Anderson, Graham Cairns, 2022-10-18 Participatory Practice in Space Place and Service Design is premised on a belief in the importance of participatory practices in finding creative solutions to the plethora of problems we face today It argues that engaging professions with the public in mutual exploration analysis and creative thinking is essential It not only ensures better quality products places services and a greater sense of civic agency but also facilitates fuller access to them and the life opportunities they can unleash This book offers a uniquely varied perspective of the myriad ways in which participatory practices operate across disciplines and how they impact the worlds and communities we create and inhabit This book suggests that participatory practices are multi disciplinary and relevant in fields as diverse as design architecture education health care sustainability and community activism to name a few of those discussed here How do designed objects and environments affect wellness creativity learning and a sense of belonging How do products and services affect everyday experience and attitudes towards issues such as sustainability How does giving people a creative voice in their own education services and built environments open up their potential and strengthen identity and civic agency Addressing these questions requires a rethinking of relations between people objects and environments it demands attention to space place and services Big and Green David Gissen, 2002 More than a century after its inception the skyscraper has finally come of age Though it has long been lampooned as a venal and inhospitable guzzler of resources a revolutionary new school of skyscraper design has refashioned the idiom with buildings that are sensitive to their environments benevolent to their occupants and economically viable to build and maintain Designed by some of the best known architects in the world these towers are as daring aesthetically as they are innovative environmentally Big and Green is the first book to examine the sustainable skyscraper its history the technologies that make it possible and its role in the future of urban development The book examines more than 40 of the most important recent sustainable skyscrapers including Fox Fowle s Reuters Buildings in New York Norman Foster s Commerzbank in Frankfurt and MVRDV s spectacular Dutch Pavilion from Expo 2000 in Hanover with project descriptions photographs and detailed drawings Interviews with such leaders in the field as Sir Richard Rogers William McDonough and Kenneth Yeang are also included Architectural Publications Index ,2001 The Anxious City Richard J. Williams,2004-03-01 In the Western world cities have arguably never been more anxious practical anxieties about personal safety and metaphysical anxieties about the uncertain place of the city in culture are the small change of journalism and political debate Cities have long been regarded as problems in need of drastic solutions In this context the contemporary revival of city centres is remarkable But in a culture that largely fears the urban how can the contemporary city be imagined How is it supposed to be used or inhabited What does it mean Taking England since WWII as its principal focus this provocative and original book considers the Western city at a critical moment in its history Computation Works Xavier De Kestelier,Brady Peters,2013-04-15 Architects are now taking advantage of the computer in new ways through experimentation with algorithmic and simulation driven design Computation Works The Building of Algorithmic Thought focuses on this emerging theme in design practice showcasing built and soon to be built projects and providing a state of the art in computational design Computational design is considered to be first a design tool and second a series of instruments that can be applied in the creation of architecture It allows architects to incorporate performance analysis and knowledge about material tectonics and the parameters of production machinery Moving towards a new role as hybrid practitioners architects are taking concepts from other disciplines and customising architectural and other CAD software In addition to the discussion of built projects a further series of texts examines new custom software instruments New digital tools provide new modes of representation new methods of evaluation and new techniques for design exploration The development of new computational tools can create more responsive designs allowing architects to explore new design options and to analyse architectural decisions during the design process This issue raises important questions such as How is computation changing the way architects design Are the design tools and methods related to the result What is computational design in the context of architectural practice and How is computation changing the processes of design and construction Australian National Bibliography ,1995
