the two faiths have some surprising and fascinating things in common to help explain those commonalities Mart De Haan traveled to Jerusalem to visit some key first century locations and discuss with three Hebrew Christians the Jewish roots of Christianity As you and your friends view this video and discuss the Bible teaching included you will begin to realize how closely associated Christian faith and practice are to Jewish faith and practice You will gain a new appreciation for first century Jews who accepted Jesus as Messiah You ll never look at Judaism or even some modern day Christian practices the same way again after you ve heard Mart De Haan and his friends discuss Jewish Roots the Heritage of the Christian Faith

Book jacket Biblical Faith and Natural Theology James Barr,1993-01-21 Do people know about God just by being human beings Or do they need special divine assistance through the Bible and the church Natural Theology is the idea that human beings by nature that is just through being human know something of God or that perhaps they gain such knowledge from observing the world we live in Its opposite is revealed theology or the knowledge of God communicated only through special channels through Jesus Christ through the Bible through the church Natural theology was long accepted as a basic ingredient in all theology but in the twentieth century it was rejected by important theologians especially Karl Barth His views denied all natural theology and placed greater emphasis on the Bible But what if the Bible itself uses depends on and supports natural theology In this book Professor Barr pursues these questions within the Bible itself and within the history of ideas earlier and more recent and he looks at their implications for religion and theology in the future Faith Comes from
