Multilingual Information Access for Text, Speech and Images Paul Clough,Julio Gonzalo,Michael Kluck,Bernardo Magnini,2005-08-25 The 5th campaign of the Cross Language Evaluation Forum CLEF for European languages was held from January to September 2004 Participation in the CLEF campaigns has increased each year and CLEF 2004 was no exception 55 groups submitted results for one or more of the different tracks compared with 42 groups in the previous year CLEF 2004 also marked a breaking point with respect to previous campaigns The focus was no longer mainly concentrated on multilingual document retrieval as in previous years but was diversified to include different kinds of text retrieval across languages e.g exact answers in the question answering track and retrieval on different kinds of media i.e not just plain text but collections containing image and speech as well In addition increasing attention was given to issues that regard system usability and user satisfaction with tasks to measure the effectiveness of interactive systems or system components being included in both the cross language question answering and image retrieval tasks with the collaboration of the coordinators of the interactive track The campaign culminated in a two and a half day workshop held in Bath UK 15-17 September immediately following the 8th European Conference on Digital Libraries The workshop was attended by nearly 100 researchers and system developers

Theories on the Move Şebnem Susam-Sarajeva,2006-01-01 Within translation studies books on translating conceptually dense texts such as philosophical or theoretical writings are remarkably few Although the translation of literature has been a favourite topic for many decades the translation of theories on literature has been neglected The phrase theories of translation is everywhere but translation of theories is a rare sight On the other hand the term translation has become a commonplace in literary and cultural studies yet usually as a rhetorical figure describing the fate of those who struggle between two worlds and two languages such as migrants or women Not much attention has been paid to the role of translation proper in contemporary circulation of ideas The book addresses these gaps in translation studies and in literary studies for the first time by examining two specific cases where translation strategies and patterns crucially influenced the reception of imported schools of thought By examining the importation of structuralism and semiotics into Turkish and of French feminism into English it invites the readers to think about the impact of translation on the transmission of ideas across linguistic cultural borders and power differentials It is therefore of particular interest to the scholars working in translation studies in literary and cultural theory and in gender studies
