Principles of Counseling and Psychotherapy Paul R. Peluso, Gerald J. Mozdierz, Joseph Lisiecki, 2013-12-17 Research has shown that the most effective way to prepare students for practice with real clients is to learn to think in a new way rather than simply learning and using a set of steps While there is much to be learned from what master practitioners do in their sessions there is even more knowledge to gain from learning how they think The second edition of Principles of Counseling and Psychotherapy offers students and practitioners a way to understand the processes behind effective outcomes with a wide variety of clients The second edition is infused with real world clinical case examples and opportunities for readers to apply the material to the cases being presented New thought exercise sections are specifically designed to engage the reader's natural non linear thinking and transcript material both from cases and from master therapists themselves are interwoven in the text Accompanying videos available through Alexander Street Press bring the text to life and instructors will find testbanks transition notes and narrated PowerPoints available for free download from the book's website at www.routledge-mentalhealth.com

The Counselor's Companion Jocelyn Gregoire, Christin Jungers, 2013-05-13 Students and recent graduates of counseling and human services programs will consider The Counselor's Companion an indispensable tool to enhance professional practice knowledge and skill The text is a reference style resource that provides new counselors with a way to bridge the gap between what they learned in the classroom and the challenges they will meet in their practice Beginning counselors will find concise answers to common questions that will likely arise in the course of their professional development and a reliable reference companion as they embark on their careers in the profession This volume features contributions from counselor educators and professionals in the field guided largely by the core curriculum of the Council for Accreditation of Counseling and Related Programs CACREP Information is presented in brief form making the main points of each section concise clear visible and easily accessible Readers are also introduced to cutting edge areas of research

Translating Theory Into Practice Justin E. Levitov, Kevin A. Fall, 2009
Practicum and internship courses are the most challenging and exciting components of a counselor's academic preparation. This hands-on text is the ideal resource for such students as they begin the process of translating counseling theory into effective clinical practice. The authors' clear conversational approach not only orients students to the challenges of clinical training but also enhances their ability to learn from these experiences. Translating Theory into Practice covers all aspects of counselor training from the core relationships that are essential to professional development to workable suggestions on selecting a field site, managing cases, terminating with clients, and networking with other mental health professionals. Vignettes and sample dialogues highlight real-world ethical issues and counseling concerns. The text also includes relevant information on state licensing requirements and national standards as well as several major codes of ethics. With insights gleaned from years of both teaching and professional counseling practice, the authors equip students with the skills they need to reap the full benefits that practicum and internship afford.

Book Jacket Personal Process in Child-Centred Play Therapy David Le Vay, Elise Cuschieri, 2022-09-02 Personal Process in Child-Centred Play Therapy provides a very specific exploration of the play therapy process from the personal perspective of the play therapist. This volume examines the personal challenges, opportunities, losses, and gains and numerous obstacles that one has to negotiate through the course of both training to become a play therapist and working as a qualified clinician with children who have complex life difficulties. The book aims to offer a forum within which the role, function, and process of the personal within play therapy can be explored. Bringing together a number of experienced play therapists, the book shares often deeply personal accounts of their experience of training and clinical practice. Chapters challenge the unspoken therapist taboos of shame, childhood trauma, vulnerability, and grief, shining a light on the more hidden areas of therapist experience. Clinical issues around the unconscious process are also explored but once again from the personal position of the play therapist rather than the child. With a unique and distinct perspective on the therapeutic process, this book is specifically intended for both trainee and experienced play therapists but will be relevant to all psychotherapists involved in working therapeutically with children and young people.

Helping Skills and Strategies Thomas M. Skovholt, David A. Rivers (M.A.), 2007. Presents an approach to skill development that revolves around four core areas: exploring client concerns, promoting client understanding, charting a new course, and working for positive change. This text leads students in developing helping skills. It features hypothetical dialogues at the end of each chapter showing skills for effective helping.
