Anderson-Tempini,2017-10-01 In recent history the arts and sciences have often been considered opposing fields of study but a growing trend in drawing research is beginning to bridge this divide Gemma Anderson's Drawing as a Way of Knowing in Art and Science introduces tested ways in which drawing as a research practice can enhance morphological insight specifically within the natural sciences mathematics and art Inspired and informed by collaboration with contemporary scientists and Goethe's studies of morphology as well as the work of artist Paul Klee this book presents drawing as a means of developing and disseminating knowledge and of understanding and engaging with the diversity of natural and theoretical forms such as animal vegetable mineral and four dimensional shapes Anderson shows that drawing can offer a means of scientific discovery and can be integral to the creation of new knowledge in science as well as in the arts The

Art and science work is experiencing a dramatic rise coincident with burgeoning Science and Technology Studies STS interest in this area Science has played the role of muse for the arts inspiring imaginative reconfigurations of scientific themes and exploring their cultural resonance Conversely the arts are often deployed in the service of science communication illustration and popularization STS scholars have sought to resist the instrumentalization of the arts by the sciences emphasizing studies of theories and practices across disciplines and the distinctive and complementary contributions of each The manifestation of this commonality of creative and epistemic practices is the emergence of Art Science and Technology Studies ASTS as the interdisciplinary exploration of art science This handbook defines the modes practices crucial literature and research interests of this emerging field It explores the questions methodologies and theoretical implications of scholarship and practice that arise at the intersection of art and STS Further ASTS demonstrates how the arts are intervening in STS Drawing on methods and concepts derived from STS and allied fields including visual studies performance studies design studies science communication and aesthetics and the knowledge of practicing artists and curators ASTS is predicated on the capacity to see both art and science as constructions of human knowledge making Accordingly it posits a new analytical vernacular enabling new ways of seeing understanding and thinking critically about the world This handbook provides scholars and practitioners already familiar with the themes and tensions of art science with a means of connecting across disciplines It proposes organizing principles for thinking about art science across the sciences social sciences humanities and arts Encounters with art and science become meaningful in relation to practices and materials manifest as perceptual habits background knowledge and cultural norms As the chapters in this handbook demonstrate a variety of STS tools can be brought to bear on art science so that systematic research can be conducted on this unique set of

 last two decades multiple initiatives of transdisciplinary collaboration across art science and technology have seen the light of day Why by whom and under what circumstances are such initiatives promoted What does their experimental character look like and what can be learned epistemologically and institutionally from probing the multiple practices of art science at work In answer to the questions raised Practicing Art Science contrasts topical positions and insightful case studies ranging from the detailed investigation of art at the nanoscale to the material analysis of Leonardo's Mona Lisa and its cracked smile In so doing this volume brings to bear the practice turn in science and technology studies on the empirical investigation of multifaceted experimentation across contemporary art science and technology in situ Against the background of current discourse on artistic research the introduction not only explains the particular relevance of the practice turn in STS to tackle the interdisciplinary task at hand but offers also a timely survey of varying strands of artistic experimentation In bringing together ground breaking studies from internationally renowned scholars and upcoming researchers in sociology art theory and artistic practice as well as history and philosophy of science Practicing Art Science will be essential reading for practitioners and professionals in said fields as well as postgraduate students and representatives of higher education and
