settings, the players and the political, economic, social and cultural settings, the factors involved in the administration of law in China. Throughout the book we will see a variety of problems and difficulties involved in implementing and enforcing laws and regulations that are identified and analyzed by the contributors. We will also see analyses on legal regulations and policy measures that have been issued to rectify the many identified problems to raise the standard of actual implementation of law and to improve the functioning of the various law implementing enforcing authorities. Additionally the book provides various case studies on implementation of law in China. The present book we believe is among the first collective efforts at a systematic and comprehensive study of the implementation of law in China and we hope that it will stimulate many more such studies on the actual operation and impact of law on society and on individuals.

Housing and Social Change Ray Forrester, James Lee, 2003-09-25 This wide ranging exploration of the key contemporary relationships between social change and housing is both policy oriented and theoretical drawing on a group of internationally respected academics. It is also multidisciplinary incorporating sociology, economics, social policy and human geography perspective. Its international perspective is rooted in its examination of issues such as economic insecurity and instability, social diversity, financial and social exclusion, sustainability, privatisation and state legitimacy, the interaction of the global and the local across three continents.

Labour Migration and the Recent Financial Crisis in Asia OECD, 2000-01-20 This series of reports identifies the impact of the Asian financial crisis on labour migration and the conditions of migrant workers in the region.
