Teaching to Difference? The Challenges and Opportunities of Diversity in the Classroom Nicole E. Johnson,Stacey-Ann Wilson,2014-08-11 Teaching to Difference The Challenges and Opportunities of Diversity in the Classroom offers a comparative perspective on the pedagogical and cultural issues in managing differences and diversity in the classroom Using reflections and experiential analysis the volume presents perspectives on the experiences of teaching and learning through differences of race ethnicity culture sexual orientation and gender language special needs and geography from contexts such as the United States Canada New Zealand and Israel The reflections are presented from the viewpoint of minority teaching professionals and white educators teaching diverse student populations ranging from K 12 to college students and pre service teachers This volume provides a lens into the questions reflections and experiences of teachers and practitioners when they encounter difference in the classroom The essays highlight the trepidation and frustration educators feel when they perceive themselves to be ill prepared for diversity in their classrooms However there are also essays of triumph and success when teachers feel they have reached their students in a meaningful way Additionally through the experiences depicted teachers describe their processes of connecting to students how they determined what worked and did not work in their journey and what they learned from the experience that continues to impact them

Becoming Teachers of Inner-city Students James C. Jupp,2013-11-19 Becoming Teachers of Inner city Students takes on the continuing challenges of White teachers in increasingly de facto re segregated schools of the present Drawing on the author s eighteen years of experience as a classroom teacher and his research on White teachers of inner city students Becoming Teachers provides key discussions on professional identity for preservice teachers professional educators and researchers interested in diversity education or urban education Driving at complex recognitions of race class culture language and gender as a basis for teaching and learning with diverse urban students the author s and other White teachers life and teaching stories move beyond prescriptive models of professional identity for preservice and professional teachers to follow. Instead, life and teaching stories in Becoming Teachers demonstrate again and again that in teaching the personal is political; professional knowledges are forged in practice and overall that becoming a professional teacher is a process that draws on one's experiences and innermost convictions. Becoming Teachers updating Vivian Paley's White Teacher and reworking Christine Sleeter's multicultural research on White teachers' race evasive identities moves discussions on White teacher identity toward a second wave of race visible professional identity for White teachers in the present. James Jupp's book is an instruction on how to keep the democratic educational experiment on the workbench. Roger Slee, Professor and Director of the Victoria Institute for Education Diversity and Life Long Learning at Victoria University Melbourne. James Jupp thoughtfully explicates the complexity of the social justice literature in education related to race, class, culture, language, gender, and other differences in classrooms. Jupp is one of the leading scholars in education who challenges static notions of difference and opens up new curriculum spaces for a second wave of critical race work. Challenging the field to consider more nuanced possibilities that will advance social justice in the present, Jupp provides generous readings for new intercultural alliances. Jupp's Becoming Teachers of Inner-city Students offers a fresh understanding for those who are looking for new ways to understand teachers' lives and professional identities. Patrick Slattery, Professor of Curriculum, Texas A M University. Jupp does the hard work here of understanding where we have been in conceptualizing the racial identities of White teachers. And then he does something harder. With abundant intelligence, courage, and generosity, Jupp opens up new pathways for our thinking and feeling and action. Read this book. Timothy Lensmire, Associate Professor of Curriculum Instruction, University of Minnesota. Resources in Education, 1997. Fifty Years of Anthropology and Education 1950-2000. George and Loui Spindler, 2000-06. Brings together seminal articles by the Spindlers, widely regarded as the founders of educational anthropology, and binds them together with a master commentary by George Spindler. Presents a unified view of the Spindlers' work, development of the field. Powerful Teacher Education. Linda Darling-Hammond, 2012-06-28. Powerful Teacher Education describes the strategies, goals, content, and processes of seven highly successful and long-standing teacher education programs: Alverno College, Bank Street College, Trinity University, University of California Berkeley, University of Southern Maine, University of Virginia, and Wheelock College. All these colleges and universities have succeeded in preparing teachers to teach diverse learners to achieve high levels of performance and understanding. In discussing the common features of these programs, Linda Darling-Hammond shows what outstanding teacher education models do and how they do it, and what their graduates accomplish as a result. Powerful Teacher Education also examines the policies, organizational features, resources, and relationships that have enabled these programs to succeed.
