Struggles For Subjectivity Identity Action And Youth Experience:

Struggles for Subjectivity Kevin McDonald, 1999-10-28 This book explores the relationship between new experiences of selfhood and new patterns of social life. It does so through an encounter with young people who confront urgent social and cultural transformations whose experience of selfhood is unclear, often shaped by social forces that while powerful appear difficult if not impossible to name. These young people live in a world where institutions are weakening and identities fragmenting where socialization into roles is being replaced by new imperatives of communication and self-esteem. Their world is shaped by new forms of freedom but also by new forms of social polarization and conflict. More than other social groups, young people confront the imperative of locating a sense of self and subjectivity and this book is an account of this struggle in a context of profound social and cultural change. The author draws on the experience of a diverse group of young people: graffiti artists, sufferers of anorexia, the unemployed, all from a broad range of educational and cultural backgrounds. This book renews hands-on fieldwork in the Chicago School tradition; it is one where we meet real people confronting real social situations while its research agenda is posited within the new French sociology of experience. Struggles for Subjectivity is not only about young people; it explores forms of crisis and struggle increasingly evident in advanced societies.

Struggles for Subjectivity Kevin McDonald, 1999-10-28 This book first published in 2000 examines the urgent social and cultural questions faced by young people. The Sociology of Central Asian Youth Mohd. Aslam Bhat, 2018-04-17 At the onset of the twenty-first century, youth studies emerged as a distinct field of inquiry. Discourses and debates in the field have since become more sophisticated and the spectrum of analysis has likewise broadened. However, it is striking to note how little reference is made to young people of peripheral regions like Central Asia. The Sociology of Central Asian Youth seeks to critically broaden the discussion on youth transitions discourse by moving beyond the geographical terrain of North America, Britain, Australia, and Western Europe. The work establishes an in-depth understanding of young Central Asians with a special focus on those in Uzbekistan. This is accomplished through the explanatory powers of the various forms of sociological theory and specifically by pursuing an ambitious aim to introduce the classic sociological debate about the relationship between structure and agency in social behaviour into the study of modern Central Asia. Presenting the experiences of youth against the backdrop of contemporary socio-economic and cultural changes in the post-Soviet space, this empirical monograph will appeal to postgraduate students and post-doctoral researchers interested in fields such as Youth Studies, Central Asian Studies, Social Anthropology, Cultural Studies, and Sociology. Youth, Space and Time, 2016-06-27 This book engages with the experience of space and time in youth cultures across the world. Putting together contemporary case studies on young transnationalists, young glocals, and young protesters in cities on the five continents, it analyzes new agoras and chronotopes in global cities. It is based on a selection of papers first presented to the International Sociological Association (ISA) Research Committee 34 session on Youth Cultures, Space and Time that took place during the ISA World Congresses of Sociology in

Gothenburg Sweden 2010 and in Yokohama Japan 2014 The value of this volume for youth researchers worldwide is twofold Firstly the chapters exemplify innovative approaches to understanding the fluid and dynamic urban space time dimension in which young people s cultural and bodily practices are located Secondly the volume offers a transnational perspective Chapter contributors come from countries across the world and give account of very diverse youth culture phenomena They represent both established researchers and new voices in youth research Contributors are scar Aguilera Ruiz Ilenya Camozzi Carles Feixa Vitor S rgio Ferreira Liliana Galindo Ram rez Elham Golpoush Nezhad Leila Jeol s Jeffrey J Juris Hagen Kordes Sofia Laine Carmen Leccardi Pam Nilan Jordi Nofre Ndukaeze Nwabueze Luca Queirolo Palmas Yannis Pechtelidis Geoffrey Pleyers Jos S nchez Garc a Mahmood Shahabi Youth Space and Time is now available in paperback for individual customers

The Emotions of Protest James M. Jasper, 2018-05-24 In Donald Trump's America protesting has roared back into fashion The Women's March held the day after Trump's inauguration may have been the largest in American history and resonated around the world Between Trump's tweets and the march's popularity it is clear that displays of anger dominate American politics once again There is an extensive body of research on protest but the focus has mostly been on the calculating brain a byproduct of structuralism and cognitive studies and less on the feeling brain James M Jasper's work changes that as he pushes the boundaries of our present understanding of the social world In The Emotions of Protest Jasper lays out his argument showing that it is impossible to separate cognition and emotion At a minimum he says we cannot understand the Tea Party or Occupy Wall Street or pro and anti Trump rallies without first studying the fears and anger moral outrage and patterns of hate and love that their members feel This is a book centered on protest but Jasper also points toward broader paths of inquiry that have the power to transform the way social scientists picture social life and action Through emotions he says we are embedded in a variety of environmental bodily social moral and temporal contexts as we feel our way both consciously and unconsciously toward some things and away from others Politics and collective action have always been a kind of laboratory for working out models of human action more generally and emotions are no exception Both hearts and minds rely on the same feelings racing through our central nervous systems Protestors have emotions like everyone else but theirs are thinking hearts not bleeding hearts Brains can feel and hearts can think
