The Riviera at War George G. Kundahl, 2017-05-30 During World War II three distinct forces opposed the Allies Germany Italy and Japan Few areas of the world experienced domination by more than a single one of these but southeastern France the region popularly known as the Riviera or Cote d Azur was one Not only did inhabitants suffer through Italian Fascism and German Nazism but also under a third hardship at times even more oppressive the rule of Vichy France Following a nine month prelude the reality of World War II burst onto the Riviera in June 1940 when the region had to defend itself against the Italian army and ended in April 1945 with a battle against German and Italian forces in April 1945 a period longer than any other part of France In this book George G Kundahl tells for the first time the full story of World War II on the French Riviera Featuring previously unseen sources and photographs this will be essential reading for anyone interested in wartime France

A Most Ungentlemanly Way of War Bernd Horn, 2016-01-30 An examination of the SOE its accomplishments and the Canadian connection to the organization During the Second World War British Prime Minister Winston Churchill created the Special Operations Executive SOE to conduct acts of sabotage and subversion and raise secret armies of partisans in German occupied Europe With the directive to set Europe ablaze the SOE undertook a dangerous game of cat and mouse with the Nazi Gestapo An agent s failure could result in indescribable torture dispatch to a concentration camp and often a death sentence While the SOE s contribution to the Allied war effort is still debated and many of its files remain classified it was a unique wartime creation that reflected innovation adventure and a fanatical devotion on the part of its personnel to the Allied cause The SOE has an important Canadian connection Canadians were among its operatives and agents behind enemy lines

Camp X in Whitby Ontario was a special training school that trained agents for overseas duty and an infamous Canadian codenamed Intrepid ran SOE operations in the Americas Behind Enemy Lines in France and the Far East Maxine Harcourt-Kelly, 2025-06-30 In October 1943 Frederick Bailey a wireless operator who had trained with the Royal Armoured Corps was selected for Special Operation Executive's wireless training centre at Fawley Court Henley on Thames It was the start of an incredible wartime career that saw Fred serve behind enemy lines in both the European and Far East theatres With his training complete and having adopted the fieldname R tiff Sergeant Bailey became a member of one of the famous Jedburgh units Team Citren The Jedburghs generally consisted of compact teams of three men usually an officer a radio operator and a soldier from the country the team was to be dropped into Together with Major John Smallwood and Captain Pierre Bloch a French Foreign Legionnaire Bailey as Team Citren's radio operator was dropped in into the Lagarde area of the Vaucluse region in German occupied France by an American aircrew from Algiers during the night of 11/12 August 1944 Their mission was to support the local Resistance groups in the rear of the German units trying to hold back the Allied forces sweeping through France after D Day As Maxine Harcourt Kelly reveals the fear of Bailey's transmissions being intercepted by the Germans as well as the constant danger of their location being revealed by informers meant that Team Citren was constantly on the move Despite this on one occasion the group knocked out an enemy tank with the help of an intrepid young Frenchman who ran up to it armed only with a grenade and dropped it through the driver's viewing hatch One morning Bailey learnt that a large German convoy was moving along the road from Grenoble to Lyon He sent a coded message to HQ in Algiers asking for an immediate air strike A series of Mosquito fighter bombers attacked and destroyed the whole convoy Fred also caused major disruption to German attempts to withdraw by calling in air support which destroyed a vital bridge Fred was mentioned in Despatches and awarded the Croix de Guerre with Bronze Star by the French With his war in Europe over Fred volunteered to serve with SOE's Force 136 in the Far East He was duly sent out to Burma where he was dispatched into the Keren Hills to monitor the routes being used by the retreating Japanese Fred was able to send regular reports on enemy troop movements and direct Allied air strikes On one occasion they ambushed a Japanese convoy A fierce firefight developed but they slipped back into the jungle before the Japanese could counter attack These attacks were so disruptive that the Japanese were forced to form a special force to hunt Fred's team down As they could not be resupplied Fred's team grew weaker Before long with nothing to eat but a handful of rice each day the team was beginning to starve It was left with no option but to evacuate Even then Fred's adventures were far from over In August 1945 he was dropped into Malaya tasked with finding any American aircrew who had been shot down and taken prisoner south of Kuala Lumpur This is the action packed story of one man's remarkable war serving in Allied Special Forces units behind enemy lines in both Occupied Europe and the Far East The Routledge Atlas of the Second World War Martin Gilbert, 2013-04-03 In The Routledge Atlas of the Second World War Martin Gilbert graphically charts the war's political military economic and social history through

Hargreaves,2013-10-28 British and American commanders first used modern special forces in support of conventional military operations during World War II Since then although special ops have featured prominently in popular culture and media coverage of wars the academic study of irregular warfare has remained as elusive as the practitioners of special operations themselves This book is the first comprehensive study of the development application and value of Anglo American commando and special forces units during the Second World War Special forces are intensively trained specially selected military units performing unconventional and often high risk missions In this book Andrew L Hargreaves not only describes tactics and operations but also outlines the distinctions between commandos and special forces traces their evolution during the war explains how the Anglo American alliance functioned in the creation and use of these units looks at their command and control arrangements evaluates their impact and assesses their cost effectiveness The first real impetus for the creation of British specialist formations came in the desperate summer of 1940 when having been pushed out of Europe following defeat in France and the Low Countries Britain began to turn to irregular forces in an effort to wrest back the strategic initiative from the enemy The development of special forces by the United States was also a direct consequence of defeat After Pearl Harbor Hargreaves shows the Americans found themselves in much the same position as Britain had been in 1940 shocked outnumbered and conventionally defeated they were unable to come to grips with the enemy on a large scale By the end of the war a variety of these units had overcome a multitude of evolutionary hurdles and made valuable contributions to practically every theater of operation In describing how Britain and the United States worked independently and cooperatively to invent and put into practice a fundamentally new way of waging war this book demonstrates the two nations flexibility adaptability and ability to innovate during World War II      Shadow Warriors of World War II Gordon Thomas,Greg Lewis,2017-01-01 They were told that the only crime they must never commit was to be caught Women of enormous cunning and strength of will the Shadow Warriors stories have remained largely untold until now In a dramatic tale of espionage and conspiracy in World War II Shadow Warriors of World War II The Daring Women of the OSS and SOE
