Ahab's Rolling Sea Richard J. King, 2019-11-11 Although Herman Melville's Moby Dick is beloved as one of the most profound and enduring works of American fiction we rarely consider it a work of nature writing or even a novel of the sea Yet Pulitzer Prize winning author Annie Dillard avers Moby Dick is the best book ever written about nature and nearly the entirety of the story is set on the waves with scarcely a whiff of land In fact Ishmael's sea yarn is in conversation with the nature writing of Emerson and Thoreau and Melville himself did much more than live for a year in a cabin beside a pond He set sail to the far remote Pacific Ocean spending more than three years at sea before writing his masterpiece in 1851 A revelation for Moby Dick devotees and neophytes alike Ahab's Rolling Sea is a chronological journey through the natural history of Melville's novel From white whales to whale intelligence giant squids barnacles albatross and sharks Richard J King examines what Melville knew from his own experiences and the sources available to a reader in the mid 1800s exploring how and why Melville might have twisted what was known to serve his fiction King then climbs to the crow s nest setting Melville in the context of the American perception of the ocean in 1851 at the very start of the Industrial Revolution and just before the publication of On the Origin of Species King compares Ahab s and Ishmael s worldviews to how we see the ocean today an expanse still immortal and sublime but also in crisis And although the concept of stewardship of the sea would have been entirely foreign if not absurd to Melville King argues that Melville s narrator Ishmael reveals his own tendencies toward what we would now call environmentalism Featuring a coffer of illustrations and an array of interviews with contemporary scientists fishers and whale watch operators Ahab s Rolling Sea offers new insight not only into a cherished masterwork and its author but also into our evolving relationship with the briny deep from whale hunters to climate refugees
