Taking Up Sculpture:

Native American and First Nation Figures in Sculpture Fred F. Poyner IV, 2025-03-28 The art of public structure is nearly as old as society itself and its figurative representations and gaps represent deep wells of insight into culture This book examines sculptors both old and new and how the work of each one has presented Native Americans and First Nations peoples as figurative subjects found throughout the public sculpture of North America over the past 200 years Offering thorough examination of artworks by 50 different sculptors throughout the United States and Canada this book profiles how artists have incorporated either traditional native styles and techniques or European artistic styles and training to create these figurative subjects in wood stone marble bronze and other materials to what degree or not they utilized indigenous models or figures photographs of individuals or other primary sources to create their sculptures how each sculpture relates to its landscape and display location and how each sculptor s own life relates to the works they have created for public viewing Both historical statuary and public sculpture that has distinctive artistic representation or styles are examined Also included are oral history interviews photographs and first hand accounts to help better understand all of these artworks Each of the sculptors profiled here reflects a mixture of gender ethnicity and nationality in their identity and backgrounds as diverse and varied a group as the subjects of their public sculpture

Now You See It Richard Dyer, 2013-11-05 Revised for this second edition Now You See It Richard Dyer s groundbreaking study of films by and about lesbians and gay men now includes an outline of developments in queer cinema since 1990 Placing the book within lesbian and gay film history Dyer examines familiar titles such as Girls in Uniform Un Chant D Amour and Word is Out in their lesbian gay context as well as bringing to light many other forgotten but remarkable films Each film is examined in detail in relation to both film type and tradition and the sexual subculture in which it was made Now featuring a brand new introduction by Juliane Pidduck this will be an excellent aid to cinema and film studies courses

Thinking the Sculpture Garden Penny Florence, 2020-02-20 This innovative book poses two deceptively simple questions what is a sculpture garden and what happens when you give equal weight to the main elements of landscape planting and artwork Its wide ranging frame of reference including the USA Europe and Japan is brought into focus through Tremenhoe Sculpture Garden Cornwall with which the book begins and ends Effectively less than 15 years old and largely the work of one man Tremenhoe affords an opportunity to examine as work in progress the creation of a new kind of sculpture garden Including a historical overview the book traverses multiple ways of seeing and experiencing sculpture gardens culminating in an exploration of their relevance as cultural ecology in the context of globalisation urbanisation and climate change The thinking here is non dualist and broadly aligned with New Materialisms and Material Feminisms to explore our place as humans in the non human world on which we depend Eminent contributors including John Dixon Hunt George Descombes Bernard Lassus and David Leatherbarrow approach these issues through practices and theories of landscape architecture garden and art making history and writing and philosophy Richly illustrated with over 100 images including a colour plate section the book will primarily appeal to those engaged in professional or academic research along with sculpture garden visitors who will find new and surprising ways of experiencing plants and art in natural and urban settings The Overland Monthly, 1873 Matisse Dorothy M. Kosinski, Jay McKean Fisher, Steven A. Nash, Ann Boulton, Henri Matisse, Oliver Shell, Baltimore Museum of Art, Nasher Sculpture Center, 2007-01-01 Contains photographs of sculptures created by Henri Matisse "French Sculpture Following the Franco-Prussian War, 1870?0 " Michael Dorsch, 2017-07-05 French Sculpture Following the Franco Prussian War 1870 80 investigates the role played by the trope of the strong woman fallen man in re establishing morale among the French people following the Franco Prussian War The study explores how certain French sculptors including Falgui Merci Barrias and Rodin presented this recent history of defeat in commemorative monuments that increasingly dominated public space across France during the final decades of the nineteenth century Though it focuses on French nationalism and the commemoration of war or as is the case with the French following the Franco Prussian War the commemoration of defeat this volume also examines shifts in gender roles in the latter half of the nineteenth century and the impact of military defeat on relations between the sexes The book probes the aesthetic discourse of the period concerning the merits of traditional allegorical sculpture versus new fangled realist sculpture in depicting modern life Drawing on extensive archival research Michael Dorsch gives a voice to the sculptures he discusses restoring these often ignored works to their proper place in history Transactions of the Illinois State Horticultural Society Illinois State Horticultural Society, 1911 Transactions of the Illinois State Horticultural Society for the Year ... Illinois State Horticultural Society, 1911 Shaping Our Selves Erik Parens, 2015 When bioethicists debate the ethics of using technologies like surgery and pharmacology to shape our selves they are debating what it means for human beings to flourish They are debating what makes animals like us truly happy and whether the technologies at issue will bring us closer to or farther from such happiness The positions that participants adopt in debates regarding such ancient and fundamental questions are often polarized and cannot help but be deeply personal It is no wonder that these debates are sometimes acrimonious How can critics of and enthusiasts about technological self transformation move forward in the midst of polarizing arguments Based on his experience as a scholar at The Hastings Center the oldest free standing bioethics research institute in the world Erik Parens proposes a habit of thinking which he calls Binocular thinking lets us benefit from the insights that are visible from the stance of the enthusiast who emphasizes that using technology to creatively transform our selves will make us happier and to benefit from the insights that are visible from the stance of the critic who emphasizes that learning to let ourselves be will make us happier Because these debates ultimately entail critics and enthusiasts giving justifications for their own ways of being in the world they entail the exchange of more than just impartial reasons In the throes of our passion to make our case we exaggerate our insights and all too often fall into the conceptual traps that our languages constantly set for us Are human beings by nature creators or creatures Are technologies morally neutral or value laden Is disability a medical or a social phenomenon Indeed are we free or determined Parens explains how participating in these debates helped him articulate a habit of thinking which is better at benefiting from the insights embedded in both poles of those binaries than was the habit of thinking he brought

Placing Aesthetics Robert E. Wood, 2000-03-15 Examining select high points in the speculative tradition from Plato and Aristotle through the Middle Ages and German tradition to Dewey and Heidegger Placing Aesthetics seeks to locate the aesthetic concern within the larger framework of each thinker's philosophy In Professor Robert Wood's study aesthetics is not peripheral but rather central to the speculative tradition and to human existence as such In Dewey's terms aesthetics is experience in its integrity Its personal ground is in the heart which is the dispositional ground formed by genetic cultural and personal historical factors by which we are spontaneously moved and in turn are inclined to move both practically and theoretically in certain directions Prepared for use by the student as well as the philosopher Placing Aesthetics aims to recover the fullness of humanness within a sense of the fullness of encompassing Being It attempts to overcome the splitting of thought even in philosophy into exclusive specializations and the fracturing of life itself into theoretical practical and emotive dimensions

Crucible Charles Emerson, 2019-10-15 The gripping story of the years that ended the Great War and launched Europe and America onto the roller coaster of the twentieth century Crucible is filled with all too human tales of exuberant dreams dark fears and the absurdities of chance In Petrograd a fire is lit The Tsar is packed off to Siberia A rancorous Russian exile returns to proclaim a workers revolution In America black soldiers who have served their country in Europe demand their rights at home An Austrian war veteran trained by the German army to give rousing speeches against the Bolshevik peril begins to rail against the Jews A solar eclipse turns a former patent clerk into a celebrity An American reporter living the high life in Paris searches out a new literary style Lenin and Hitler Josephine Baker and Ernest Hemingway Rosa Luxemburg and Mustafa Kemal these are some of the protagonists in this dramatic panorama of a world in turmoil Revolutions and civil wars erupt across Europe A red scare hits America Women win the vote Marching tunes are syncopated into jazz The real becomes surreal Encompassing both tragedy and humor the celebrated author of 1913 brings immediacy and intimacy to this moment of deep historical transformation that molded the world we would come to inherit

Rodin: A Biography Frederic V. Grunfeld, 2019-08-15 Auguste Rodin 1840 1917 was not only the world's greatest sculptor known for such works as The Thinker The Kiss The Hand of God and dozens of others but also one of the most remarkable personalities of modern times an artist who outraged contemporaries with his disturbingly unfinished monuments a sensualist who shocked France with his scandalous relationships among others with Camille Claudel and a friend to the most gifted writers and artists of his day A consistently absorbing story Mr Grunfeld is primarily concerned with setting out insofar as they can be separated from the art the facts of the sculptor's life and within his chosen limits he has written a rewarding and illuminating book John Gross The New York Times An excellent job will undoubtedly serve as an excellent biography of the artist Benedict Read The New York Times Rodin finally has a biography worthy of his achievements Washington Post Book World Grunfeld's rigorously researched and gracefully written biography of Rodin is by far the best in its field Robert Taylor Boston Globe Rodin's creative life is vividly recaptured by Grunfeld No previous biography has so clearly placed him amid his colleagues and assorted friends Victor Hugo George Bernard Shaw Rainer Maria Rilke Marie Curie James McNeill Whistler Robert Louis Stevenson Isadora Duncan and many others Nor has any placed him in the raking light of his vanity many amours an epic in itself and the sexual instincts inseparable from his work Cleveland Plain Dealer Grunfeld has rescued Rodin from the twin mythic images of heroic possessed demigod or sex obsessed bohemian This remarkably intimate portrait should win awards Publishers Weekly Grunfeld's book shines out It is an excellent general biography seamlessly written and almost unput downable He skilfully covers not only Rodin's personal history but also his work and the world he lived in Benedict Read The Spectator A vibrant biography of the great French sculptor With all the naturalistic detail of Zola and the color of canvases by Monet Grunfeld chronicles Rodin's rocky career That this exhaustive book is never dull is something of a feat Grunfeld's Rodin modeled in high relief against his place and time emerges not so much a statuary monument as a three dimensional man Kirkus Review Well researched A marvelous roster of personalities politicians writers and artists of the time pass through the pages of the book placing Rodin in the mainstream of the cultural life of the Third Republic Gerald M Ackerman Los Angeles Times History of Art José Pijoan Y Soteras,1927 History of Art, Foreword by Robert B. Conversations about Sculpture Richard Serra, Hal Foster, 2018-11-27 The rhythm of the body moving through space has been the motivating source of most of my work Richard Serra Drawn from talks between celebrated artist Richard Serra and acclaimed art historian Hal Foster held over a fifteen year period this volume offers revelations into Serra's prolific six decade career and the ideas that have informed his working practice Conversations about Sculpture is both an intimate look at Serra's life and work with candid reflections on personal moments of discovery and a provocative examination of sculptural form from antiquity to today Serra and Foster explore such subjects as the artist's work in steel mills as a young man the impact of music dance and architecture on his art the importance of materiality and site specificity to his aesthetic the controversies and contradictions his work has faced and his belief in sculpture as experience They also discuss sources of inspiration from Donatello and Brancusi to Japanese gardens and Machu Picchu revealing a history of sculpture across time and culture through the eyes of one of the medium's most brilliant figures Introduced with an insightful preface by Foster this probing dialogue is beautifully illustrated with duotone images that bring to life both Serra's work and his key commitments The International Studio Charles Holme, Guy Eglington, Peyton Boswell, William Bernard McCormick, Henry

James Whigham, 1910 Dissolve into Comprehension Jack Burnham, 2023-08-15 Influential writings by the legendary art critic and theorist Jack Burnham a pioneer in new media systems aesthetics and an early advocate of conceptualism Jack Burnham is one of the few critics and theorists alive today who can claim to have radically altered the way we think about works of art Burnham's use of the term system borrowed from theoretical biology in his 1968 essay System Aesthetics announced the relational character of conceptual art and newer research based projects Trained as an art historian Burnham was also a sculptor His first book Beyond Modern Sculpture 1968 established him as a leading commentator on art and technology A postformalist pioneer an influential figure in new media art history an early champion of conceptual and ecological art and the curator of the first exhibition of digital art Burnham is long overdue for reevaluation This book offers that opportunity by collecting a substantial and varied selection of his hard to find texts some published here for the first time Although Burnham left the art world abruptly in the 1990s his visionary theoretical ideas have only become more relevant in recent years This collection seeks to restore Burnham to his rightful place in art criticism and theory reestablishing his voice as crucial to critical conversations of the period It gathers his early writing on sculpture his essays on systems art and conceptualism his views of the New York art world and his later occult work including an unorthodox interpretation of Marcel Duchamp's work that draws on the Kabbalah
