De Vaus, 2002 As well as explaining how to conduct effective social research surveys the author of Surveys in Social Research provides a range of tools to enable the reader to become a critical consumer of research findings      Statistics without Mathematics David J. Bartholomew, 2015-10-19 This is a book about the ideas that drive statistics It is an ideal primer for students who need an introduction to the concepts of statistics without the added confusion of technical jargon and mathematical language It introduces the intuitive thinking behind standard procedures explores the process of informal reasoning and uses conceptual frameworks to provide a foundation for students new to statistics It showcases the expertise we have all developed from living in a data saturated society increases our statistical literacy and gives us the tools needed to approach statistical mathematics with confidence Key topics include Variability Standard Distributions Correlation Relationship Sampling Inference An engaging informal introduction this book sets out the conceptual tools required by anyone undertaking statistical procedures for the first time or for anyone needing a fresh perspective whilst studying the work of others      New Books National Defense University. Library,      Humanistica Lovaniensia Gilbert Tournoy, 1992-02-15 Volume 41      An Exploratory Analysis of Financial Difficulties Among Those Living Below the Poverty Line in Ireland Stuart Stamp, 2009

Clay's Handbook of Environmental Health Stephen Battersby, 2013-03 Clay's Handbook of Environmental Health since its first publication in 1933 has provided a definitive guide for the environmental health practitioner or reference for the consultant or student This twentieth edition continues as a first point of reference reviewing the core principles techniques and competencies and then outlining the specialist subjects It has been refocused on the current curriculum of the UK's Chartered Institute of Environmental Health but should also readily suit the generalist or specialist working outside the UK      Stories Without Tears Barry Pain, 1914      Counting Paul Benjamin L. White, 2025-04-15 Who wrote the Pauline Epistles For nearly 1 700 years the answer seemed fairly straightforward The New Testament canon set the boundary at thirteen or fourteen including Hebrews Pauline Epistles alongside an uncontroversial biographical framework within which to imagine them in Acts In the early nineteenth century the identification of the historical Paul with the canonical Paul was severed when theologian Ferdinand Christian Baur of the University of Tübingen laid the groundwork for the fundamental historiographical moves that still orient Pauline Studies as a critical discipline by both delimiting the number of authentic Pauline Epistles and highlighting the tendentious character of Acts portrayal of Paul Given the highly uncertain and subjective nature of so much of the argumentation over the authenticity of the Pauline Epistles as it developed in the nineteenth century the analysis of authorial style took on increasing weight as a way out of so many special decisions The linguistic features of texts were counted averaged and compared In measuring one text against another the Pauline stylome emerged as the incontrovertible standard for uncovering canonical forgeries in the Apostle's name Tracing the long history of the computational approach to the Pauline authorship problem Counting Paul exposes the ideological foundations and questionable science of much of the work and argues that Pauline biography ought not be written from fewer sources than what the New Testament has given us but rather more It advocates for a more expansive vision of what might count as Pauline by reorienting our focus away from internal criteria like appeals to style and toward external criteria like the reception of Paul in the generations after his death Political Research Sandra Halperin, Oliver Heath, 2020 The most accessible and practical guide to research methods written especially for politics and international relations students

Readings for Social Research Theodore C. weaknesses as investors The book offers an apposite and uncomplicated system of skills development in the form of competences and competencies that can be applied anywhere along the continuum from casual investor to full time day trader Elvin presents a Comprehensive Model of Trading Competence the MOT as well as the concepts of analysis and refutation the paramouncy principle and self sabotaging behaviours such as the Santa Claus syndrome and Bohica effect Areas covered include Emotions are they functional or disabling How do the mechanisms of fear greed and panic work Motivation and perception how do belief paradigms affect perception and performance What perceptual errors influence decisions to the trader s detriment Information processing and risk assessment how does information overload affect Stress How does stress affect investment decisions Technological and mathematical anxiety why do we avoid learning the skills we most need What levels of ability are required Can psychological and biological theories assist in our understanding of investors performance Diploma in Psychology of Trading and Behavioural Finance - City of London College of Economics - 1 month - 100% online / self-paced City of London College of Economics, Overview Maybe you re already a successful trader or will be one without this course But be assured as long as you don t master your feelings you won t be such a good trader as you could be Content The comprehensive MOT Example of technical analysis Trading and decision diary Candle chart Equity chart The Yerkes Dodson law of arousal The brain and limbic system General centring triangle Trading centring triangle Duration 1 month Assessment The assessment will take place on the basis of one assignment at the end of the course Tell us when you feel ready to take the exam and we ll send you the assignment questions Study material The study material will be provided in separate files by email download link Faces Inside and Outside the Clinic Tony McHugh,2016-04-15 Drawing on studies of surface topography image editing and diagnostic and surgical experience Faces Inside and Outside the Clinic addresses the notion of truth in what are considered to be right and wrong faces whether in clinical cosmetic procedures or in specific sociocultural contexts outside the clinic With attention to the manner in which the human face and often the individual herself or himself as a consequence is physically defined conceptually judged numerically measured and clinically analysed this book reveals that on closer inspection supposedly objective and evidential truths are in fact subjective and prescriptive Adopting a Foucauldian analysis of the ways in which normalising technologies and techniques ultimately preserve and expand upon an increasing array of abnormal facial configurations Faces Inside and Outside the Clinic shows that when determining right and wrong faces what happens inside the clinic is inextricably linked to what happens outside the clinic and vice versa As such it will be of interest to scholars and students of social cultural and political theory contemporary philosophy and the social scientific study of science health and technology Composition and the Rhetoric of Science Michael J Zerbe,2007-03-21 Composition and the Rhetoric of Science Engaging the Dominant Discourse calls for instructors of first year writing courses to employ primary scientific discourse in their teaching and for rhetoricians of science to think about teaching scientific discourse as a literacy skill Author Michael J Zerbe argues that inclusion of scientific discourse is crucial because of this rhetoric's status as the dominant discourse in western culture. The volume draws on Lyotard, Foucault and Althusser to argue that while important theorists such as these have recognized the dominance of scientific discourse, rhetoric and composition has not to its detriment. The text illustrates that scientific discourse remains a miniscule part of the enterprise of rhetoric and composition and thus the field is not fulfilling its mission of providing students with the writing and reading skills they need to live and work in a science and technology dependent society. Zerbe provides an analysis of science popularizations and demonstrates how these works can be used to contextualize primary scientific research. He also presents three pedagogical scenarios each built around a carefully chosen accessible example of scientific discourse that demonstrate how articles from scientific journals can be used in writing courses. Only by gaining a meaningful fluency in this discourse, one that is not offered by science textbooks, can a more sophisticated scientific literacy be assured. Composition and the Rhetoric of Science effectively explores the relatively limited amount of work done in rhetoric and composition on scientific discourse and questions this state of affairs. Zerbe presents for the first time cultural studies and science literacy as gateways for incorporating scientific discourse into first year writing courses. The Journey to Dissertation Success Elizabeth Laycock, Tim Howarth, Paul Watson, 2016-06-10. Are you about to embark on a research project for the first time? Unsure which data collection methods are right for your study? Don't know where to start? By presenting the reader with a series of key research management questions, this book introduces the novice researcher to a range of research designs and data collection methods. Building an understanding of these choices and how they can impact on the dissertation itself will lead to a more robust and rigorous dissertation study. This book is designed to direct your research choices with informative text and key questions, advice from virtual supervisors and reflections from students. Lists of suggested further reading also help to support you on your journey to developing an organised and successful dissertation project. Researchers seeking support on their journey to a successful dissertation will find this book a valuable resource.

Navigating the Doctoral Journey Amanda J. Rockinson-Szapkiw, Lucinda S. Spaulding, 2014-06-11. This co-edited book provides doctoral candidates with a practical cross-discipline handbook for successfully navigating the doctoral process from initial program selection to the final dissertation defense and preparing for the faculty interview. Invited chapters from established higher education experts cover topics ranging from university and program selection, preparing for comprehensive exams and dissertation research, self-care and self-management strategies, and recommendations for maintaining personal and professional support systems. Each chapter includes strategies for success and practical tips including how to create a study guide for the comprehensive examination, how to create a professional support group, how to talk to your family about the doctoral process, how to select and work with a chair and committee, how to identify an appropriate research design, how to navigate the IRB process, and how to master the research and writing process.
