Age of Empire and Nation State Marina B. Mogilner,2023-06-01 This volume covers the cultural history of race in the long 19th century the age of empire and nation state a transformative period during which a modern world had been forged and complex and hierarchical imperial formations were challenged by the emerging national norm The concept of race emerged as a dominant epistemology in the context of the conflicting entanglement of empire and nation as two alternative but quite compatible forms of social imaginary It penetrated all spheres of life under the novel conditions of the emerging mass culture and mass society and with the sanction of anthropocentric and positivistic science Allegedly primeval and parasocial race was seen as a uniquely stable constant in a society in flux amid transforming institutions economies and political regimes But contrary to this perception there was nothing stable or natural about race The spread of racializing social and political imagination only reinforced the need for constant renegotiation and readjustment of racial boundaries Therefore avoiding any structuralist simplifications this volume looks at specific imperial nationalizing and hybrid contexts framing the semantics and politics of race in the course of the long 19th century In different parts of the globalizing world various actors were applying their own notions of race to others and to themselves embracing it simultaneously as a language of othering and personal subjectivity Consequently the cultural history of race as told in this volume unfolds on many levels in multiple loci and in different genres thus reflecting the qualities of race as an omnipresent and all embracing discourse of the time

The Columbia Guide to Contemporary African American Fiction Darryl Dickson-Carr,2005-12-06 In both the literal and metaphorical senses it seemed as if 1970s America was running out of gas The decade not only witnessed long lines at gas stations but a citizenry that had grown weary and disillusioned High unemployment runaway inflation and the energy crisis caused in part by U S dependence on Arab oil characterized an increasingly bleak economic situation As Edward D Berkowitz demonstrates the end of the postwar economic boom Watergate and defeat in Vietnam led to an unraveling of the national consensus During the decade ideas about the United States how it should be governed and how its economy should be managed changed dramatically Berkowitz argues that the postwar faith in sweeping social programs and a global U S mission was replaced by a more skeptical attitude about government s ability to positively affect society From Woody Allen to Watergate from the decline of the steel industry to the rise of Bill Gates and from Saturday Night Fever to the Sunday morning fervor of evangelical preachers Berkowitz captures the history tone and spirit of the seventies He explores the decade s major political events and movements including the rise and fall of d tente congressional reform changes in healthcare policies and the hostage crisis in Iran The seventies also gave birth to several social movements and the rights revolution in which women gays and lesbians and people with disabilities all successfully fought for greater legal and social recognition At the same time reaction to these social movements as well as the issue of abortion introduced a new facet into American political life the rise of powerful politically conservative religious organizations and activists Berkowitz also considers important shifts in American popular culture recounting the creative renaissance in American film as well as the birth of the Hollywood blockbuster He discusses how television programs such as All in the Family and Charlie s Angels offered Americans both a reflection of and an escape from the problems gripping the country

The Invention of Race in the European Middle Ages Geraldine Heng, 2018-03-08 In The Invention of Race in the European Middle Ages Geraldine Heng questions the common assumption that the concepts of race and racism only began in the modern era Examining Europe s encounters with Jews Muslims Africans Native Americans Mongols and the Romani Gypsies from the 12th through 15th centuries she shows how racial thinking racial law racial practices and racial phenomena existed in medieval Europe before a recognizable vocabulary of race emerged in the West Analysing sources in a variety of media including stories maps statuary illustrations architectural features history saints lives religious commentary laws political and social institutions and literature she argues that religion so much in play again today enabled the positing of fundamental differences among humans that created strategic essentialisms to mark off human groups and populations for racialized treatment Her ground breaking study also shows how race figured in the emergence of homo europaeus and the identity of Western Europe in this time

History Made Conscious Geoff Eley, 2023-08-22 How History has changed in the half century since the 1960s During the last fifty years the writing of history underwent two massive transformations First powered by Marxism and other materialist sociologies the great social history wave instated the value of social explanation Then responding to new theoretical debates the cultural turn upset many of those freshly earned certainties Each challenge was profoundly informed by politics from issues of class gender and race to those of identity empire and the postcolonial The resulting controversies brought historians radically changed possibilities expanding subject matters unfamiliar approaches greater openness to theory and other disciplines a new place in the public culture History Made Conscious offers snapshots of a discipline continuously rethinking its charge How might we understand the social and the cultural together How do we collaborate most fruitfully across disciplines If we take theory seriously how does that change what historians do How should we think differently about politics Islam and Blackness Jonathan A.C. Brown,2022-11-03 It is commonly claimed that Islam is antiblack even inherently bent on enslaving Black Africans Western and African critics alike have contended that antiblack racism is in the faith's very scriptural foundations and its traditions of law spirituality and theology But what is the basis for this accusation Bestselling scholar Jonathan A C Brown examines Islamic scripture law Sufism and history to comprehensively interrogate this claim and determine how and why it emerged Locating its origins in conservative politics modern Afrocentrism and the old trope of Barbary enslavement he explains how antiblackness arose in the Islamic world and became entangled with normative tradition From the imagery of blackened faces in the Quran to Shariah assessments of Black women as undesirable and the assertion that Islam and Muslims are foreign to Africa this work provides an in depth study of the controversial knot that is Islam and Blackness and identifies authoritative voices in Islam's past that are crucial for combatting antiblack racism today The Columbia History of Jews and Judaism in America Marc Lee Raphael,2008 This collection focuses on a variety of important themes in the American Jewish and Judaic experience It opens with essays on early Jewish settlers 1654 1820 the expansion of Jewish life in America 1820 1901 the great wave of eastern European Jewish immigrants 1880 1924 the character of American Judaism between the two world wars American Jewish life from the end of World War II to the Six Day War and the growth of Jews influence and affluence The second half of the volume includes essays on Orthodox Jews the history of Jewish education in America the rise of Jewish social clubs at the turn of the century the history of southern and western Jewry Jewish responses to Nazism and the Holocaust feminism's confrontation with Judaism and the eternal question of what defines American Jewish culture Original and elegantly crafted The Columbia History of Jews and Judaism in America not only introduces the student to a thrilling history but also provides the scholar with new perspectives and insights Race-ing Art History Kymberly N. Pinder,2013-04-15 Race-ing Art History is the first comprehensive anthology to place issues of racial representation squarely on the canvas Art produced by non Europeans has naturally been compared to Western art and its study which refers to a binary way of viewing both Each essay in this collection is a response to this vision to the distant mirror of looking at the other The Columbia Documentary History of American Women Since 1941 Harriet Sigerman,2003 From the Hoover vacuum cleaner to the fax machine from the pill to reproductive rights from Rosie the Riveter to Martha Stewart and Hillary Rodham Clinton American women have grappled with a sometimes dizzying rate of social and economic change and continually shifting conceptions of gender This collection of documents seeks to chronicle the exciting and tumultuous recent history of American women beginning with the watershed event of World War II and the lasting impact of the war effort on women's social and economic opportunities Subsequent documents speak to the ideas and changes brought about by the women's movement the challenges to and defense of reproductive rights the backlash against feminism in the name of family values and new visions for women's lives in the twenty first century Stylistic Innovation, Conscious Experience, and the Self in Modernist Women's Poetry

Kristina Marie Darling, 2021-10-07 Stylistic Innovation Conscious Experience and the Self in Modernist Women's Poetry examines representations of philosophical discourses in Modernist women's writing. Philosophers argued in the early twentieth century for an understanding of the self as both corporeal and relational, shaped and reshaped by interactions within a community. The once clear distinction between self and other was increasingly called into question. This breakdown of boundaries between self and world often manifested in the style of early twentieth century literary works. Modernist poetry like stream of consciousness fiction used metaphor, sound, and a revision of received grammatical structures to blur the boundaries between the individual and collective. This book explores the ways that feminist writers like Mina Loy, H. D. Gertrude Stein, and Marianne Moore used style and technique to respond to these philosophical debates, reclaiming agency over a predominantly male philosophical discourse. While many critics have addressed the thematic content of these writers' work, few scholars have taken up this question while focusing on the style of the writing. This book shows how these feminist poets used seemingly small stylistic choices in poetry to make necessary contributions to contemporary philosophical discourses, ultimately rendering these philosophical conversations more inclusive.

The Columbia History of Chinese Literature Victor H. Mair, 2010-03-10 The Columbia History of Chinese Literature is a comprehensive yet portable guide to China's vast literary traditions. Stretching from earliest times to the present, the text features original contributions by leading specialists working in all genres and periods. Chapters cover poetry, prose, fiction, and drama and consider such contextual subjects as popular culture, the impact of religion, the role of women, and China's relationship with non-Sinitic languages and peoples. Opening with a major section on the linguistic and intellectual foundations of Chinese literature, the anthology traces the development of forms and movements over time, along with critical trends, and pays particular attention to the premodern canon.

Muddied Waters Nancy P. Appelbaum, 2003-04-07 Claims that Colombia's present-day regional and local hierarchies were shaped by 19th and 20th century processes of colonization and that regionalism and race are tied into Colombia's history of violence.

The Right to Exclude Justin Desautels-Stein, 2023 This book will provide an accessible introduction to the important role of race and racism in international law, explain the racialization of today's border controls, and question the conventional history that celebrates the success of antidiscrimination in the international human rights regime.

Gunnar Myrdal and America's Conscience Walter A. Jackson, 2014-07-02 Gunnar Myrdal's An American Dilemma (1944) influenced the attitudes of a generation of Americans on the race issue and established Myrdal as a major critic of American politics and culture. Walter Jackson explores how the Swedish Social Democratic scholar, policymaker, and activist came to shape a consensus on one of America's most explosive public issues.

The Columbia History of the American Novel Emory Elliott, 1991 Designed as a companion to The Columbia Literary History of the United States, this compilation of 31 major essays covers the American novel from the 1700s to the present, although the majority deal with the 20th century. Within each era, themes, genres, and topics such as realism, gender, romance, and technology are discussed in depth as well as modern Canadian Caribbean and Latin American fiction Each essayist selects only the authors who best illustrate the topic thus subtly skewing the view of the literary scene at that time The volume also covers women minorities popular fiction and the book marketplace ISBN 0 231 07360 7 59 95 Race, Nation, and Capital in the Modern World Philip Y. Nicholson, 2023-03-17 Race Nation and Capital in the Modern World is a comprehensive yet concise book that traces the history of racism nationalism and capitalism from their combined origins at the end of the fifteenth century to the present This book describes the development of legal codes and institutional practices that brought vast wealth and power to their chief beneficiaries along with great suffering exploitation and destruction to its victims Instead of understanding racism as an aberration or dark flaw in the troubled past of a world power like the United States this synthesis places race and racism in the forefront of the unfolding history of nationalism and capitalism The work de emphasizes the uniqueness of each nation s particular experience by showing the interdependence of capitalist and racist practices The narrative follows the leading hegemonic national powers as they expanded from mercantile conquests through plantation enslavement massive displacement of populations colonialism global warfare and finally the tenacious contemporary aftermath There are no comparable surveys for undergraduates or general readers seeking a unified historical understanding of these primary drivers of modernity It is a provocative introductory guide and not a work of political theory This volume will appeal to students scholars and those interested in studies on racism race capital the history of inequality and human and civil rights
