Strategies For Teaching Anthropology:

Strategies in Teaching Anthropology Patricia C. Rice, David W. McCurdy, 2010-07-01 A reference tool for any teacher of Anthropology Unique in focus and content this book focuses on the how of teaching anthropology across all of its sub fields Cultural Social Biological Archaeology and Linguistics and their two dimensions research and applied studies and to provide a wide array of associated learning outcomes and student activities It is a valuable single source compendium of strategies and teaching tricks of the trade from a group of seasoned teaching anthropologists working in a variety of teaching settings who share their pedagogical techniques knowledge and observations Focused on the applied how to do it side of the pedagogical nature of teaching the text is designed to fill the gap between students who are taking an anthropology class for the first time and instructors who know their subject matter in depth but who are not sure how to present it to their students in a way that will capture and relay their own excitement with the subject and that will engage students in anthropological subject matter and its processes

Strategies in Teaching Anthropology Patricia C. Rice, David W. McCurdy, 2000 Contains ideas for projects and teaching methodologies in the areas of cultural anthropology biological anthropology and archaeology Strategies for Teaching Anthropology in the 1990s Paul A. Erickson, Patricia C. Rice, 1990 The Teaching of Anthropology Conrad Phillip Kottak, 1997 This collection brings together articles first developed for the symposia on teaching held by the American Anthropological Association in 1990 1991 and 1992 as well as additional papers from over 40 leading teachers in the field The articles span the educational continuum from teaching the introductory course to teaching pre collegiate instructors As a professional reference text it is a book that no current or future teacher of anthropology should be without Biological Anthropology and Prehistory Patricia C. Rice, Norah Moloney, 2016-12-05 Written specifically for courses that cover biological anthropology and archaeology this superbly illustrated new text offers the most balanced and up to date introduction to our human past Devoting equal time to biological anthropology and prehistory this text exposes students to the many sides of major controversial issues involving students in the scientific thought process by allowing them to draw their own conclusions Amidst discussions of bones and artifacts the text maintains a focus on people demonstrating to students how biological anthropology and archaeology apply to their lives today Featuring the latest research and findings pulled from the original sources this new text is far and away the most up to date text available In addition the superior art program features hundreds of photographs and figures and the multimedia presentation options include documentary film clips and lecture launcher videos Pat Rice a recipient of AAA s Outstanding Teacher Award and past president of the General Anthropology Division of AAA and Norah Moloney an experienced professor and active archaeologist present the material in a clear refreshing and straightforward writing style Teaching Justice Kristi Holsinger, 2012 Teaching Justice explores the role that teaching and learning in higher education can play in solving problems of social injustice Examining a range of approaches to education it considers the challenges that exist in teaching about justice drawing on extensive empirical data gathered amongst college lecturers and professors as well as the author's own experience. With an analysis of the strategies commonly used, this book will shed light on the manner in which students can be engaged in activism and concerned with issues of social injustice. By overcoming apathy and engaging students with social problems education can thus address matters of injustice and begin to effect change. Presenting extensive international research and insightful analyses, Teaching Justice reveals the classroom and the lecture theatre to be important sites in the pursuit of social justice and will appeal to teachers and researchers with interests in social problems education and educational methods and criminal justice as well as community engagement and service learning outside the classroom.

International Encyclopedia of Education, 2009-04-17 The field of education has experienced extraordinary technological, societal and institutional change in recent years making it one of the most fascinating yet complex fields of study in social science. Unequalled in its combination of authoritative scholarship and comprehensive coverage, International Encyclopedia of Education Third Edition succeeds two highly successful previous editions, 1985 and 1994, in aiming to encapsulate research in this vibrant field for the twenty-first century reader. Under development for five years, this work encompasses over 1,000 articles across 24 individual areas of coverage and is expected to become the dominant resource in the field. Education is a multidisciplinary and international field drawing on a wide range of social sciences and humanities disciplines, and this new edition comprehensively matches this diversity. The diverse background and multidisciplinary subject coverage of the Editorial Board ensure a balanced and objective academic framework with 1,500 contributors representing over 100 countries capturing a complete portrait of this evolving field. A totally new work revamped with a wholly new editorial board structure and brand new list of meta-sections and articles. Developed by an international panel of editors and authors drawn from senior academia. Web-enhanced with supplementary multimedia audio and video files hotlinked to relevant references and sources for further study. Incorporates ca. 1,350 articles with timely coverage of such topics as technology and learning, demography and social change, globalization and adult learning to name a few. Offers two content delivery options: print and online, the latter of which provides anytime anywhere access for multiple users and superior search functionality via ScienceDirect as well as multimedia content including audio and video files. Current Index to Journals in Education
