

Structured Clinical Interview for the DSM-IV Axis I Disorders (SCID PTSD Module)

First, MB, Spitzer, RL, Gibbon, M. & Williams, JB, 1996.

Description

The Structured Clinical Interview for DSM-IV Axis I Disorders (SCID-I) is a semistructured interview for making the major DSM-IV Axis I diagnoses. The instrument is designed to be administered by a clinician or trained mental health professional. Ideally, this will be someone who has had experience performing unstructured diagnostic evaluations. However, for the purposes of some research studies, non-clinician research assistants who have extensive experience with the study population in question have been trained to use the SCID. The less clinical experience the potential interviewer has had, the more training is required.

The SCID is broken down into separate modules corresponding to categories of diagnoses. Most sections begin with an entry question that would allow the interviewer to "skip" the associated questions if not met. For all diagnoses symptoms are coded as present, subthreshold, or absent. A diagnosis of PTSD is made following the PTSD diagnostic algorithm.

Question B1
