Militias, States and Violence against Civilians Paul Lorenzo Johnson, William Wittels, 2023-04-21 This book examines the conditions under which the presence and use of militias result in an increase or a decrease in violence against civilians in intra state conflicts. Showcasing the breadth and diversity of modern militias in the context of violence against civilians, the volume addresses the predation and repression that many such groups are infamous for as well as increasingly important efforts by other militias at civilian protection in war torn settings. The chapters examine militias from around the world drawing on both qualitative and quantitative methods as they cover groups as varied as gangs, death squads, grassroots community defense groups, official state militias and party sponsored armies. Groups on the civic vice side, the civic virtue side and the wide and mixed in between space where most cases fall. Taken as a cohesive unit, the work lays the foundation for an encompassing theory and interrogation of the causal chain between militia type and operating context and the levels of violence against civilians. It provides path breaking theory building and empirical scholarship. Policymakers and national security practitioners dealing with issues relating to armed groups will also benefit from the practical issues covered here such as how different forms of sponsorship and training affect militia behavior. This book will be of interest to students of civil wars, political violence, counterinsurgency, civil military relations and security studies in general.

Contemporary law of armed conflict L. C. Green, 1993 International Humanitarian Law Mohammad Naqib Ishan Jan, Abdurashid Lawan Haruna, 2015 This book is written not because of any foreseen break of armed conflict but armed conflict is an inevitable phenomenon in human and international relations since despite the United Nations Charter prohibition on the use of force in international relations war still exists. Hence there is need to have law that regulates conduct in time of armed conflict. International humanitarian law (IHL) being the law of armed conflict has to be disseminated to the entire society through a comprehensive medium that everyone can understand and appreciate.
