The Iowa Class Battleships:

US Fast Battleships 1938-91 Lawrence Burr, 2011-12-20 In 1938 the United States abandoned the constraints imposed by the Washington Treaty and began work on a new class of super battleships This book covers the design construction and employment of the four Iowa class battleships the largest in the American fleet During World War II they served as guards for the aircraft carriers and their bombardments provided cover for the numerous landings in the Pacific At the war's end the Japanese signed their surrender on the decks of an Iowa class battleship the USS Missouri After World War II the ships continued to serve providing support during Korea Vietnam and even the first Gulf War This book tells the full story of the greatest of the American battleships The Iowa Class Battleships Malcolm Muir, 1991 See review for entry UG446

The Battleship USS Iowa Stefan Draminski, 2020-01-23 USS Iowa BB 61 was the lead ship in one of the most famous classes of battleships ever commissioned into the US Navy Transferred to the Pacific Fleet in 1944 the Iowa first fired her guns in anger in the Marshall Islands campaign and sunk her first enemy ship the Katori The Iowa went on to serve across a number of pivotal Pacific War campaigns including at the battles of the Philippine Sea and Leyte Gulf The ship ended the war spending several months bombarding the Japanese Home Islands before the surrender in August 1945 After taking part in the Korea War the Iowa was decommissioned in 1958 before being briefly reactivated in the 1980s as part of President Reagan's 600 Ship Navy Plan After being decommissioned a second and final time in 1990 the Iowa is now a museum ship in Los Angeles This new addition to the Anatomy of the Ship series is illustrated with contemporary photographs scaled plans of the ship and hundreds of superb 3D illustrations which bring every detail of this historic battleship to life The

Battleships of the Iowa Class Philippe Caresse, 2019 The four battleships of the Iowa class the crowning achievement of US battleship construction had exceptionally long careers and each in their way left a distinctive mark not only on the US Navy but on naval history at large Built as the ultimate American battleship and designed to engage the major units of the Japanese and German fleets the vessels were commissioned in the closing stages of World War II the beginning of half a century of service during which individual units saw action in the Korean War the Vietnam War the Lebanese Civil War and finally the Persian Gulf War As such these ships are symbolic of the primacy of US seapower during the Cold War and the preservation of all four members of this mighty class as museums is testament not only to their enduring fascination for successive generations of Americans but also to the immense technical financial military and political resources wielded by the United States during the second half of the twentieth century The Iowa-Class Battleships on Deck David
