The Search for New Governance of Higher Education in Asia K. Mok, 2010-08-16 The present volume sets out in the wider context of globalization to critically examine how selected countries societies in Asia have responded to the growing pressures of globalization for improving university performance in the global market place In order to enhance the global competitiveness of their higher education systems many governments in Asia have started comprehensive reforms and adopted new governance measures to enhance their universities Incorporation and corporatization have been identified as important strategies to restructure and re engineer university governance around the world Contributors in this volume critically examine how the quest for world class university status as a global movement has affected the way their universities are governed Despite the popularity of management reforms and restructuring exercises in line with neoliberalism and managerialism worldwide whether and how these reforms have actually transformed the heart of the public sector is still subject to debate This book offers critical reflections on the governance change taking place in the Asian university systems and examines how far the restructuring of higher education governance through incorporation privatization and corporatization has really transformed the values and practices of those who work in the higher education sector

Constructing the Higher Education Student Rachel Brooks,Achala Gupta,Sazana Jayadeva,Anu Lainio,Predrag Lažetić,2022-06-02 Winner of the 2024 Higher Education Special Interest Group best book award EPDF and EPUB available Open Access under CC BY NC ND licence Amid debates about the future of both higher education and Europeanisation this book is the first full length exploration of how Europe s 35 million students are understood by key social actors across different nations The various chapters compare and contrast conceptualisations in six nations held by policymakers higher education staff media and students themselves With an emphasis on students lived experiences the authors provide new perspectives about how students are understood and the extent to which European higher education is homogenising They explore various prominent constructions of students including as citizens enthusiastic learners future workers and objects of criticism

The Oxford Handbook of Higher Education in the Asia-Pacific Region Devesh Kapur,Lily Kong,Florence Lo,David M. Malone,2023-01-20 Since the turn of the millennium it has become clear that the Asia Pacific Region is economically the fastest growing continent in the world and is likely to remain so for some time despite the setbacks of the COVID 19 pandemic Asia Pacific s share of the world s Gross Domestic Product GDP doubled from 15 per cent to 30 per cent between 1970 and 2017 and is projected to account for half of global GDP by 2050 With South East and South Asia also growing rapidly with over half the world s population and three of the world s five largest economies Asia is soon poised to home half of the world s middle class a class that is both the driver and the product of higher education The quality of a country s system of higher education may be seen both as a gauge of its current level of national development as well as of its future economic prospects It is therefore natural that the putative Asian Century should generate interest in the region s higher education systems which on the one hand share common characteristics a fixation with credentials and engineering high technology especially among male students and business degrees while at the same time are also highly differentiated not only across countries but also within As such a better understanding of higher education achievements failings potential and structural limitations in the Asia Pacific Region is imperative This handbook presents a number of significant country case studies and documents cross cutting trends relating to among other things the trilemma faced by governments juggling competing claims of access accessible cost and quality the balance between teaching and research the links between labour markets demand and higher education supply preferred fields of study and their consequences the rise of the research

Handbook on the Politics of Higher Education Brendan Cantwell,Hamish Coate,Roger King,2018 Understanding the politics of Higher Education is becoming more important as the sector is increasingly recognised as a vital source of innovation skills economic prosperity and personal wellbeing Yet key political differences remain over such issues as who should pay for higher education how should it be accountable and how we measure its quality and productivity Particularly are states or markets the key in helping to address such matters The Handbook provides framing perspectives and perspectives chapters on funding governance and regulation and pieces on the political economy of higher education and on the increased role of external stakeholders and indicators Resources in Education ,1991-10 The Statesman's Year-book ,1869

China in the Global South Theodor Tudoroiu,Anna Kuteleva,2022-04-23 This book scrutinizes the frequently ignored agency of Global South sub national actors in their interactions with China using a multidisciplinary approach and eleven case studies Contributors examine China s presence in the Global South on a country by country basis analyzing how various non state and sub state actors are responding to the rise of China and whether they are attracted by the cooperation models that China proposes or deterred by its new assertiveness Contributions cover diverse and heterogeneous geographies of the Global South ranging from Papua New Guinea to Argentina and from Madagascar to the Russian Far East Examining such diverse cases contributors focus on two interrelated questions What is the actual economic political and social impact of China s growing presence in the Global South And critically how do the citizens of the Global South understand and interpret China s rise Taken together the case studies develop a comprehensive picture of a complex and sometimes problematic process of China s inclusion into the economic social and political realities of the Global South This book identifies and fills the gaps in the existing literature on China s rise by offering a nuanced perspective on China s relations with the countries of the Global South that captures such variables as social context intersubjective meanings and identities By focusing China s relations with the Global South it also provides an important addition to the literature on international politics of development and China s role in the transformation of the South South cooperation UNITA, Identity of a Free Angola União Nacional para a Independência Total de Angola,1985 Parliamentary Debates India. Parliament. Rajya Sabha,1952 The Politics of the Sustainable Development Goals Magdalena Bexell,Kristina Jönsson,2021-06-09 This book draws attention to political aspects of sustainable development goal setting exploring the Sustainable Development Goals SDGs at the global national nexus during their first five years After broad global deliberation and political negotiations the 2030 Agenda and its SDGs were adopted in the United Nations UN General Assembly in 2015 and by now many countries have political structures in place for working towards their realisation This book explores three concepts to call attention to the political qualities of processes related to the SDGs legitimacy responsibility and accountability Legitimacy is required to obtain broad political ownership for policy goals in order for them to become effective in addressing cross border sustainability challenges Responsibility needs to be clearly distributed among political institutions if a long term set of broad goals such as the SDGs are to be realised Accountability to the public is the retrospective mirror of political responsibility The Politics of the Sustainable Development Goals contributes new knowledge on political processes at the nexus of global and national levels focussing on three countries at different levels of socio economic development and democratisation namely Ghana Tanzania and Sweden These countries illustrate a variety of challenges related to the realisation of the SDGs This book will be of great interest to students and scholars of sustainable development international organisations and global politics
