Techniques of Description Gwyneth Fox, Michael Hoey, John M. Sinclair, 2004-01-14 This book is a tribute to Malcolm Coulthard who has been remarkably active and influential across a wide range of English Language Studies. He is particularly well known for his pioneering work in spoken and written discourse analysis and most recently for his work in forensic linguistics. This collection of specially commissioned state of the art pieces by leading international linguists is dedicated to the man and his achievements and provides a showcase for the most exciting developments in applied discourse studies. All the papers share common assumptions about language study that descriptions should be data based, data tested and replicable. The collection as a whole contains original and important new research on descriptions with intriguing applications to forensic, gender and literary studies.

Spoken and Written Discourse in Online Interactions Maria Grazia Sindoni, 2014-04-24 Winner of the AIA Book Prize for a research monograph in the field of English Language and Linguistics 2016 Common patterns of interactions are altered in the digital world and new patterns of communication have emerged challenging previous notions of what communication actually is in the contemporary age Online configurations of interaction such as video chats blogging and social networking practices demand profound rethinking of the categories of linguistic analysis given the blurring of traditional distinctions between oral and written discourse in digital texts This volume reconsiders underlying linguistic and semiotic frameworks of analysis of spoken and written discourse in the light of the new paradigms of online communication in keeping with a multimodal corpus linguistics theoretical framework Typical modes of online interaction encompass speech writing gesture movement gaze and social distance This is nothing new but here Sindoni asserts that all these modes are integrated in unprecedented ways enacting new interactional patterns and new systems of interpretation among web users These non verbal modes have been sidelined by mainstream linguistics whereas accounting for the complexity of new genres and making sense of their educational impact is high on this volume's agenda Sindoni analyzes other new phenomena ranging from the intimate sphere i.e. video chats personal blogs or journals on social networking websites to the public arena i.e. global scale transmission of information and knowledge in public blogs or media sharing communities shedding light on the rapidly changing global web scenario

Functional Descriptions Ruqaiya Hasan, Carmel Cloran, David G. Butt, 1996-06-28 This volume focuses on the relation between theory and description by examining aspects of transitivity in different languages Transitivity or case grammar to use the popular term has always occupied a centre stage position in linguistics not least because of its supposedly privileged relation to states of affairs in the real world Using a systemic functional perspective the ten papers in this volume make a contribution to this scholarship by focusing on the transitivity patterns in language as the expression of the experiential metafunction Through a study of different languages English Dutch German Finnish Chinese and Pitjantjatjara the contributors provide functional descriptions of the various categories of process their participants and circumstances including phenomena such as di transitivity causativity the get passive etc With the relation between theories and descriptions running through the ten chapters of this volume as sometimes an overt and sometimes a covert theme the chapters point to the nature of the linguistic fact which is linked ineluctably on the one hand to the nature of the theory and on the other to the speakers experience of the world in which they live The majority of papers included in the volume derive from the 19th International Systemic Functional Congress at Macquarie University

Variation and Change in Spoken and Written Discourse Julia Bamford, Silvia Cavalieri, Giuliana Diani, 2013-10-31 This book focuses on aspects of variation and change in language use in spoken and written discourse on the basis of corpus analyses providing new descriptive insights and new methods of utilising small specialized corpora for the description of language variation and change The sixteen contributions included in this volume represent a variety of diverse views and approaches but all share the common goal of throwing light on a crucial dimension of discourse the dialogic interactivity between the spoken and written Their foci range from papers addressing general issues related to corpus analysis of spoken dialogue to papers focusing on specific cases employing a variety of analytical tools including qualitative and quantitative analysis of small and large corpora The present volume constitutes a highly valuable tool for applied linguists and discourse analysts as well as for students instructors and language teachers

Mediated Discourse as Social Interaction Ron Scollon, 2014-06-11 Mediated Discourse as Social Interaction makes an explicit link between media studies and social interactionalist discursive research where previously the two fields of study have been treated as separate disciplines This text presents an integrated theory illustrated by ample concrete examples bringing together the latest research in these two fields It offers a critique to the sender receiver model implicit in media studies and argues for an analysis of media discourse as social interaction on the one hand among journalists and newsmakers as a community of practice and among readers and viewers as a spectating community of practice on the other The book also argues for a coherent and interdiscursive methodology for the ethnographic study of the role of the news media in the social construction of identity and is based on a considerable body of ethnographic and textual analysis of both print and television news media The theory of mediated discourse presented in this volume will be of great interest to advanced undergraduates and postgraduates studying media studies sociology of language discourse analysis interactional sociolinguistics ethnography of communication and applied linguistics It will also be welcomed by scholars and professionals involved in research in these areas
