Technology And The Future Of Europe Competition And The Global Environment In The 1990s:

Technology and the Future of Europe Christopher Freeman, Margaret Sharp, William Walker, 1991 The critical technological issues facing Europe in the 1990s are addressed by the contributors They assess the strengths and weaknesses of European technology and industry in comparison with Japan and the USA and considers the regulatory problems related to market structures and environmental protection De regulation has in fact often led to greater emphasis on agreed rules of the game in such areas as telecommunications and standards The book embodies the results of much recent research at the Science Policy Research Unit The Canadian Defence Industry in the New Global Environment Alistair D. Edgar, David G. Haglund, 1995 The defence industry in Canada is facing serious challenges Declining defence expenditures protectionism in Canada s principal markets political resistance and escalating costs of weapons technology all threaten it The Canadian Defence Industry in the New Global Environment is a thorough examination and assessment of the problems and prospects of the industry given the recent dramatic changes that have transformed the international security environment The

Advanced Materials Revolution and the Japanese System of Innovation Helena M. M. Lastres, 2016-07-27 The book develops the idea that a shift in the techno economic paradigm creates opportunities for the rise of new firms industries and countries to technological leadership making the adoption of an adequate national system of innovation fundamental to success in such changes This task is supported by a case study of how the Japanese System of Innovation has responded to the advanced materials revolution of the last two decades as well as diffusion of the information technology paradigm

Technology, Culture and Competitiveness Christopher Farrands, Michael Talalay, Roger Tooze, 2005-06-29 The first volume in a major new series this book will be an essential read for all those who need to deal with the causes and consequences of rapid technological change in an increasingly globalized world whether they be government policy makers managers of multi national corporations commentators on the international scene or specialists in and students of international politics economics and business studies The authors discuss three related areas How do we think about technology and international relations international political economy How does technology relate to competitiveness How does it influence our culture and how is it influenced by it In what sense is technology a fundamental component of national competitive advantage and what ought national local and corporate policy to be in the light of this What is the relationship between technological innovation and global political and economic change Technology is discussed not just in an instrumental sense as a tool of power and an object of policy but equally in a transcendental sense as a key to shaping and structuring how we understand and interpret reality The final section of the book presents case studies of three core sectors of the world political economy finance aviation and automobiles Technological Innovation, Multinational Corporations and New International Competitiveness, 1995 This book examines those countries of Southern Europe influenced by the phases of European construction and countries of Latin America where the opening up process has changed the traditional role played by multinational corporations Technological Innovations, Multinational Corporations and the New International Competitiveness Jos Molero, 2013-12-19 The aim of this book is to contribute to a better understanding of those intermediate countries with specific reference to two relevant international areas those countries of southern Europe whose dynamic is very much influenced by the phases of European construction and in countries of Latin America where the opening up process has changed the traditional role played by multinational corporations Who's Bashing Whom? Laura D'Andrea Tyson, 1993 Governments around the world This volume answers these questions on the basis of detailed and rigorous case studies of trade disputes between the United States Japan and Europe in aircraft semiconductors supercomputers telecommunications and other electronics products Tyson proposes a cautious activist policy agenda to promote US competitiveness in high technology sectors and to strengthen multilateral rules governing high technology trade The European Economy Christopher M. Dent, 2002-09-11 The shape of the world economy is changing Globalisation and regionalism have led to the development of powerful but interdependent economic blocs Much economic potential has shifted from the Atlantic to the Pacific area In view of this The European Economy argues that economists need a broader worldwide base of information if these processes and their effect on Europe are to be fully understood Topics discussed include Europe's experience of the growing trend of regionalism the single market plans for economic union EU enlargement Europe's triad rivals EU external trade and trade relations technology and innovation environmental issues This fresh approach highlights the issues which will challenge European countries into the twenty first century Japanese Electronics Multinationals and Strategic Trade Policies René Belderbos, 1997 Japanese electronics firms have grown into formidable competitors on world markets but have only expanded seriously their manufacturing presence world wide since 1985 This volume probes the difference of Japanese multinationals and examines how the United States and Europe have responded to the Japanese challenge Belderbos provides original insights into the determinants and effects of the internationalization of Japanese electronics firms and the relationship with trade policy measures in the United States and the European Union European Integration and Global Corporate Strategies François Chesnais, Grazia Letto-Gillies, Roberto Simonetti, 2003-09-02 This innovative book explores the links between the options of world wide globalisation and European integration which are open to today's corporations A European board of contributors highlight whether there are conflicts or unanimity between the two
