Tanagran Studies II Duane W. Roller, 2023-08-21 An Inventory of Archaic and Classical Poleis Mogens Herman Hansen, Thomas Heine Nielsen, Københavns universitet. Polis centret, 2004-11-11 This is the first ever documented study of the 1 035 identifiable Greek city states poleis of the Archaic and Classical periods c 650 325 BC Previous studies of the Greek polis have focused on Athens and Sparta and the result has been a view of Greek society dominated by Sophokles Plato s and Demosthenes view of what the polis was This study includes descriptions of Athens and Sparta but its main purpose is to explore the history and organization of the thousand other city states The main part of the book is a regionally organized inventory of all identifiable poleis covering the Greek world from Spain to the Caucasus and from the Crimea to Libya This inventory is the work of 47 specialists and is divided into 46 chapters each covering a region Each chapter contains an account of the region a list of second order settlements and an alphabetically ordered description of the poleis This description covers such topics as polis status territory settlement pattern urban centre city walls and monumental architecture population military strength constitution alliance membership colonization coinage and Panhellenic victors The first part of the book is a description of the method and principles applied in the construction of the inventory and an analysis of some of the results to be obtained by a comparative study of the 1 035 poleis included in it The ancient Greek concept of polis is distinguished from the modern term city state which historians use to cover many other historic civilizations from ancient Sumeria to the West African cultures absorbed by the nineteenth century colonializing powers The focus of this project is what the Greeks themselves considered a polis to be

Epigraphic Culture in the Eastern Mediterranean in Antiquity Krzysztof

Nawotka, 2020-09-21 This book investigates the epigraphic habit of the Eastern Mediterranean in antiquity from the inception of alphabetic writing to the seventh c CE aiming to identify whether there was one universal epigraphic culture in this area or a number of discrete epigraphic cultures Chapters examine epigraphic culture s through quantitative analysis of 32 062 inscriptions sampled from ten areas in the Eastern Mediterranean from the Black Sea coast to Greece western to central Asia Minor Phoenicia to Egypt They show that the shapes of the epigraphic curves are due to different factors occurring in different geographical areas and in various epochs including the pre Greek epigraphic habit the moment of urbanization and Hellenization and the organized Roman presence Two epigraphic maxima are identified in the Eastern Mediterranean in the third c BCE and in the second c CE This book differs from previous studies of ancient epigraphic culture by taking into account all categories of inscriptions not just epitaphs and in investigating a much broader area over the broadly defined classical antiquity This volume is a valuable resource for anyone working on ancient epigraphy history or the cultures of the Eastern Mediterranean
