

The book cover features a vibrant illustration. On the left, a red steam locomotive with a white smokestack travels along a curved railway track through a green landscape with trees. On the right, a tall, slender red rocket stands vertically on a launch pad. A black lattice service tower is positioned next to the rocket. Several small figures of people are visible around the base of the rocket. The background shows rolling green hills under a sky with soft, white clouds. A vertical ruler on the far left edge of the cover is marked from 1 to 18 inches.
