Swanson,2025-09-22 Amy Swanson s Dancing Opacity chronicles the ways in which contemporary dancers in Senegal navigate the global contemporary dance circuit while challenging heteropatriarchal ideologies at home A longstanding hub of African performing arts Senegal was at the forefront of the explosion of contemporary dance across the continent at the turn of the twenty first century Drawing on ethnographic and historical research Swanson demonstrates how Senegalese choreographers and dancers contend with entrenched racialized prejudices about Africa outside the continent while pushing back against repressive regulations of gender and sexuality within Senegal Swanson employs the concept of opacity defined as a refusal to adhere to the colonial logic of transparency for dominant gazes and argues that artists create work with multiple layers of meaning that are not meant to be immediately transparent to all viewers By doing so these artists evade cultural norms that govern gender and sexual expression in Senegal while challenging their international audiences to expand their perceptions of African dance Dancing Opacity highlights the artists accounts of their pedagogies performances aesthetics and lived realities as well as Africanist conceptions of gender sexuality and queerness that have yet to be applied to contemporary dance French XX Bibliography Susquehanna University Press,1991-09 This series of bibliographical references is one of the most important tools for research in modern and contemporary French literature No other bibliography represents the scholarly activities and publications of these fields as completely A First French Reading Book William Smith,1878 The French Class 1 Romain Rannou, The French Class 1 is the first book in our educational series designed to introduce beginners to the French language through real life situations and everyday dialogues This book strikes a balance between thorough language instruction and an engaging approachable style It s carefully structured to help learners build a strong foundation and start using French with confidence You ll focus on practical skills like using basic verbs in the present tense describing simple actions talking about places and ongoing activities and asking for the time These essentials will help you handle everyday interactions from ordering in a caf to asking for directions or having a basic conversation with locals More than just a language guide The French Class 1 immerses learners in French culture making the experience even more rewarding
