Taking Care Monitoring Power Dynamics And Relational Boundaries In Pastoral Care And Counseling

David G. Benner, Gary W. Moon

Taking Care Monitoring Power Dynamics And Relational Boundaries In Pastoral Care And Counseling:

Taking Care Carrie Doehring, 1995 Clarifies how to distinguish between healthy therapeutic relationships and ones which have become abusive Carrie Doehring propose an approach to pastoral counseling that focuses on taking care of ourselves and those we minister to by monitoring power dynamics and relational boundaries in our relationships When we monitor the power struggles within us between us in our communities and cultures and the ways in which we are pulled to disengagement and merger we will be able to prevent abuse and neglect We will also be more likely to experience empowering empathic moments in our relationships and use these to get our bearings Taking care by monitoring the interaction of power dynamics and relational boundaries is a theological task It is one way of seeing our potential for sin and our capacity for violence When empowering empathic moments come we glimpse who God is both the immanent God whose grace shines through our uniqueness and the uniqueness of our relationships and the transcendent God who goes far beyond who we are Doehring uses case studies from the fiction of John Updike Sinclair Ross Toni Morrison Iris Murdoch and Margaret Atwood to reflect on power dynamics and relational boundaries in cases of clergy sexual misconduct racism and the dilemmas of faith in a post modern context

African American Pastoral Care and Counseling: Edward P. Wimberly, 2006-05-01 Ed Wimberly's important book links politics and pastoral care two practices I haven't seen connected very often Wimberly's book comes at a critical time in the life of theological education and religious practice in America There is a raging debate afoot within black church culture about the appropriate balance of personal and political construal of the Christian message This book could advance a much needed approach to a complicated conversation about the kind of pastoral care best suited for people who have known racism sexism poverty and religious abuse Wimberly's dedication warmth intelligence and charisma will transform this book into a tool for opening closed minds and closing open arguments that do not liberate Robert M Franklin Presidential Distinguished Professor of Social Ethics Candler School of Theology Emory University It is because pastoral care and counseling facilitate person agency and efficacy personal social and political empowerment and transformation that African American pastoral care and counseling are inherently political processes contends Edward Wimberly In African American Pastoral Care and Counseling The Politics of Oppression and Empowerment Wimberly outlines the theological anthropology that undergirds the practices of care and the practices of self as holistic processes Wimberly shows those who engage in pastoral counseling with African Americans how to navigate around the negative self images identities and stories into which they have been recruited in order to liberate themselves to discern how to best make use of their personal and political agency and efficacy

Spiritual Direction and the Care of Souls David G. Benner, Gary W. Moon, 2025-06-23 In recent years many Christian clergy laity and mental health professionals have rediscovered the ancient practices of spiritual direction Seen as a refreshing alternative to the techniques and limitations of modern psychology such practices offer new insights for pastoral care But many remain unclear on what spiritual direction is and whether its methods are applicable to their own clients and parishioners Spiritual direction is a practice of Christian soul care that is found most notably in the Catholic Orthodox and Episcopal traditions but is also present in Wesleyan Holiness Pentecostal charismatic social justice and Reformed communities Predating modern counseling and psychotherapy movements but sharing key principles and insights for spiritual formation spiritual direction offers significant resources for today's pastors counselors therapists chaplains and other caregivers attuned to the work of God in people's lives In this landmark volume editors Gary W Moon and David G Benner along with a team of expert contributors provide a comprehensive survey of spiritual direction in its myriad Christian forms Specific chapters offer careful historical perspective and contemporary analysis of how Christians from various backgrounds have practiced spiritual direction with particular attention to each tradition's definition of spiritual direction the process of authentic transformation the role of the spiritual director indicators of mature spirituality and other aspects of the spiritual direction process Chapters also provide psychological and clinical insight into how spiritual direction is similar to different from and can be integrated with psychotherapy and pastoral counseling to help others experience spiritual transformation and union with God

The Practice of Pastoral Care Carrie Doehring, 2006-01-01 Drawing on psychological theological and cultural studies on suffering Carrie Doehring encourages counselors to view their ministry through trifocal lenses and include approaches that are premodern apprehending God through religious rituals modern consulting rational and empirical sources and postmodern acknowledging the contextual nature of knowledge Utilizing strategies from all three perspectives Doehring describes the basic ingredients of a caregiving relationship shows how to use the caregiver's life experience as a source of authority and demonstrates how to develop the skill of listening and establish the actual relationship She then explains the steps of psychological assessment systemic assessment and theological reflection and finally she delineates the basic steps for plans of care attending to the careseeker's safety building trust mourning losses and reconnecting with the ordinariness of life

Render Unto God James Newton Poling, 2012-03-01 What marks principles and values from our study of Jesus can guide our reflections about the church and its witness in a world of economic injustice What kinds of principles ought to be part of an ecclesiology in a world where family violence is epidemic So asks author James Poling in his exploration of the role of faith and religious practice as a resource for those who are economically vulnerable to domestic violence In this groundbreaking work Poling focuses his research on women and children in working class and poor communities of three cultures analyzing the forces that define and sustain economic vulnerability and detailing how such vulnerability affects the daily lives of people within these communities He looks at how the church can function as a source of healing and empowerment for persons who are trapped by domestic violence and economic vulnerability and develops models for prevention of violence and of practical ministry for pastoral care of the victims and perpetrators Emerging as Affirmative Pastoral Caregivers Beyond Gender Binaries Craig A.

Rubano,2023-11-13 Emerging as Affirmative Pastoral Caregivers Beyond Gender Binaries Gender Creative Promise uniquely brings a gender diverse theological imagination to the field of pastoral theology supplemented by deploying a gender creative interpretative lens on scripture The reader is introduced to an array of persons diverse in their gender variance four continua of gender sex identity expression attraction a gender affirmative psychotherapeutic model as a template for the field of pastoral theology common resilience strategies that transgender persons employ in the face of cultural oppression and aspersion benefits derived from religious affiliation that can enhance resilience and scripturally based principles for delivering affirmative pastoral caregiving beyond gender binaries The author encourages readers to look within and wrestle with the complexities of their own gendered selves while journeying alongside him to emerge as pastoral change makers in their places of teaching ministry and caregiving Cross Examinations Marit Trelstad, In today's theological landscape the significance of the cross has become strongly affirmed and radically questioned This exciting volume gathers theologians and historians who have thought through these critical and constructive issues Do traditional understandings of the cross valorize suffering or violence Are the older soteriological models which see redemption as a kind of ransom or debt satisfaction fitting for the contemporary worldview Do they produce a piety that acquiesces in needless suffering or does the cross precisely meet the massive suffering and injustice of today's world Following an expert introduction to the issues and options by editor Marit Trelstad each author addresses the Christian symbol of the cross in the context of current theological sociological political or environmental issues Men and Masculinities in Christianity and Judaism Bjorn Krondorfer,2013-02-12 Bjorn Krondorfer one of the leading scholars in this field has collected 35 key texts that have shaped this field within the wider area of the study of gender religion and culture The texts in this critical reader engage actively and critically with the position of men in society and church men's privileged relation to the sacred and to religious authority the ideals of masculinity as engendered by religious discourse and alternative trajectories of being in the world whether spiritually relationally or sexually Each of the texts is introduced by the editor and accompanied by bibliographies that make this the ideal tool for study From Midterms to Ministry Allan Hugh Cole,2008-07-02 The distinguished contributors to this volume ministers scholars and theological educators share personal reflections on the sometimes difficult transition from being a seminarian to becoming a minister Based on their own life experiences they address the two related but different worlds of theological school and ministry settings each with its own set of expectations values challenges focal points and rewards Contributors Wallace M Alston Jr Ray S Anderson M Craig Barnes Elizabeth F Caldwell Allan Hugh Cole Jr Pamela D Couture Kathy

Hoeft, 2009-01-01 Agency Culture and Human Personhood uses feminist theories process and liberation theologies psychodynamics and the problem of intimate partner violence to develop a pastoral theology of human agency The turn to cultural context for understanding what makes human beings who they are and do the things they do raises significant questions about human agency To what extent is agency the human capacity to act self determined and to what extent is it determined by external factors If we conceive of persons with too little agency we negate the possibility for change but too much agency negates the necessity for resistance movements Hoeft argues that agency arises ambiguously from and is constituted of culture She suggests that such a conception of agency enables the church to foster in victims perpetrators and congregations more resistance to violence and proposes practices of ministry that can do just that The book will challenge deeply ingrained notions of personal responsibility and one's capacity to choose change yet offers concrete proposals for creating a less violent world
