The Loneliness At The Core Studies In Thomas Wolfe:

The Loneliness at the Core Clarence Hugh Holman, 1975 Thomas Wolfe Joanne Marshall Mauldin, 2007 In 1937 after years of living alone in New York City a manic depressive Thomas Wolfe returned to his family and his native Asheville North Carolina a city he had both ridiculed and brought notoriety to through his novel Look Homeward Angel eight years earlier Concerned about lingering resentment from the community over the literary work and his tenuous relationship with his family members Wolfe returned to his hometown with caution but also with the need to both rejuvenate and compile material for his next novel It is this visit that sparks Wolfe's trademark conclusion You can't go home again During 1937 and 1938 Thomas Wolfe experienced extreme highs and lows as he labored furiously to produce his next work Joanne Marshall Mauldin provides an in depth look at those final two years in the life of the brilliant yet troubled writer in Thomas Wolfe When Do the Atrocities Begin By adding new information and insight Mauldin challenges much of the existing biographical material on the writer and offers a fresh view on the final years of his life Through the utilization of primary and secondary sources including letters interviews recordings and newspaper clippings Mauldin offers a candid account of the life of Thomas Wolfe from the time of his visit to North Carolina in 1937 until his untimely death in 1938 Mauldin chronicles details of Wolfe's shocking change in publishers and his complex relationships with his editors family friends and his mistress This examination goes beyond Wolfe's life and extends into the period after his death revealing details about the reaction of family and friends to the passing of this literary legend as well as the cavalier publishing practices of his posthumous editors Mauldin's narrative is unique from other biographical accounts of Thomas Wolfe in that it focuses solely on the final years in the life of the author Her unbiased approach enables the reader to draw his or her own conclusions about Wolfe and his actions and state of mind during these last two years of his life A Companion to Twentieth-Century United States Fiction David Seed, 2010-01-21 Through a wide ranging series of essays and relevant readings A Companion to Twentieth Century United States Fiction presents an overview of American fiction published since the conclusion of the First World War Features a wide ranging series of essays by American British and European specialists in a variety of literary fields Written in an approachable and accessible style Covers both classic literary figures and contemporary novelists Provides extensive suggestions for further reading at the end of each essay Loneliness in Philosophy, Psychology, and Literature Ben Lazare Mijuskovic, 2012 Drawing on the fields of psychology literature and philosophy Loneliness in Philosophy Psychology and Literature argues that loneliness has been the universal concern of mankind since the Greek myths and dramas the dialogues of Plato and the treatises of Aristotle Author Ben Lazare Mijuskovic whose insights are culled from both his theoretical studies and his practical experiences contends that loneliness has constituted a universal theme of Western thought from the Hellenic age into the contemporary period In Loneliness in Philosophy Psychology and Literature he shows how man has always felt alone and that the meaning of man is loneliness Presenting both a discussion and a philosophical inquiry into the nature of loneliness Mijuskovic cites examples from more than one hundred writers on loneliness including Erich Fromm Frieda Fromm Reichmann Clark Moustakas Rollo May and James Howard in psychology Thomas Hardy Joseph Conrad James Joyce Thomas Wolfe and William Golding in literature and Descartes Kant Kierkegaard Nietzsche and Sartre in philosophy

Insightful and comprehensive Loneliness in Philosophy Psychology and Literature demonstrates that loneliness is the basic nature of humans and is an unavoidable condition that all must face European Review 21 2 May 2013 309 311 Ben Mijuskovic Loneliness in Philosophy Psychology and Literature Bloomington IN iUniverse 2012 Ben Lazare Mijuskovic offers in his book a very different approach to loneliness According to him far from being an occasional or temporary phenomenon loneliness or better the fear of loneliness is the strongest motivational drive in human beings He argues that following the replenishment of air water nourishment and sleep the most insistent and immediate necessity is man's desire to escape his loneliness to avoid the feeling of existential human isolation p xxx The Leibnizian image of the monad as a self enclosed windowless being gives an acute portrait of this oppressive prison To support this thesis Mijuskovic uses an interdisciplinary approach philosophy psychology and literature through which the picture of man as continually fighting to escape the quasi solipsistic prison of his frightening solitude reverberates Besides insisting on the primacy of our human concern to struggle with the spectre of loneliness Mijuskovic has sought to account for the reasons why this is the case The core of his argumentation relies on a theory of consciousness In Western thought three dominant models can be distinguished a the self consciousness or reflexive model b the empirical or behavioral model and c the intentional or phenomenological model According to the last two models it is difficult if not inconceivable to understand how loneliness is even possible Only the theory that attributes a reflexive nature to the powers of the mind can adequately explain loneliness The very constitution of our consciousness determines our confinement When a human being successfully reflects on his self reflexively captures his own intrinsically unique situation he grasps self consciously the nothingness of his existence as a transcendental condition universal necessary a priori structuring his entire being in the world This originary level of recognition is the ground source for his sensory cognitive awareness of loneliness p 13 Silvana Mandolesi

The New Encyclopedia of Southern Culture M. Thomas Inge, Charles Reagan Wilson, 2014-02-01 Offering a comprehensive view of the South's literary landscape past and present this volume of The New Encyclopedia of Southern Culture celebrates the region's ever flourishing literary culture and recognizes the ongoing evolution of the southern literary canon As new writers draw upon and reshape previous traditions southern literature has broadened and deepened its connections not just to the American literary mainstream but also to world literatures a development thoughtfully explored in the essays here Greatly expanding the content of the literature section in the original Encyclopedia this volume includes 31 thematic essays addressing major genres of literature theoretical categories such as regionalism the southern gothic and agrarianism and themes in southern writing such as food religion and sexuality Most striking is the fivefold increase in the number of biographical entries which introduce southern novelists playwrights poets and critics Special attention is given to contemporary writers and other individuals who have not been widely covered in previous scholarship Theories of Consciousness and the Problem of Evil in the History of Ideas Ben Lazare Mijuskovic, 2023-04-08 In this book Ben Lazare Mijuskovic uses both an interdisciplinary and History of Ideas approach to discuss four forms of intertwined theories of human consciousness and reflexive self consciousness Plato Augustine Descartes Leibniz Kant and Hegel Schopenhauer s subconscious irrational Will Brentano and Husserl s transcendent intentionality and Freud s dynamic ego Mijuskovic explores these theories within the context of psychological issues where the discussion is undergirded by the conflict between loneliness and intimacy He also explores them in the context of ethics where the dynamic is between the values of good and evil The book historically traces these issues in both a personal as well as a political framework Portable Prose Jarrad Cogle, N. Cyril Fischer, Lydia Saleh Rofail, Vanessa Smith, 2018-11-09 Portable Prose The Novel and the Everyday examines the novel as a privileged site for representing the everyday as well as a physical object that occupies public and private space This collection interrogates the relationships between these differing aspects of the novel s existence negotiating the boundaries between the material world subjective experience and strategies of representation This collection offers a wide array of innovative novelistic explorations with a focus ranging from nineteenth century fiction to contemporary literary theory and explores the portability of novels as both physical things and virtual hermeneutic devices While mimetic qualities of prose remain an integral consideration for literary interpretation this collection argues for more diverse frameworks ones that see aesthetic components of the novel in close connection with reading practices shared structures of feeling and the corporeal In this capacity this volume will argue for readings of texts that consider the capacity for literary culture to move through the world but also to make it or re make it new The Encyclopedia of Twentieth-Century Fiction, 3 Volume Set Brian W. environmental cultural situational and even chemical imbalances in the brain and hence avoidable In this book the author argues that loneliness is actively constituted by acts of reflexive self consciousness Kant and transcendent intentionality Husserl and is therefore unavoidable This work employs a historical conceptual and interdisciplinary approach philosophy psychology literature sociology etc criticizing both psychoanalysis and neuroscience The book pits materialism mechanism determinism empiricism phenomenism behaviorism and the neurosciences against dualism both subjective and objective idealism rationalism freedom phenomenology and existentialism It offers a dynamic of loneliness whose spontaneous subconscious sources undercuts the unconscious of Freud and the computerism of the neurosciences by challenging their claims to be predictive sciences Mijuscovic demonstrates a psychological framework in which the self is motivated by a fear of loneliness and the desire for intimacy The author thoroughly substantiates his perspective via a History of Ideas format which engages Plato s metaphor of the Battle between the Gods and the Giants an allusion to the historical debate between idealists and materialists Ultimately these two groups and their allies attempt to address the question can senseless matter think The idealists with whom Mijuscovic identifies assert the reality of the self reflexive self consciousness and the spontaneity of the mind Joshua Marcus Cragle University of Amsterdam Journal of Thought Fall Winter 2019 Ben Mijuskovic continues his ambitious life project in this fifth installment of an interdisciplinary series in consciousness and loneliness within philosophical psychological and literary discourse Mijuskovic possesses the unique combination of academic clinical and professional experience to cross the aisle between philosophers and therapists Such a CV emboldens his argument for a return to a metaphysical argument for human consciousness culminating in intrinsic and inevitable loneliness Embracing this universal reality is the first step to philosophical grounding and psychological wholeness His methodology argumentation and conclusions tend to be highly provocative in the age of contemporary neuroscientific and pharmaceutical predominance Michael D Bobo Norco College Philosophy in Review 40 1 February 2020 Encyclopedia of the American Novel Abby H.
