Jones, M. Christopher Brown II, Kassie Freeman, 2004-03-30 Black colleges are central to the delivery of higher education Notwithstanding there is scant treatment of these key institutions in the research literature There is a need for a comprehensive and cogent understanding of the primary characteristics of the policies and practices endemic to black colleges This book provides the scholarly basis requisite to organize give meaning to and shape the analyses and applications of policy and practice within the black college The collected chapters respond to the paucity of research literature addressing these institutions In each chapter the authors acknowledge the specific characteristics of black colleges that make them unique Understanding the fundamental characteristics that shape black colleges is critical to gaining a comprehensive understanding of higher education at large The policy and praxis challenges exhibited at black colleges serve as exemplars to how all colleges perform their respective functions in society Black colleges serve as testimonies to the transformative power of adversity and beacons of possibility in and era of retrenchment and ambiguity These roles call on black colleges to aid and assist in creating an opportunity for educational change The Black/white Colleges Carole A. Ebony, 1983-10 EBONY is the flagship magazine of Johnson Publishing Founded in 1945 by John H Johnson it still maintains the highest global circulation of any African American focused magazine Five Communities: Their Search for Equal Education United States Commission on Civil Rights, 1972 Other People's Children Deborah Yaffe, 2007-11-15 In 1981 when Raymond Abbott was a twelve year old sixth grader in Camden New Jersey poor city school districts like his spent 25 percent less per student than the state s wealthy suburbs did That year Abbott became the lead plaintiff in a landmark class action lawsuit demanding that the state provide equal funding for rich and poor schools Over the next twenty five years as the non profit law firm representing the plaintiffs won ruling after ruling from the New Jersey Supreme Court Abbott dropped out of school fought a cocaine addiction and spent time in prison before turning his life around Raymond Abbott's is just one of the many human stories that have too often been forgotten in the policy battles New Jersey has waged for two generations over equal funding for rich and poor schools. Other People's Children, the first book to tell the story of this decades-long school funding battle, interweaves the public story, an account of legal and political wrangling over laws and money, with the private stories of the inner-city children who were named plaintiffs in the state's two school funding lawsuits, Robinson v. Cahill and Abbott v. Burke. Although these cases have shaped New Jersey's fiscal and political landscape since the 1970s, most recently in legislative arguments over tax reform, the debate has often been too abstract and technical for most citizens to understand. Written in an accessible style and based on dozens of interviews with lawyers, politicians, and the plaintiffs themselves, Other People's Children crystallizes the arguments and clarifies the issues for general readers. Beyond its implications for New Jersey, this book is an important contribution to the conversations taking place in all states about the nation's responsibility for its poor and the role of public schools in providing equal opportunities and promising upward mobility for hard-working citizens regardless of race or class. Other People's Children Joanna Trollope, 1999 When Josie Carver marries Matthew Mitchell, it is the second marriage for them both. Each has children from their former marriages, and the formation of the new step-family causes much pain and divided loyalties. All the members must overcome difficulties and grow through change in order to affirm their new family ties. Resources in Education, 1991-11

Encyclopedia of African American Education Kofi Lomotey, 2010 The Encyclopedia of African American Education covers educational institutions at every level from preschool through graduate and professional training, with special attention to historically black and predominantly black colleges and universities. Other entries cover individuals, organizations, associations, and publications that have had a significant impact on African American education. The Encyclopedia also presents information on public policy affecting the education of African Americans, including both court decisions and legislation. It includes a discussion of curriculum, concepts, theories, and alternative models of education and addresses the topics of gender and sexual orientation, religion, and the media. The Encyclopedia also includes a Reader's Guide provided to help readers find entries on related topics. It classifies entries in sixteen categories: Alternative Educational Models, Associations and Organizations, Biographies, Collegiate Education, Curriculum, Economics, Gender, Graduate and Professional Education, Historically Black Colleges and Universities, Legal Cases, Pre-Collegiate Education, Psychology and Human Development, Public Policy, Publications, Religious Institutions, Segregation, Desegregation. Some entries appear in more than one category. This two-volume reference work will be an invaluable resource not only for educators and students but for all readers who seek an understanding of African American education both historically and in the 21st century.
