

Special Educational Needs And Disability Reforms

What do the reforms mean?

The SEND reforms will mean you will be more involved in the decisions that affect you and your child. No-one should lose the support or services they need as a result of the changes.

Will the assessments be quicker?

The Education, Health and Care (EHC) plan must be finalised within 20 weeks of the request for an assessment, compared to 26 weeks for statements. Your school and council must work with you as a full partner through the process.

Who will be given an EHC plan?

The law about who is eligible has not changed. If your child is currently on a statement and still requires one, then they will be given an EHC plan.

What happens to my child's statement?

All existing statements will continue to have legal force beyond September 2014 until they are transferred over to a new EHC plan.

How will progress be reviewed?

The legal duties on schools remain the same - they are still required to keep and share records of a child or young person's progress, the support they have and the impact it has had on the individual.

"Top Tip" Have you tried one-page profiles? They are very popular with parents, so check with your school to see if they can share any templates with you, or try this link: <http://bit.ly/OnePP>

Will there be a better choice of schools?

The new system improves the range of school choices for those on EHC plans, including independent schools and independent specialist providers for which parents and children can express a preference. Councils have a duty to provide the support needed for any young person with SEND.

Will Special Educational Needs Coordinators (SENCOs) be able to offer adequate support for my child's needs?

Each SENCO is specially qualified to support other teachers to develop their expertise and ensure individual pupils' needs are addressed. The SEND Code of Practice is clear that every teacher is a teacher of children with special educational needs.

What happens if you go to college?

You can take your EHC plan with you. No-one should lose out just because they are moving from school to college.

Will I still have Higher Education support?

Students will continue to have a comprehensive assessment of what support they need. The EHC plan can be used to determine what those needs are.

Will Independent Supporters be available from September?

Independent Supporters will be people from the local area, ready and trained to help families through the changes to the system from September 2014. Councils are responsible for making sure information, advice and support is available in their area, not just about special educational needs, but also about disabilities, health and social care.

How can I get a personal budget?

You have the right to request a personal budget from your council when you have been assessed as needing an EHC plan or doing a review of an existing plan. Independent Supporters can help you with this process.

"Top Tip" Information on how to request a personal budget and what it can do for you will be set out in your council's local offer.

Special Educational Needs In Practice:

Special Educational Needs in Practice Selena Ledgerton, 2012 Special Educational Needs in Practice offers practical professional advice on including children with special educational needs in early childhood settings. It covers a broad range of physical, intellectual, sensory, developmental, behavioural and learning conditions with contributions from experts in each field. Clear explanations of how each condition manifests are followed by advice on what settings can do to ensure these conditions are not a barrier to children's learning and social engagement. The book also includes a comprehensive section on therapies so as to introduce new ideas on helping children with special needs to obtain full benefit from their early years care and education.

Introduction to Special Educational Needs, Disability and Inclusion Alexandra Sewell, Joanne Smith, 2020-11-11 This essential textbook equips you with a strong understanding of theories, policies and practices and how they impact on Special Educational Needs and Disabilities, guiding you through your SEND course or modules. It provides you with the foundations and tools necessary to think critically about the issues and developments concerning SEND, inclusion and professional practice. The book includes material surrounding mental health in childhood and adolescence. Chapters on global perspectives of SEND and assistive technologies. Practical case studies, reflection questions and activities. Spotlights on key theories and research. Up to date information on policies impacting SEND.

Understanding Special Educational Needs and Disability in the Early Years Janice Wearmouth, Abigail Gosling, Julie Beams, Stephanie Davydaitis, 2017-09-18 This key text provides essential tools for understanding legislation, policy, provision and practice for children in the early years, particularly young children with special educational needs and disability. SEND Based on extensive research and the four areas of need as defined in the Special Educational Needs and Disability Code of Practice 0 to 25 Years DfE 2015, the book charts the development of young children and their growing constructions of learning, communication, language, motor movement and emotion. Providing material that translates into practice in a straightforward and practical way, this text is packed full of personal accounts and case studies enabling readers to appreciate what the experience of SEND in the early years means for families and professionals and also to learn more about how they might understand and respond appropriately to a child's needs. Understanding Special Educational Needs and Disability in the Early Years will be of interest to students studying Early Years courses, families, SENDCOs, teachers and other staff supporting young children with a range of special educational needs and disabilities.

Special Educational Needs in Practice (Revised Edition) Selena Ledgerton Cooper, 2013-04-22 Special Educational Needs in Practice has been revised so as to consider all professionals involved with working with children with special needs. This edition covers the role and responsibility of the SENCO but also outlines procedures and suggests numerous strategies for everyone working in the field. It includes how to best support children with a wide range of different conditions, how to develop and manage your SEN policy in line with government requirements and how to utilise the resources and support available. There are up to date contacts and pages of helpful advice as well as new information on legislation government guidelines and instruction A comprehensive section on therapies has been added to introduce new ideas and concepts to encourage relaxation creativity concentration and imagination through exercise touch sound and experience
