Taking On The Local Color:

Games of Inheritance Yitzhak Lewis, 2025-05-13 Games of Inheritance explores the thought of Argentine author and public intellectual Jorge Luis Borges 1899 1986 on questions of authorship and literary tradition The book focuses on Borges's engagement with Jewish literary and intellectual traditions highlighting the role of this engagement in developing and expressing his views on these questions The book argues that the primary relevance of Borges's persistent reference to the Judaic is not for understanding his attitude toward Jews and Judaism but for understanding his position in contemporary Argentinian debates about nationalism and literature empire and postcolonialism and populism and aesthetics By broadening the frame of Borges and the Judaic this book shifts the scholarly focus to the poetic utility of Borges's engagement with Jewish literary and intellectual traditions This allows a better understanding of the nuance of his views on the issues that most animate his oeuvre authorship and writing literature and tradition

Computer Vision - ECCV 2004 Tomas Pajdla, Jiri Matas, 2004-05-10 Welcome to the proceedings of the 8th European Conference on Computer vision Following a very successful ECCV 2002 the response to our call for papers was almost equally strong 555 papers were submitted We accepted 41 papers for oral and 149 papers for poster presentation Several innovations were introduced into the review process First the number of program committee members was increased to reduce their review load We managed to assign to program committee members no more than 12 papers Second we adopted a paper ranking system Program committee members were asked to rank all the papers assigned to them even those that were reviewed by additional reviewers Third we allowed authors to respond to the reviews consolidated in a discussion involving the area chair and the reviewers Fourth their reports their reviews and their responses were made available to the authors as well as to the program committee members Our aim was to provide the authors with maximal feedback and to let the program committee members know how authors reacted to their reviews and how their reviews were or were not reflected in the final decision Finally we reduced the length of reviewed papers from 15 to 12 pages The preparation of ECCV 2004 went smoothly thanks to the efforts of the organizing committee the area chairs the program committee and the reviewers We are indebted to Anders Heyden Mads Nielsen and Henrik J Nielsen for passing on ECCV traditions and to Dominique Asselineau from ENST TSI who kindly provided his GestRFIA conference software We thank Jan Olof Eklundh and Andrew Zisserman for encouraging us to organize ECCV 2004 in Prague

The Cambridge Introduction to American Literary Realism Phillip J. Barrish, 2011-10-06 Between the Civil War and the First World War realism was the most prominent form of American fiction Realist writers of the period include some of America's greatest such as Henry James Edith Wharton and Mark Twain but also many lesser known writers whose work still speaks to us today for instance Charles Chesnutt Zitkala and Sarah Orne Jewett Emphasizing realism's historical context this introduction traces the genre's relationship with powerful often violent social conflicts involving race gender class and national origin It also examines how the realist style was created the necessarily ambiguous relationship between realism produced on the page and reality outside the book and the different often contradictory forms realism took in literary works by different authors The most accessible yet sophisticated account of American literary realism currently available this volume will be of great value to students teachers and readers of the American novel

The Supernatural in Short Fiction of the Americas Dana Del George,2001-08-30 The continuing cultural encounters of the Americas between European and indigenous cultures and between scientific materialism and premodern supernaturalism have originated new narrative forms While supernatural short fiction of the Americas belongs to the broad category of the fantastic which is generally approached synchronically reading audiences of the past 200 years have shifted their beliefs about the supernatural several times While nineteenth century readers understood science as real and the supernatural as imaginary modern audiences recognize both as inaccurate a shift which allows authors of supernatural fiction to celebrate premodern indigenous beliefs which were once disdained by a materialist culture This book situates supernatural short fiction of the Americas within the changing cultural and epistemological contexts of the last 200 years and explores how authors have drawn upon a wealth of indigenous traditions The book begins with a discussion of theories of the supernatural and the fantastic It then looks at some of the first encounters of European and Native American supernatural beliefs and points to the common elements of these early traditions The volume next focuses on American literature of the nineteenth century which has a complex fusion of materialist biases and metaphysical fascinations The final portion of the book gives greater attention to Spanish American literature and the blending of the supernatural with attitudes of nostalgia and uncertainty

Regions of Identity ,1999-03 Examining turn of the century American women s fiction the author argues that this writing played a crucial role in the production of a national fantasy of a unified American identity in the face of the racial regional ethnic and sexual divisions of the period Contributing to New Americanist perspectives of nation formation the book shows that these writers are central to American literary discourses for reconfiguring the relationship among constituent regions in order to reconfigure the nation itself Analyzing fiction by

Sarah Orne Jewett Florence Converse Pauline Hopkins Mar a Amparo Ruiz de Burton Kate Chopin and Sui Sin Far the book foregrounds the ways each writer s own location on the grid of American identities shapes her attempt to forge an inclusive narrative of America This disparate group of writers Northerners Southerners Californios African Americans Chinese Americans Anglo Americans heterosexuals and lesbians reflects the widespread nature of concerns over national identity and the importance of regions to representations of that identity The author argues that femininity as a politicized cultural construct is basic to each of these author s attempts to recast America because each understands the link between true womanhood and the longstanding equation of New England with the nation But such attempts to mobilize the naturalized feminine to stabilize a fractured and exclusionary American identity inevitably reveal the fissures that undermine the universality of both categories The book thus participates in several larger and ongoing conversations within American studies and feminist literary and genre criticism the reassessment of regional and minor fiction in relation to national identity the critique of the politics of genre construction the uses and limits of identity politics and the connections among all these issues The Chap-book Herbert Stuart Stone,1897 The Editor; the Journal of Information for Literary Workers

,1917 American Women Short Story Writers Julie Brown,2014-05-01 This collection of original and classic essays examines the contributions that female authors have made to the short story The introductory chapter discusses why genre critics have ignored works by women and why feminist scholars have ignored the short story genre Subsequent chapters discuss early stories by such authors as Lydia Maria Child and Rose Terry Cooke Others are devoted to the influences race class sexual orientation education that have shaped women s short fiction through the years Women s special stylistic formal and thematic concerns are also discussed in this study The final essay addresses the ways our contemporary creative writing classes are stifling the voices of emerging young female authors The collection includes an extensive five part bibliography

Advances in Social and Occupational Ergonomics Richard H.M.

Goossens, Atsuo Murata, 2019-06-06 This book reports on cutting edge research on social and occupational ergonomics, presenting innovative contributions to the optimization of sociotechnical management systems related to organizational policy and logistical issues. It discusses timely topics related to communication, crew resource management, work design, participatory design, as well as teamwork, community ergonomics, cooperative work, and warning systems, and explores new work paradigms, organizational cultures, virtual organizations, telework, and quality management. The book also describes pioneering infrastructures implemented for different purposes, such as urban health and enterprise, and examines the changing role of automated systems offering innovative solutions that address the needs of particular populations. Based on the AHFE 2019 International Conference on Social and Occupational Ergonomics held on July 24-28, 2019, Washington D.C., USA, the book provides readers with a comprehensive overview of the current challenges in both organizational and occupational ergonomics, highlighting key connections between them and underlining the importance of emotional factors in influencing human performance.

An Introduction to Literary Geography Daxing Zeng,2025-09-26 This book the first introductory work of Literary Geography Studies in China justifies literary geography as a discipline running in parallel with literary theory literary criticism and literary history Zeng argues that Literary Geography Studies is a subdiscipline of literary studies rather than an interdisciplinary field or a subfield of geography Zeng believes that in Literary Geography Studies the theories and methodologies of geography are adopted to solve problems in literary studies rather than problems in geography The book has for the first time set up a theoretical framework for Literary Geography Studies as a secondary discipline It has consequently structured the disciplinary knowledge covering topics such as the research object research methodology geographical influence upon literary production geographical distribution of writers geographical space in literary works literary landscapes literary regionality and critical literary geography This framework will be an invaluable tool to future scholars of Literary Geography Studies as it provides a systematic and detailed overview of the field something that is currently lacking in English language publications In addition the book derives its philosophy from ancient Chinese culture and establishes an innovative theoretical framework for Literary Geography Studies based on abundant examples from ancient Chinese literature thus making a significant contribution to the existing literary studies by increasing a geo spatial understanding of ancient Chinese literature

It Takes a Storyteller to Know a Storyteller Julia Nikiel, 2023-01-23 If it is indeed impossible to think beyond capitalism then capital has become reality If global capitalism organizes reality through the stories it weaves capital is as strong as its fictions If capital is reality and capital is fiction then reality as such is fiction as well It is by reading this fiction for both patterns and inconsistencies that contemporary individuals can challenge global capital and unveil its hypocrisies and it is by fighting fiction with fiction i.e. projecting new realities such as those in the post millennial novels by William Gibson Douglas Coupland and Dave Eggers that people can imagine the world anew
