Taliban Islam Oil The New Great Game:

Taliban Ahmed Rashid, 2008 Since 9 11 the Taliban have dominated headlines around the world The Taliban government allied to Osama Bin Laden collapsed dramatically following the Anglo American invasion of 2001 Since then however the movement has showed an unexpected ability to evolve and has drawn the world s only superpower into a protracted and seemingly unwinnable conflict in this strategically vital country Now just as in the 1980s the Taliban s struggle against a foreign power has drawn the support and interest of radicals across the Islamic world particularly in neighbouring Pakistan Updated to cover the post 2001 period this latest edition describes the group s development from civil war faction to government to a mountain based guerrilla force and its effect on the balance of power in Central Asia As Rashid shows Afghanistan is at the centre of a new Great Game Western oil companies Pakistani Saudi and Iranian intelligence officials and CIA operatives jostle with the Taliban for the prize access to new oil fields control of the transit routes for pipelines and of course control of the narcotics trade Once again the Taliban is a vital player in a key region at a pivotal time BOOK JACKET

The Rational Believer Masooda Bano, 2012-03-15 Islamic schools or madrasas have been accused of radicalizing Muslims and participating either actively or passively in terrorist networks since the events of 9 11 In Pakistan the 2007 siege by government forces of Islamabad s Red Mosque and its madrasa complex whose imam and students staged an armed resistance against the state for its support of the war on terror reinforced concerns about madrasas role in regional and global jihad By 2006 madrasas registered with Pakistan s five regulatory boards for religious schools enrolled over one million male and 200 000 female students In The Rational Believer Masooda Bano draws on rich interview ethnographic and survey data as well as fieldwork conducted in madrasas throughout the country to explore the network of Pakistani madrasas She maps the choices and decisions confronted by students teachers parents and clerics and explains why available choices make participation in jihad appear at times a viable course of action Bano s work shows that beliefs are rational and that religious believers look to maximize utility in ways not captured by classical rational choice She applies analytical tools from the New Institutional Economics to explain apparent contradictions in the madrasa system for example how thousands of young Pakistani women now demand the national adoption of traditional sharia law despite its highly restrictive limits on female agency and do so from their location in Islamic schools for girls that were founded only a generation ago

Afghanistan's Political Stability Ahmad Shaye Qassem,2016-03-16 Political stability has been a central theme of policy for all governments and political systems in the history of modern Afghanistan Since its inception in the mid nineteenth century the country experimented with a diverse succession of political systems and state ideologies matched by few other countries political histories In the span of less than nine decades since independence in 1919 the Afghan state was substantially restructured at least a dozen times This volume looks at Afghanistan s historic relations with Central and South Asia ethno nationalism and development Soviet occupation and transformation of relations with Pakistan stability of the Islamic State and regional cooperation It examines how Afghanistan s different political systems reformed and readjusted policies to make them more conducive to political stability Yet political stability at best has remained a dream unrealized in Afghanistan

Al-Qaida in Afghanistan Anne Stenersen,2017-07-26 Since 9 11 al Qaida has become one of the most infamous and widely discussed terrorist organizations in the world with affiliates spread across the globe However little known are the group s activities within Afghanistan itself something which Anne Stenersen examines in this book Using an array of unique primary sources she presents an alternative narrative of al Qaida s goals and strategies prior to 9 11 She argues that al Qaida s actions were not just an ideological expression of religious fanaticism and violent anti Americanism but that they were actually far more practical and organised with a more revolutionary and Middle Eastern focused agenda than previously thought Through Stenersen s analysis we see how al Qaida employed a dual strategy with a small section focused on staging international terrorist attacks but at the same time a larger part dedicated to building a resilient and cohesive organization that would ultimately serve as a vanguard for future Islamist revolutions

Living Islam Magnus Marsden, 2005-12-19 Popular representations of Pakistan's North West Frontier have long featured simplistic images of tribal blood feuds fanatical religion and the seclusion of women The rise to power of the radical Taliban regime in neighbouring Afghanistan enhanced the region's reputation as a place of anti Western militancy Magnus Marsden is an anthropologist who has immersed himself in the lives of the Frontier's villagers for more than ten years His evocative study of the Chitral region challenges all these stereotypes Through an exploration of the everyday experiences of both men and women he shows that the life of a good Muslim in Chitral is above all a mindful life enhanced by the creative force of poetry dancing and critical debate Challenging much that has been assumed about the
